S. F. Rabbi Beaten, Robbed by Mysterious "Sailor" in Hotel; Skull Is Crushed by Assailant

A. J. LAFEE NEAR DEATH AFTER FIGHT

Youngest Hebrew Preacher On the Coast Discovered Grouping About Bloodstained Room After Attack

Registered Under Assumed Name; Companion Gone Two Hours When Victim Found; Valuables Taken

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Beaten and robbed, supposedly by a man in sailor's uniform with whom for some unexplained reason he lodged last night in a local hotel, Rabbi Alfred J. Lafee of the Bush Street Temple, the youngest Jewish clergyman on the Pacific coast, is lying in a critical condition at Mt. Zion hospital today, with his skull fractured, perhaps fatally.

With his clothing torn from him, and his skull crushed in, the young rabbi was found by a hotel clerk early this morning groping feebly about the floor of a room in the Gates Hotel at Geary and Fillmore streets, apparently trying to fight off an imaginary enemy. The walls of the room were spattered with blood.

SAILOR GONE TWO HOURS WHEN RABBI DISCOVERED

Two hours earlier a man dressed as a sailor in the United States navy, who had occupied the room with Lafee last night, and who had registered as H. B. Hickman, had left the hotel. The rabbi had signed the register as "A. Layne."

Investigation by detectives revealed that Rabbi Lafee had been robbed of a diamond stickpin, his watch and chain, and probably a sum of money.

The police are searching for Hickman.

TRYING TO BEFRIEND SOMEONE, MOTHER THINKS

Belief that Rabbi Lafee is a victim of a man he was trying to befriend was expressed today by his mother, Mrs. Manuel Lafee, 196 Eighteenth avenue, wife of a Market street tobacconist.

"Alfred has always been very innocent and trusting and extremely sympathetic toward those who were unfortunate or downhearted. The only way I can explain this strange happening is that the man dressed as a sailor had induced Alfred to spend the night with him by some plea that he needed the help and advice of a friend, and wanted to talk with him. It would be just like Alfred to go with the man, if such a hard-luck story were told him."

ONLY SEMI-CONSCIOUS SINCE THE ATTACK

Since his discovery by the hotel clerk early this morning, Lafee has been either semi-conscious or completely unconscious. He managed to reveal his identity by murmuring his name faintly to the hotel clerk, and then relapsed into unconsciousness.

Mystery surrounds not only the young rabbi's reason for accompanying the sailor to the hotel, but the fact that he registered there as "A. Layne."

At Lafee's bedside today, beside his mother, is Rabbi Hermann Lissauer, who inducted Lafee into rabbinical orders.

Rabbi Lafee is 22 years old, and has been living at the Hotel Normandie, 1499 Sutter street.

He was made a rabbi recently, when the congregation of the Bush street temple unanimously elected him to that position for a period [illegible]

RABBI LEFT HOME TO ATTEND LODGE MEETING.

Last night Lafee had dinner at the home of Mrs. Rosa Frankel, 937 Lake street, leaving about 8 o'clock with the remark that he had to attend a lodge meeting.

About an hour later, according to Night Clerk Delville Tompkins of the Gates Hotel, Lafee arrived at that hostelry in company with a man about 6 feet tall, who was dressed in a United States sailor's uniform. They engaged a room, for which Lafee paid. After going upstairs the rabbi telephoned to the clerk, asking to be called at 6 a. m.

At 4 o'clock this morning, Tompkins says, he saw the sailor leave the hotel. He did not appear to be agitated, but stopped in the lobby long enough to roll a cigarette before strolling out into the street, according to Tompkins.

At 6 o'clock Lafee failed to respond to the call to awaken him, and Tompkins made an investigation.

ATTACK MADE ON CLERK BY DAZED MAN.

When Tompkins entered the room he found the door partly obstructed by a wash-stand which Lafee had evidently placed against it as a barricade. Lafee dazedly tried to fight him off when he approached the injured rabbi, Tompkins said, and appeared to believe that whoever had beaten him was returning to the attack.

Overturned furniture and the condition of Lafee's clothing indicated that he had put up a desperate fight against the attempt to rob him, Tompkins said. He is compactly built, and apparently of considerable physical strength.

Lafee was hurried to the Central Emergency hospital, and afterward taken to Mt. Zion hospital.

It was two hours before hotel attaches and hospital authorities succeeded in identifying the young rabbi. They finally heard him mutter the name, "Lafee," and from this located his parents.

SURPRISE STORM SWEEPS STATE

Valleys Drenched When the Weather Man Expected Dry Spell.

A new storm came suddenly out of the ocean today and poured rain into the valleys of northern California. Just as the weather bureau was looking forward to another dry spell, following the rain of Sunday and early yesterday, the new disturbance appeared and moved inland with startling rapidity.

Already the Sacramento and Santa Clara valleys have received a good drenching, and the San Joaquin valley is now being visited. The storm had gone as far as Stockton by 5 o'clock this morning.

The forecast for the next 24 hours is for rain throughout northern California and the great valleys and unsettled conditions, with the likelihood of showers in southern California. The precipitation from the storm up to 5 o'clock had been light, but after that hour heavy rain fell everywhere. The morning report shows the following:

Santa Rosa, .41; Colusa, .26; Chico, .11; Stockton, .12; Oroville, .05; Paso Robles, .05; San Francisco, .10; San Jose, .08; Point Reyes, .30; Sacramento, .04; Red Bluff, .04; Eureka, .06; San Luis Obispo, .01.

There are 8 inches of new snow on Summit and a total of 96 inches on the ground.

The weather bureau issued warnings for the storm from San Francisco north to Humboldt bay.

Harding's Plans Changed By Rain

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 4.—Rain today caused President Harding to cancel a scheduled motor trip to [illegible] on the golf links in Augusta, where he is winding up the longest vacation he has had since entering the White House two years ago. The President and most of his party were to have witnessed a specially arranged polo match at Aiken this afternoon, but rain made the field so muddy that it was impossible for the ponies to get around.

Solons Will Probe Death By Flogging

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 4.—By a vote of 77 to 3, the Florida house of representatives today passed a resolution naming a committee for immediate investigation of charges that Martin Tabert, a North Dakota boy, died from flogging in a Dixie county (Florida) prison camp, where he had been sent for vagrancy.

GIANT DAM AT STRAITS IS PROPOSED

Diverting of Waters of San Joaquin and Sacramento Rivers Would Convert Suisun Bay Into Fresh Lake

Engineer's Report Tells How Vast Hinterland of Eastbay Region Could Be Supplied—Tunnels, Locks in Plan

By E. VAN LIER RIBBINK.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRAMENTO, April 4.—The diverting to the bay region of the waters of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, which now flow into the ocean, by means of a giant dam across Carquinez straits, and the irrigating of the vast hinterland of the Eastbay district—such are some of the features outlined in the special engineering report on the water resources of California, which has just been made public by the State Department of Public Works. Coupled with these are other features such as the reclamation of the tidal flat lands along the margin of Suisun bay, the conversion of that body of water into a fresh water lake, the bringing of unlimited quantities of fresh water to the manufacturing centers along the bay shore and the pumping of supplies of water for consumption in the metropolitan areas of San Francisco bay.

HALF OF STATE WATERS DRAIN INTO S. F. BAY.

The report indicating these developments is the result of a survey authorized by the preceding State Legislature, which provided a fund of $200,000 for the purpose. The document contains a plan for the irrigating of 18,000,000 acres throughout the state and emphasizes the fact that one-half of all the waters of the state drain in San Francisco bay and that these waters join in the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers.

Of direct interest to the Eastbay region is that part of the report which sets forth how the Livermore and Santa Clara valleys, as well as Sonoma and Napa counties, may be irrigated from Suisun bay.

"The excess waters of the Sacramento drainage basin would be collected in the main river channels and, by means of a dam across Carquinez straits below the mouth of both the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers this water would be diverted into the lower San Joaquin river, from which the grand canal would take its water."

COULD BE SPREAD OVER VALLEY LAND.

The report indicates how, through a system of pumping plants, the water may be spread over the valley lands, and goes on to say:

"The dam across Carquinez straits would have many other advantages in addition to diverting the Sacramento waters into the lower San Joaquin river. During seasons of small stream flow there is a tendency for the salt water of San Francisco bay to work up into the network of channels that divide the rich delta lands at the mouth of the two rivers into many islands. The dam below the mouth of these two rivers would prevent any damage to these fertile soils that might result from such occurrences. Further, this dam would [illegible] and make it possible to profitably reclaim all the tidal flats along its margin."

Another development indicated by the report is to the effect that the proposed dam across Carquinez straits would "provide a low level crossing for railroads and highways whose traffic now crosses Carquinez straits on ferries. By [illegible] mensions this barrier would offer no obstruction to navigation.

DAM AT STRAITS IS DECLARED FEASIBLE.

Concerning the practicability of locating and constructing a dam at Carquinez straits, the report states: "It was concluded that dam in this vicinity is feasible, but that extended studies of all possible sites should be pursued before a selection is made.

"This dam would be of added value in creating a large fresh water reservoir in Suisun bay and the delta regions that would have a storage capacity of 500,000 acre feet between the present levels of high and low tide. Supplies of fresh water might be pumped from here for consumption after filtration, in the metropolitan districts of San Francisco bay, as well as for agricultural use to supplement the local supplies of the bay region. Thus water might be brought close into the bay region without cost of conduit from the

CHURCH SITE CHOSEN FOR ATHENS CLUB

Congregational Property On Clay, Between Twelfth and Thirteenth Streets, Picked by Large Majority of Votes

Word "Liar" Heard Twice at Meeting to Select Location for Building; Lot Finally Chosen Priced at $275,000

The present location of the First Congregational church, on Clay street between Twelfth and Thirteenth, is the site chosen by the Athens Athletic Club for its proposed clubhouse. This site received a large majority of the votes cast by the club membership at a special meeting last night, at which time four proposed locations were voted upon.

A last minute appeal for the Eighteenth and Telegraph avenue site, reduced $46,550 at the eleventh hour, was made by its chief sponsors, Fraser and Stanley, the latter attacking the Congregational church site and declaring that "all business was going north of Fourteenth street." The club members refused decisively to concur in this view.

It is likely that the board of directors, according to expressions last evening, will eliminate all office space, confining the building to club purposes only, with the exception of the ground floor, which will be rented for stores and return a revenue estimated at $5000 per month.

VOTE ENDS BITTER CONTROVERSY.

Although a bitter controversy, in which the word "liar" was twice hurled, had been waged among proponents of various sites before the voting took place, the members by acclamation made the selection of the church site unanimous as soon as it was discovered that it was the choice of the majority.

The winning site received 347 votes, against 175 cast for the location on Telegraph avenue from Eighteenth street to Nineteenth proposed by the Fraser-Diggs-Stanley-Dickey group, 42 for a site on Jackson street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth, and 31 for a location on Fifteenth street between Webster and Harrison.

BUSINESS MEN TO GIVE $125,000.

The price of the site selected is $275,000, but it will cost the club only $150,000, as $125,000 is to be paid by the business men of the neighborhood in order to induce the club to locate there. It was further pointed out by S. B. Swan, who proposed the site, that the entire $150,000 can be borrowed upon the property, so that the club can take possession without the actual payment of a cent.

According to Swan, the deal for the property can be closed within 60 days, and construction work upon the organizations permanent headquarters may be begun at the expiration of that time.

The Congregational church site was the lowest in price of any of those offered for consideration at last night's meeting. The Eighteenth and Telegraph location was priced at $458,450, that at Fifteenth and Webster $425,000, and the Thirteenth and Jackson street property $290,000.

The price originally asked by the owners of the Eighteenth and Telegraph property [illegible] but it was announced at last night's meeting that these had later agreed to accept the appraisal of the Oakland Real Estate Board, which placed the $458,450 figure upon the site.

PROPERTY BODY PROPOSES SITE.

The Congregational church site was proposed to the club's site com-[illegible] Downtown Property Owners' Association. In its communication to the committee the association declared that although it was interested in the selection of that site, it was still more interested in the welfare of the club and what the organization would mean to Oakland, and that it wanted its proposed site to be selected only in the event that it was the best of those offered.

The property was described in detail at last night's meeting by S. B. Swan, president of the Downtown Property Owners' Association, who pointed out that it lies only 700 feet from the business center of the city at Fourteenth and Broadway, and that it adjoins Twelfth street, the artery by which a large proportion of the business and tourist traffic enters this city.

The property has a frontage of 200 feet on Clay street, and a depth of 120 feet on Twelfth and on Thirteenth streets.

After Swan had pointed out that the cost of the property meant a price per front foot of only $625, H. C. Capwell, speaking in favor of the site, declared that property only one block away from it was priced at $[illegible] a front foot, and that a local bank lately had loaned money on it based on that valuation. He also said that he would not take $4650 a front foot for his

Parents Unable To Locate Girl 'Hurt' in Crash

MYSTERY surrounds the disappearance of Lillie Anderson, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. John T. Anderson, 4325 Walnut street, who was reported injured in an automobile accident on the San Juan grade, San Benito county. Her parents are canvassing the hospitals in the Bay region in an effort to locate her.

Early Monday Miss Anderson left the home of her grandmother, 1541 Fountain street, Alameda, with whom she lives, saying she was going for an automobile ride with some friends.

Later word was received that her arm had been broken when the automobile in which she was riding plunged down a 75-foot embankment off the San Juan grade. Four occupants of the machine were reported taken to a hospital.

Yesterday a letter stated the girl was in St. Joseph's hospital, San Francisco, but attaches there declared today that there was no patient registered by the name of Miss Lillie Anderson.

The girl's parents declared that they did not know the names of Lillie's friends.

FOSTER'S CASE PUT UP TO JURY

Instructions by Judge in the Syndicalist Case Take 6000 Words.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., April 4 (By the Associated Press).—The case of William Z. Foster, charged with violating the Michigan law against criminal syndicalism, went to the jury at 9:40 a. m. today when Judge Charles White finished reading his instructions.

Foster is guilty of violation of Michigan's law against criminal syndicalism, Judge Charles White instructed the jury today, if:

1. The Communist Party of America, at the time he attended its convention last August, was a society formed to advocate and teach criminal syndicalism; and, if

2. Foster assembled with the convention delegates voluntarily, or, in the words of the court, "with conscious design and purpose to further and promote the teaching and advocacy by the Communist Party of the doctrines of criminal syndicalism.

It is not disputed, the court said, that the meeting was a convention of the Communist party, or that Foster was present at some of the sessions, so, he continued, only those two questions are left for the jury's consideration.

COURT'S INSTRUCTIONS ARE READ TO JURY.

The court's instructions, a 6000-word document, were read to the jury today, and eleven men and one woman then retired to consider a verdict.

Judge White instructed the jurors that it was not a crime for the Communist party to assemble in this State, nor was it a crime for Foster to preach and advocate in this State "the theories or doctrines of class struggle, mass action, the dictatorship of the proletariat, the soviet system of government, the abolition of the capitalistic system, industrial unionism, internationalism affiliation of the American trade union movement with the Red Internationale of labor unions, support of the Soviet government of Russia, independent working class action, the Communist social revolution and other industrial, economical and political changes mentioned in the documents of the Communist party in evidence in this case."

No crime was committed, the court said, unless Foster and the Communist party "taught and advocated crime, sabotage, violence and terrorism as the method, or one of the methods, of accomplishing the changes in the organization [illegible] the Communists."

The Michigan law against criminal syndicalism, he said, was not aimed against advocacy of any changes in our industrial, politics or social institutions, no matter how far-reaching or how drastic such proposals, but against advocacy of criminal acts as a means or method to bring them about.

Even if the jury finds the Communist party, the court said, was formed to teach doctrines of criminal syndicalism, the mere fact that Foster attended its convention would not be sufficient to establish his guilt, unless the jury decided he took part in the convention with knowledge that the party did advocate criminal acts and with the purpose and intent by his presence to aid, abet and take part in such teachings.

Foster's trial, now in the fourth week, is the first case growing out of the Bridgeman convention to be heard. Thirty-two of those alleged to have attended the meeting have been arrested or surrendered and the remainder of the 76 alleged delegates are still at large.

RAIL BOARD TOLD OF C. P. S. P. TANGLE

Oakland Chamber Commerce Representative Gives U. S. Commission Facts Concerning Eastbay Situation

Favors Separate Control for Northwestern; Engineer of State Body Discusses the Santa Fe's Relation to Line

Throwing a light of inquiry upon the close connection said to exist between the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific companies, the Oakland Chamber of Commerce today went on record before the Interstate Commerce Commission as favoring the development of the Santa Fe and Western Pacific properties in Oakland.

This was brought out in the testimony of E. W. Hellingsworth, attorney for the traffic department of the chamber, that the Chamber of Commerce felt that there was a certain danger in depending upon one carrier, although he declared the attitude of the Southern Pacific company with respect to Eastbay service was excellent.

C. P. AND S. P. BOTH IN EASTBAY AREA.

Hellingsworth rather startled the commissioners and caused them later to inquire carefully into an assertion that it was possible for an Alameda county commuter to go to San Francisco on the Southern Pacific and return on the Central Pacific without knowledge that he was traveling on other than the Southern Pacific. It developed that the Lincoln avenue line in Alameda is a Central Pacific property and the Encinal avenue line is owned by the Southern Pacific. The witness said that all of the cars bore the reading Southern Pacific line, but that some of them had small letters reading C. P., indicating Central Pacific ownership.

As further indication of the close connection between the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific, Hollingsworth declared that most persons did not know that the Central Pacific controlled many of the interurban tracks while the Southern Pacific owned the cars and wires. He mentioned also that the Southern Pacific used the interurban tracks for freight and switching purposes.

OAKLAND C. OF C. VIEWS ON MERGER.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, which is sitting in San Francisco, is hearing testimony from business organizations and civic bodies from every part of the West in order to determine the best means of administration of the various railroads of the Pacific coast. In this connection Hollingsworth said:

"The Board of Directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce favors the continued unified operation of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific properties for many reasons, one of which perhaps is that a considerable portion of Oakland population finds employment in San Francisco and is dependent both upon the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific for ferry transportation. We have taken no direct action on the proposed consolidation of railroads because we would rather [illegible] the Interstate Commerce Commission with our problem and let it decide what is best."

BOARD TOLD OF OAKLAND PROSPERITY.

By way of indicating Oakland prosperity Hollingsworth asserted that since 1910 its manufacturing establishments have increased 34 per cent and their product 500 per cent, while for the same period the [illegible] cent.

"With respect to the San Francisco-Sacramento Railway," he continued, "it has enjoyed through rates and reasonable rates to Sacramento and points beyond. There has been some question as to whether it would have been able to obtain those rates if the Santa Fe had a line into Sacramento. The Santa Fe could not reach Sacramento except through the Central California Traction Company, or through the San Francisco-Sacramento railway. If the Western Pacific should go to the Santa Fe the latter would then have a line of its own."

SINGLE CONTROL OF N. W. P. FAVORED.

In regard to Northwestern Pacific, Hollingsworth argued that that road should be controlled by a single carrier although he said the Chamber of Commerce had not gone on record on that subject.

He said it had been his personal experience that the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe were very reasonable to deal with in the matter of claims. He also added the

9 Trains, Minus Engineers, Sent Out by Germans

PARIS, April 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Imitating the methods of the Irish Republicans, the Germans successively despatched nine trains without engineers from Friedrichsfeld, in unoccupied Germany, in the direction of Wesel, says a Krefeld telegram to the Journal. The eighth train ran into the seventh on the Lippe bridge, with the result that seventy cars were derailed.

The correspondent says that the object of the plan was to bottle up the Wesel station, an important railroad center.

Three persons suspected of having a share in the plot have been arrested.

JURY IN MASTER CASE STILL OUT

After 19 Hours' Deliberation There Is No Hint of An Agreement.

SANTA CRUZ, April 4.—After more than nineteen hours spent in weighing the evidence against John R. Master, real estate broker, charged with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Lizzie Master, the jury which is trying him had reached no verdict. Master, in his cell, is preserving the same calm demeanor he has displayed all through the trial.

Final arguments were concluded shortly before 5:30 o'clock last evening and the jury retired. An hour later came a request from the jury room for permission to examine the exhibits in the case.

The court, at 12:45 a. m., ordered the jury taken to a hotel and locked up for the night.

The jury was taken to the jury room this morning at 9 o'clock after having breakfasted.

New Parley Called On U. S. Rhine Bill

PARIS, April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Another conference on the subject of reimbursement of the costs of the United States army in the Rhineland will be necessary, it developed at today's meeting of the allied representatives with Eliot Wadsworth, assistant secretary of the United States treasury. It had been thought today's meeting might complete the negotiations. The delegates had the French text of the allied proposition before them today. It will be considered again tomorrow.

The question of priority for payments to the United States out of future German reparations is in suspense but it is expected a full agreement will be reached tomorrow.

Missing Priest Is Reported Returned

NEW YORK, April 4.—(By the Associated Press)—A telegram from Buffalo signed "J. I. Perrine," was received today at Knights of Columbus headquarters here stating that Rev. J. A. Vranlak of Virden, Ill., reported kidnaped in Venice, Ill., on March 5, had been "captured from his abductors" and was being returned to his home today.

The telegram, which gave Perrine's address only as "The Square," was addressed to John B. Kennedy, editor of Columbia, a magazine published by the Knights of Columbus. Kennedy expressed belief that the telegram was not a hoax.

4 French Killed in Wreck; Two Rail Stations Seized; Ex-Teuton Army Officers Expelled From Ruhr Area

BERLIN, April 4.—(By the United Press).—Four Frenchmen were killed and four injured today when a French coal train was wrecked near Ludwigshafen in the occupied area.

GELSENKIRCHEN, April 4 (By International News Service). —The German railway stations at Kray and Essen-Nord were occupied by French troops today.

BERLIN, April 4.—(By the International News Service).—Germany today sent a note to Paris demanding that the families of the eleven German Krupp workers killed by French soldiers be compensated.

The German note was couched in sharp terms. It made formal protest against the shooting as well as demanding damages for the families of the victims and the immediate release of the four Krupp directors arrested Monday. A copy of the note was sent to every power that signed the Versailles treaty.

"Responsibility for this deed falls not only upon the French troops, but upon the French government itself," said the note.

BERLIN, April 4 (By the Associated Press).—The death total from the shooting at the Krupp plant at Essen last Saturday has been increased to thirteen. All will be buried in a common grave at Essen the coming week end, according to special despatches from the Ruhr today.

The German reports say the French medical commission which examined the bodies of the dead and wounded found that five of the dead and fourteen of the 43 wounded had been shot in the back. Fourteen others reported as wounded are said to have received their wounds in jumping from roofs or falling while trying to escape.

The four Krupp directors arrested by the French are reported to have been imprisoned at Werden, pending trial by court martial.

FORMER ARMY LEADERS DEPORTED BY FRENCH.

BERLIN, April 3 (By the Associated Press).—The French, it is stated in advices from Wiesbaden, are deporting from the occupied area a large number of former German army officers. The advices named a retired general, a lieutenant-general, a lieutenant-colonel and a major, who were routed out of bed early in the morning and taken across the border.

Reports from Muenster say the eastern edge of the Ruhr is the scene of considerable movements of troops, both from and towards France.

French cavalry, reports add, has occupied Ruenderoth and Gymborne (24 miles northeast of Cologne). Three additional mines [illegible] Recklinghausen and Waltrope—have been occupied.

Slaying Admission Laid to Millionaire

ALBANY, N. Y., April 4.—(By International News Service).—Walter S. Ward, youthful millionaire baker of New Rochelle, admitted to Coroner Edward F. Western Pacific to this list. On the other hand the Northwestern Pacific, he asserted, was very difficult to deal with.

As to rates he pointed out that it would be quite possible for a shipper to save money by shipping hay, for instance, from Nevada to San Francisco and reshipping it on the Northwestern Pacific, the two rates being lower than the through rate.

Hollingsworth was followed by Seth Mann, attorney for the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, who testified that the directors of the organization rather questioned the practicability of the working out of the Esch-Cummings law for the regrouping of the railroads of the country. He asserted, however, that the chamber was overwhelmingly in favor of the joint operation of Southern Pacific and Central Pacific by the former. It recommended the leaving of the Northwestern Pacific in its present dual ownership of Southern Pacific and Santa Fe and the taking over of the Western Pacific by a strong trans-continental system, preferably the Santa Fe.

STATE RAILBOARDS VIEW ON N. W. P.

Dual ownership of the Northwestern Pacific railroad, a line extending from Sausalito to Trinidad, Cal., should be discontinued Rachard Sachse, chief engineer for the California State Railroad commission, told the Interstate Commerce commission, hearing evidence in San Francisco yesterday afternoon on contemplated consolidation of railroads under the Esch-Cummins law.

Recommendations of the state commission were contrary to the wishes expressed by large shippers on the Northwestern Pacific, who asked for continued joint ownership and control by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway and the Southern Pacific company.

Northern California and Nevada short lines railroad president heard yesterday in regard to the nationwide consolidation of rail roads with an attitude of apathy summed up in the most common terms used by short line witnesses [illegible]

Sachse in his statement said the Santa Fe would be inherently stronger financially to develop the extension of the Northwestern Pacific northward looking to a connection at Marshfield Ore., which would result in a through line from Eugene Ore., to Sausalito, Cal., with ferry connection to San Francisco. Under the state commission plan, the road would be owned by the Santa Fe to Marshfield, Ore., and the Southern Pacific company to [illegible] line connection in the Willamette valley.

CRY OF LIAR HEARD TWICE.

The meeting grew tumultuous during a discussion over the relative merits of the Congregational church site and that at Eighteenth and Telegraph. During this discussion Lynne Stanley, secretary of the club and one of the leading proponents of the Eighteenth and Telegraph site, was rebuked by Superior Judge Everett J. Brown for disparaging statements concerning the church property, on the ground that "the club will never get anywhere by knocking." Later in the discussion a heated debate between Walter Harris and Mandel Goldwater over the price at which Goldwater purchased the Eighteenth and Telegraph property a year ago, was twice interrupted by cries of "liar."

Among those who spoke for the Telegraph avenue site were Lynne Stanley, L. Cameron Fraser, Senator Arthur H. Breed, and Mandel Goldwater. Those who addressed the meeting in support of the church site included S. B. Swan and H. C. Capwell.

SITE PROPOSALS CUT TO FOUR.

Numerous sites were submitted at last night's meeting by the site committee appointed last week consisting of Carsten Schmidt, chairman, Joseph J. Rosborough, and Lynne Stanley. All but four of these were eliminated from the ballot however, on account of insufficient size or inconvenient location.

The sites voted upon included besides those at Twelfth and Clay [illegible] one on Fifteenth between Webster and Harrison and another on Jackson between Thirteenth and Fourteenth. The Fifteenth-Webster Harrison site was proposed by Charles Downey, and that on Jackson street by the E. B. Field company.

The meeting was held in Ahmes pavilion on Harrison street between Twelfth and Thirteenth and was presided over by J. Cal Ewing, president of the club.

Death of Lenin Rumored in London

By DAVID M. CHURCH,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, April 4.—An unconfirmed [illegible] is dead was circulated here today. Members of the Russian trade mission said they knew nothing of the rumor and were unable to account for it.

Earlier in the day a despatch had been received from Moscow saying Lenin's temperature had risen nearly to 100 and that his pulse was 104. A bulletin issued in Moscow during the morning said:

"Catarrhal symptoms of the lungs are increasing. The condition of the patient is satisfactory."

Word from Paris heightened the mystery about the reported illness of Leon Trotzky, people's commissar for war in the Moscow government. Paris reported it was officially confirmed that Trotzky is sick and that four members of his household had been quoted in this connection.

Five Lost Boys Found Dead in Hawaiian Crater

WAILUKU, Island of Maui, T. H., April 4.—(By The Associated Press.)—The bodies of five young Japanese, members of a party of hikers lost on the slopes of Haleakala volcano last Sunday, were found today below the rim of the crater. All of them apparently had died from exposure, after being lost in a blinding rainstorm.

Two of the bodies were found early today about two miles below the rim of the crater and the remaining three were discovered a mile away. Search of the mountainsides by cowboys, police and others, in an effort to rescue the five missing hikers had been under way since they disappeared Sunday.

Millions Overdue In British Taxes

LONDON, April 4.—Many million pounds are due the British treasury from unpaid super-tax and income tax assessments, according to the chancellor of the exchequer, Stanley Baldwin. The total amounts to about £118,500,000, or approximately $590,000,000. The income tax arrears alone amount to £95,000,000.

In Great Britain and Northern Ireland there are approximately 5,000,000 people with incomes above the exemption limit, but the tax liabilities of roughly one-half of this number are covered by personal allowances, deductions and reliefs.

SUPERVISION OF PRIVATE SCHOOLS HAS OPPOSITION

Assemblyman Pomeroy Says He Merely Seeks to Raise Standard.

By E. VAN LIER RIBBINK.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, April 4.—Strong opposition is being manifested on the part of private schools, parochial schools and military academies against the bills of Assemblyman Hugh Pomeroy of Redondo Beach, which are now in Committee on Education, and which would give to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction some power over the curriculum of these schools.

The bills will be heard in committee next Friday, and many notices of objection have been sent.

Assemblyman Pomeroy denies that his bills will have any tendency to interfere with the private schools, and declares that he merely seeks to raise the "standard of excellence" of these institutions. He said: "My bills submit the courses of study in these schools to the State. Religious courses are exempt, and the State's power of approval and disapproval shall not extend to the method of education, but only to its thoroughness.

PROVIDES FOR INSPECTIONS.

"My bills also provide that each non-public school shall be open to annual inspection by the State, as to its sanitary conditions, and to see that the courses of study which have been filed are being carried out. Furthermore each school is to file an annual report as to students enrolled, etc., and private schools of grammar grade may be accredited to public high schools. The bills also provide that a person must secure a permit from the State to establish a private school, and that no person who is not an American citizen may maintain a private school. Five years, in this latter respect, is allowed for those now in existence.

The ten-round boxing bill of Assemblyman Morrison is due to come up on its third reading. This would mean the final passage of the measure, and for that reason a fight is expected to develop, since there are many opponents to the measure in the house.

Assemblyman Van Bernard today took exception to what he termed "the entrance of the Alumni Association of the University of California into State politics." This is in regard to the fact that Secretary Sibley of the Alumni Association recently appeared before an Assembly committee to protest against Van Bernard's bill cutting the tenure of office of the regents of the university from sixteen to eight years. A similar proposition has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Daniel Murphy in behalf of labor.

BILL FAVORS CHILDREN.

The bill by Assembly Otto Emme of Los Angeles, which makes it unlawful for landlords to refuse to rent houses or apartments to couples with children, has been passed out favorably by the Assembly judiciary committee, and will be taken up by the Assembly, where it is believed that it will also carry. It is said, however, that owners of apartment houses, especially those from Southern California, are bringing much pressure to bear to change this result.

There was a lively debate in the Assembly over the bill by Mrs. E. Miller of Pasadena to transfer the Whittier School from the department of institutions to that of education. The bill was passed after a long debate, in which it was brought out that the proponents of the measure wished to remove whatever evil repute the name "institution" might have, from the boys sent to the school, which is largely for corrective purposes. Immediately following the passage of the measure, notice for reconsideration was given.

Woman Takes Up Land When 84

distant sources. These investigations show that waters of the Trinity river and the three forks of the Eel river in the North Pacific Coast region, might be diverted into the Sacramento river drainage through tunnels under the Coast range mountain, not prohibitive in expense if their waters are developed in large quantities. With these diversions effected there would be plenty of water in the great Central Valley drainage area to supply all its future needs as well as the requirements for all purposes about the San Francisco bay region."

COULD BE ELEVATED INTO LIVERMORE VALLEY.

"The diversion for agricultural use from Suisun bay would be by a canal leading southward from Ygnacio valley. The water would be elevated in successive lifts into the Livermore valley. A pumping head of slightly more than four hundred feet would be necessary to lift the water into Livermore valley, and additional pumping would be required to distribute the water over all of its arable lands."

The document goes on to describe how the water from Suisun bay can be used to irrigate the Santa Clara valley after it has been led over the Livermore valley:

"A tunnel through the hills separating Livermore valley from San Francisco bay would take this water into the Santa Clara valley at an elevation sufficiently high to permit gravity distribution to practically all lands of this valley not irrigable from the waters of local streams."

FOR NORTH OF BAY.

Provision for the irrigation of the lands north of the bay region is made, under the report, from diversions from the Eel and Russian rivers: "Water would be carried in a gravity canal almost one hundred miles in length into the Sonoma and Napa valleys to supplement their local supplies."

Regarding the entire scheme as it affects the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys and other parts further south, the report, as filed with the Legislature, declares:

"Half the waters of the state in their natural course drain into San Francisco bay. From the Pit river, which rises in the extreme northeast corner of the state, to the Kern three-fourths the length of the state towards its southern extremity, these waters gather into the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers to join with smaller streams that empty directly into San Francisco bay, in issuing through the Golden Gate into the Pacific ocean. Within these drainage basins are 14,800,000 acres of land suitable for agriculture. The comprehensive plan provides for irrigating all but two and one-half per cent of this entire area. Only 4,260,000 acres are now irrigated in these regions.

"Ninety-five per cent of the 14,800,000 arable acres in these basins lies in one large continuous body of land on the floor and skirting the edges of the Great Central Valley. Sloping from elevations of five hundred feet above sea-level at the extreme northerly and southerly ends, these lands are barely higher than the sea in the central parts. With an extreme length of five hundred miles, the economic conveyance of the surplus waters of the north half of this valley to the southerly areas that are lacking in water, demands that the plan be adapted to the natural topographic and hydrographic features of the area.

"Since seven-eighths of all the waters of these regions drain off the Sierra Nevada mountains, there is ample for spreading on the easterly side of the valley. In the Sacramento Valley, the east side lands would be served almost entirly by gravity diversions from adjacent streams and the main canals would be short, but southerly from the American river, a series of five long canals would be necessary in order to completely irrigate the areas eastward from the valley trough. These canals generally would be on the valley floor and serve to transfer waters southerly as they cross the distributing canals now in use. By this means all of the east side of the San Joaquin Valley may be served by gravity.

DISTRIBUTED BY GRAVITY.

"The westerly side of the Great Central Valley is deficient in local waters, particularly in the San Joaquin where their average annual amount is only 250,000 acre-feet. Their full amount, however, would be distributed by gravity to the higher lands on the edge of the valley floor. In the Sacramento Valley, three canals, each some sixty miles in length, would divert from the main channel of the Sacramento river and spread water to the south and west, but a very considerable area would be served by pumping diversions with comparatively short main canals leading to adjacent lands. Many of these are already constructed. Some areas to the west of the gravity canals would also be served by pumpingg from these mains. The pumping lifts would generally be less than fifty feet.

"The west side of the San Joaquin Valley would be served by one grand canal two hundred miles long. This would follow the flat lands of smoot surface and have nine pumping plants at intervals along its course to raise the water against the natural grade of the valley floor. The greatest lift of the water flowing in this canal to its extreme southern end, would be 400 feet. There would be 650,000 acres served out of the grand canal by gravity, but the other 1,380,000 acres that could take their supply from this canal, require that the water be lifted by pumping for distribution cover the land surface. The total pumping lift would be high for most of these lands. About 600,000 acres only would have a total pumping lift of less than three hundred feet, 1,100,000 acres between three and six hundred feet, and 350,000 acres a lift of more than six hundred feet if they are to be watered.

"As great as these pumping lifts would be, this plan of distributing the water is much less costly than one of gravity conveyance. To import water to this area by gravity, would require a canal of large dimensions, tortuously following a grade contour on steep mountain hill sides and winding in and out around every rocky spur and into each receding ravine. The total length attained in its devious route would double or treble the air distance of five hundred miles between the source of supply in the Sacramento river and the extreme southerly lands to be watered. The cost of constructing crossings for a gravity canal at the innumerable drainage channels that it would intercept, alone would prabably exceed the total cost of all the works of the comprehensive plan.

New Airplane Gear Assists Landing

LONDON, April 4.—An aeroplane under-carriage that is practically "uncrashable" is the latest product of the aircraft inventors' genius.

The new landing gear looks to the uninitiated like any ordinary two-wheeled under-carriage, but it is fitted with a highly ingenious system of electro-pneumatic cylinders, which prevent accidents even when the machine is being landed by the "freshest" pilot.

A test of the new invention's possibilities absolutely proved its effectiveness. The test pilot deliberately lost his flying speed and let the machine drop to earth from a height of twenty feet or so in a way which would have smashed any ordinary under-carriage, but the new gear absorbed the shock unhurt, even bouncing.

Nothing short of landing "nose" first is expected to damage any aeroplane fitted with this type of under-carriage.

ANTI-SYNDICALIST LAW ATTACKED AND CHAMPIONED

Among Women Interested in Repeal of Statute Is Anita Whitney.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, April 4. — Proponents and opponents of the Hornblower bills for the repeal or amendment of the criminal syndicalist law set forth their views last night at a public hearing held under the auspices of the Assembly judiciary committee in the Assembly chamber. Assemblyman William Hornblower, of San Francisco; Austin Lewis, who stated that he represented a committee of San Francisco women; Chester Rowell of Berkeley, and Paul Scharrenberg, secretary of the State Federation of Labor, spoke in favor of the repeal of the anti-syndicalist law, whereas Ray Benjamin of San Francisco and Captain Walter J. Petersen, former chief of police of Oakland, urged that the present law be maintained.

Among those present at the hearing were several women interested in the repeal of the measure, including Miss Anita Whitney.

During the hearing there was a sharp encounter between Captain Petersen, who appeared in behalf of the San Francisco Ship Owners' Association, and Assemblyman Hornblower, who claimed that Captain Petersen was a well known figure at the capital as a lobbyist—a claim which was just as positively denied by the former Oakland chief of police.

CALLS IT "WAR HYSTERIA."

Hornblower said that he was in favor of the bill repealing the law, and stated that the amendments in his substitute bill did not go far enough. He added that the present law was the result of "war hysteria," and that his bill for the repeal of the act had been endorsed by organized labor.

Austin Lewis described the mode of procedure in which he said that convictions are obtained under the present law. He charged that [illegible] mony of two witnesses who are the same employed in every case by the prosecution. Lewis also declared that "men are today being imprisoned under the anti-syndicalist act on evidence dealing with events that occurred six years ago."

In the course of his address, Lewis was asked by Assemblyman Edward J. Smith of Oakland whether it was not a fact that he (Lewis) had been attorney for the Russian Soviet government. Lewis replied that he had represented the Soviets in the matter of defending title to a certain vessel in San Francisco harbor some years ago.

Captain Petersen declared that repeal of the present law would be "a bad thing for the cause of law and order in California." He said that, if the I. W. W. had reformed, as was said by some to be the case, "then the anti-syndicalist act has had more to do with this reformation than anything else." He declared that the I. W. W. was "an outlaw organization and should so [illegible]"

LAW CAREFULLY DRAFTED.

Ray Benjamin said the present statute had been carefully drafted so as not to interfere in any way with union labor rights. He declared that the I. W. W. "look upon all men in office as representatives of the capitalist class" and that "you cannot control this kind of people with silent prayer."

Paul Scharrenberg said that organized labor was of the opinion that the present law is unnecessary and unjust, and that "there are sufficient laws on the statute books to take care of those who commit outrages." He added: "By persecution you manufacture martyrs. Some men, he said, had been temporarily misled, and had gone to jail because of the fact that they were ignorant of the real nature of the organization they had joined.

Chester Rowell said: "I do not condone the I. W. W. crimes, but I do not wish to convict some members of this organization for the crimes of others. I consider the present act superfluous. The mere academic holding of wrong doctrines is not a crime. If Bernard Shaw should come here and tell us that he does not believe in marriage, we would not lock him up for so informing us."

The Hornblower bills will be voted on at an executive meeting of the Assembly judiciary committee.

BABBLING WOMAN PENALIZED UNDER OLD-TIME LAW

Blue Laws of Varying Shades Inflicted on Americans At Diverse Periods.

By THOMAS HULL,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Life would be hard for even the most sanctimonious people if laws enforced by the Puritans and brought to light by Representative Cassius Dowell, of Iowa, were brought to bear in this twentieth century, according to the congressman.

These original laws of indigo hue, governing everything from what sort of clothes citizens should wear to the forbidding of a matrimonial kiss on the Sabbath, were found in a code Representative Dowell unearthed while pursuing his hobby of delving into laws of the past. Some of the laws that governed New England Puritans follow:

"Married persons must live together, or be imprisoned.

"A man that strikes his wife shall be fined £10. A woman that strikes her husband shall be punished at the court's discretion.

"The select men finding children ignorant may take them from their parents and place them in better hands, at the expense of their parents.

"No minister shall keep a school.

"No one shall travel, cook, make beds, sweep house, cut hair or shave on the Sabbath or fasting day.

"If any person turns Quaker, he shall be banished and not suffered to return upon the pain of death.

"No Quaker or dissenter from the established worship of this Dominion shall be allowed to give a vote for the election of magistrates or any officers.

MUST GO TO CHURCH.

"Every person in this jurisdiction, according to the mind of God, shall duly resort and attend worship on the Lord's days at least, and upon public fasting, or thanksgiving days, and if any person without just cause absent or withdraw from the same, he shall for every such sinful miscarriage forfeit five shillings.

"No one shall run on the Sabbath day, or walk in his garden, or elsewhere, except reverently to and from meeting.

"Whoever wears clothes trimmed with gold, silver, or bone lace, above two shillings by the yard, shall be presented by the grand jurors and the select men shall fine the offender at £3.

"When parents refuse their children convenient marriages, the magistrates shall determine the point.

TOUGH ON BAD BOYS.

"If any man have a stubborn, rebellious son of 16 years old, who will not obey the voice of his father or mother, and being chastened will not harken unto them, then shall his father and his mother lay hold upon him and bring him to the magistrates assembled in court and testify to them that their son is stubborn and rebellious, and will not obey their voice, but lives in sundry crimes; such a son shall be put to death."

RUSS EXECUTION OF CHURCH HEAD ANGERS POWERS

Indignation Sweeps England; Diplomatic Break by Poles Is Threatened.

LONDON, April 4. — (By United Press)—Great indignation over the execution of Monsignor Butchkavitch, Roman Catholic prelate, found guilty of treason by a Russian court, was expressed by official and semi-official circles here today.

WARSAW, April 4.—(By International News Service.)—The Polish cabinet today discussed what steps should be taken regarding the execution of Rev. Father Butchkovitch, Polish prelate of the Catholic church, who was put to death Saturday by a firing squad at Moscow. Diplomatic relations with Russia may be severed.

Indignation is running high in Poland and anti-Russian demonstrations are likely to take place.

Polish officials charge that the Soviet offered to change imprisoned prelates for Bolshevist prisoners held in Poland, but that the Polish government refused.

TREMENDOUS SENSATION CAUSED AT VATICAN.

ROME, April 4.—(United Press.)—News of the execution of Monsignor Butchkavitch, Roman Catholic prelate, by a Russian firing squad, caused a tremendous sensation at the Vatican.

Up to the last minute Pope Pius was of the belief that the vicar-general's life would be spared.

It had been understood in Vatican circles that the death sentence was to be postponed and later commuted to imprisonment in exile.

Pope Pius, it is now learned, spared no effort to save Monsignor Butchkavitch's life. It had been expected that the Russian authorities would heed the Vatican's appeal in gratitude for what the latter did for starving Russia in the famine days.

CURTAIN CALLS By Wood Soanes

IT seems impossible to keep the Fulton Theater out of these columns lately and, strangely enough, the hand of the press agent has not once been in the pie.

First, it was the announcement that the star season was on. Edward Everett Horton started the ball rolling with Robert Warwick following for the big dramatic smash. Then came the word that Clara Joel was deserting "The Sporting Thing To Do" on Broadway and would be Warwick's leading woman here.

Now one learns by keeping one's ear close to the Rialto's pavement that an entire new company is hiding in the wings of the theater ready to pounce forth on an unsuspecting public on Sunday next, when the Warwick engagement starts with Guy Bates Post's famous "The Masquerader."

TWENTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

The TRIBUNE newsies were the guests of the management of the Macdonough theater last night. The attraction was "The Two Orphans."

Not since the days of old Ye Liberty, when Harry Bishop in a burst of generosity gathered together a band of artists that for years were heralded as the greatest "men casts" ever assembled on one stage, has such an array of talent been lined up for a set series of attractions.

There will be Warwick in the Post part and Miss Joel playing the leading feminine character; V. Talbot Henderson as the butler, the third big role in the show; Lea Penman in the part of the vampire; Orral Humphrey, who has deserted "Tiberius Tinker" and the movies for the moment; Frank O'Leary, until recently featured with the road company of "Six Cylinder Love"; Louis Morrison, famous in stock and road attractions and pictures for old men roles; Margaret Allen, recently leading woman in Seattle for Robbins the maid, and the other artists who have been with the company, to-wit, Frank Darien, John Ivan, George Rand, Frederick Green and Ned Doyle.

All of these people will appear in "The Masquerader," "The Bad Man" and "Bull Dog Drummond." The fourth vehicle of the Warwick engagement is now under consideration with the possibility that the star may try out his next season's play at the Fulton.

Miss Van Buren and Shumer Leaving

As is usual in a case of this sort, however, there are a couple of farewells to consider. Katherine Van Buren must needs return to Los Angeles and Henry Shumer is leaving. Miss Van Buren's engagement terminates this week and she goes south to fulfill some picture contracts entered into before she agreed to return to Oakland. Shumer goes to Detroit on business.

Both of these players will be missed. This is especially true in the case of Shumer, who has been so long identified with dramatic stock in Oakland and San Francisco that an all-star stock company without him seems strange. His place will be taken by Morrison, who is not new to Oakland.

FORTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

Barnum & Bailey and James Hutchinson have been arrested by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children for permitting Hutchinson's child to work in the show.

Shumer established himself in the west some twenty odd years ago in the days when David Belasco was beginning to make his mark and William Brady was playing parts. The fans of the old Central remember him kindly as a sparkling young juvenile. Followed then engagements at the various local stock theaters.

He is leaving for Detroit to attend to some business affairs and has made no immediate plans for the future.

EXITS AND ENTRANCES

Martin V. Merle is devoting his entire time to rehearsals and coaching the students of the University of Santa Clara who are to present Clay M. Greene's Passion Play of Santa Clara" at the university late this month and at the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco on May 4, 5 and 6. There will be 150 students in the cast.

* * *

William Hurlbut's new play, "Chivalry," will be produced at Atlantic City late this month with Irene Fenwick and Arthur Byron featured. It will be taken to New York later.

* * *

"Light Wines and Beer," the original title of Kolb and Dill's show, this season called "Now and Then" here, has opened in Chicago with Joseph Cawthorn, George Bickel, Mathilde Cottrelly, Stewart Wilson, Marcia Byron and Cecil Yapp in the principal roles.

* * *

Frank McGlynn last seen here with "Abraham Lincoln," is in the cast of "Bristol Glass," by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson. Others in the cast are Gregory Kelly, Ruth Gordon, Catherine Proctor, John Ransome and John Flood. It opens in Chicago on April 9.

* * *

Another forthcoming production is Philip Barry's play "Poor Richard," which is to be presented by Richard Herndon. Let us hope the title does not indicate what is to happen to Herndon.

* * *

Now that Jacinto Benevente has arrived in America, Nance O'Neil has decided to place carefully on the shelf his "Field of Ermine" and open in New York with a new play he is preparing for her.

* * *

"Hail and Farewell" lived up to its title. It did not even last long enough for a small fractions of the New York theatergoers to hail it.

DEMOCRATS WIN IN CHICAGO, LOSE CONGRESS FIGHT

Elect Mayor Councilmen; Brennan New Power in Politics.

CHICAGO, April 4.—(By United Press.)—William E. Dever, Democrat, was chosen mayor of Chicago to succeed William Hale Thompson in Tuesday's municipal election, by a plurality of 102,742.

Morton D. Hull, Republican, was elected congressman from the Second district to succeed James R. Mann. He defeated Barrett O'Hara.

With Dever was elected a ticket of city officials that, with exception of two aldermen, swept out of office the last remnants of the Thompson organization, once regarded as the most powerful political machine that ever dominated Chicago and Illinois politics. Thirty-eight of fifty aldermen chosen are Democrats. The board was already Democratic.

The election brings about a complete new alignment of political power. The victory firmly establishes the right of George M. Brennan to succeed Roger Sullivan as "Democratic boss of Chicago." He directed Dever's campaign and united the Democrats behind the ticket.

Dever defeated Arthur C. Lueder, Republican, by a vote of 387,961 to 284,213. William E. Cunnea, Socialist, polled 40,841 votes, nearly double the Socialist vote at the last municipal election.

Brennan is the man who forced the nomination of J. M. Cox for president in the last campaign.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., April 4.—James C. Davis, twice elected mayor of Leavenworth and twice forced to resign to avoid ouster, was elected mayor again yesterday by a majority of 127 over D. R. Alford, candidate for re-election.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., April 4.—(By Associated Press.)—The municipal election here yesterday which aroused intense interest owing to reported activities of the Ku Klux Klan, resulted in the election of one candidate for councilman, said to have been endorsed by the Klan, and the defeat of two candidates alleged to have had Klan support. Ralph Cook was the only Klan candidate elected.

Two arrests, a slight disturbance between two groups of young men, one of which accused the other of being knights of the Ku Klux Klan and reports that Klansmen paraded in full regalia last night, marked the election. Police prevented the disturbance from developing into violence and said they could find no trace of garbed Klansmen.

KLANSMEN LOSE IN WEST VIRGINIA.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 4.—Three candidates for city commissioner in yesterday's municipal election, said to have been endorsed by the Ku Klux Klan, were defeated, returns tabulated today showed. J. S. Dunn, said to have been opposed by the Klan, was re-elected mayor.

MONROES, Wis., April 4.—John M. Becker, ousted as county judge of Green county in 1918, following his indictment under the Espionage Act, and reappointed to the position by Governor Blane last December to fill a vacancy, was defeated yesterday for election to the bench.

GALESBURG, Ill., April 4.—Running against her husband for school trustee in Knox township, Mrs. Lyman Moon, Republican, was victorious in yesterday's election by a majority of 5 to 1. Moon was a candidate on the independent ticket.

HELPLESS MAN TWO WEEKS IN LONELY CABIN

BAKER, Ore., April 4.—John Reagan, 55, a miner, lived for two weeks in a semi-paralytic condition in his cabin, surrounded by three feet of snow, high in the mountains 25 miles east of Baker, it was revealed last night when a rescue party brought the patient to a hospital here. He was stricken while working alone in his mine, but by great effort hte worked his way to his cabin, some yards from the entrance.

His condition was discovered by a rancher who came to visit him. How Reagan obtained enough food to subsist during the long wait could not be learned, as he was too weak to talk. So meager was the amount of food in the cabin that Reagan's dog was almost starved.

46,000 Miners on Strike in Wales

CARDIFF, Wales, April 4 (By the Associated Press).—Forty-six thousand miners in the Rhondda coal fields went on strike today. Picketing was maintained in many places, but no cases were reported of non-unionists attempting to work.

The strike was called for the purpose of forcing some 5000 non-unionist miners to join the miners' federation.

Again and Again They Come to See 'Robin Hood' at the Franklin

Engagement of Biggest Film Show Drawing to a Close Doug. Fairbanks Breaks All Records in Oakland

Exclusive pictures of SARAH BERNHARDT, showing the greatest woman since Cleopatra in intimate moods.

Fighting a horde of Prince John's blackguards single-handed, jumping trees and moats, sliding down sixty-foot tapestries, riding hell-bent to the rescue of his Maid Marian, and keeping himself generally in trouble, that's Doug in the biggest and best picture he ever made.

In the colorful tournament he shows his prowess by unseating his adversary, horse and rider describing a complete somersault. In Nottingham forest he leads his lusty band to the rescue of the downtrodden people, a terror to the greedy knights and treacherous Prince John. And when he is trapped by the soldiers, what a fight he puts up. With berserker fury he routs a small army, outwits them by dint of sheer nerve and daring and saves his King's throne for himself and sweet Maid Marian.

Exclusive pictures of the late Sarah Bernhardt are on the same program. The reserved seat sale continues. By all means see "Robin Hood," and if you've seen it, see it again, you'll find more in it the second time than you did the first.—Advertisement.

SHERIFF SEIZES HEADQUARTERS OF KLAN IN GEORGIA

Officers Dispossess 'Emperor' in Clash Over Formation of Women's Order.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 4 (By the Associated Press). — Sheriff J. I. Lowry of Fulton county, with a force of deputy sheriffs, early today took charge of the Imperial Palace, headquarters of the Ku Klux Klan, under an order signed by Judge E. D. Thomas. This order dispossessed W. J. Simmons, imperial emperor, who took charge of the headquarters of the Klan yesterday under a temporary injunction secured by him against Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans.

Sheriff Lowry went to the Imperial Palace and placed Deputy Sheriff Milan in charge. All of the Simmons faction left. It had taken charge yesterday when a temporary injunction was obtained against Imperial Wizard Evans following the break when the "emperor" undertook to organize a woman's order on the lines of the Ku Klux Klan.

The Imperial Wizard has issued a proclamation prohibiting klansmen from affiliating with "Kamelia," the women's order, and threatening banishment for any one who disobeyed the proclamation.

Dr. Evans said today:

"The issue should be settled, once and for all, as to whether the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is an institution to be conducted by one individual for his private financial gain, or a great American fraternal order, the affairs of which are in the hands of its members."

Snow Plays Havoc With Paved Roads

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 4.—Taxpayers of Connecticut stand aghast at the damage done to state highways by the combination of snow and motor vehicle chains, experts estimating the cost of needed repairs at over $1,000,000. Every town in the state will be forced to pay large sums for street repairs from New Haven, with an estimated bill of a half million to face, down to small towns with a bill of a few hundred, but quite as heavy per capita.

Snow removal during the winter cost steam and trolley roads a small fortune, while towns spent anywhere from $10 to $1000 per day for long intervals for the same work without materially lessening traffic difficulties. Where a few years ago "Let Nature Do It" was the slogan in regard to moving fallen snow, use of autos throughout the state has led to highways even in remote sections being smoothed out after every heavy snowfall.

CHURCH TO BUILD HALL.

The First Methodist Episcopal church of Alameda has filed petitions in the superior court asking permission to sell a residence on property at Central avenue and Oak street, Alameda, and to mortgage this and other property for $15,000 in order to construct a community house or hall on the site. It is stated that $1000 has been offered for the residence, which is to be removed.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Henry Turner, butler in the country home of L. C. Frierson, knocked out two burglars who had broken into the house.

BLOSSOMS OPEN UP CLOTHES QUESTION

"Oh, Stella—what lovely blossoms! Cherry blossoms, aren't they? First I've seen this year, and they are so dainty and fresh and spring-like."

"Was down toward San Jose to see Nettie yesterday, and she picked me a branch or two from the tree in the back yard. They are beautiful, aren't they? White as snow!"

"But just think, my dear, how many luscious red cherries you [illegible] one-two-three-four."

"Oh, you horrid thing! There are 104, to be exact. My small son counted them. He was grieved, too, to think how cherries were lost to the world."

"Well, anyway, Nettie's remaining cherries will be all the more perfect, as the strength of these will go to make the others finer."

"Glad there is a cheerful side to the question. I was just beginning [illegible] Nettie of fruit for a year with my poor little bunch of blossoms."

"But speaking of cherries—I want you to go shopping with me this afternoon—will you? I want to select a new dress, and I want your help."

"I don't see why the blossoms reminded you of that, but I'd love to go."

"Fine! The place where I buy is Cherry's, 515 12th street. One may open a charge account there, and they do have such pretty clothes."

Cherry's store for men is at 529 12th street.—Advertisement

Teeth for Breakfast, Dinner and Supper

Three sets of upper teeth were found in mouth of JOSEPH De RASMA, six, of Newark, N. J. Physicians said first row were boy's baby teeth; second, his secondary, and third, a phenomenon, which unless removed, would disfigure his face and give his mouth appearance of a shark's.

Wordy Witnesses Hard on Reporters

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 4.—Due to the verbosity of witnesses who testified recently in the trial of W. E. Stewart in the United States district court here two court reporters were given one of the most intensive workouts of their career.

Fifty thousands words a day was the average quota of voluminous testimony offered during the hearing. Bert Dummitt and Gordon Smith, who took turns in seating themselves directly beneath the witness chair, took every line of testimony, argument and debate between attorneys. The estimate of the aggregate number of words handled jointly by the stenographers was placed at 1,2500,000.

New Pleasanton Sign Agitates Bank Examiner

Official Finds Third Financial Institution Part of Film Play Setting.

PLEASANTON, April 4.—Pleasanton has been amused at a little story that has been going the rounds the past few days. It has to do with State Bank Examiner Irvine, who dropped in toward the end of last week to inspect the Bank of Pleasanton and the First National Bank and who, upon his arrival, found that there was a third bank, the Bank of Rome. He got busy immediately to find out who had given out the permit to do business and while the joke was working out good he was invited into Letham's to find out that behind the screen Letham was doing business the same as usual even though considerable trade has been lost on account of the sign.

The third bank, of course, is a make-believe institution improvised as part of the setting for the Lasky-Famous Players, who are filming a screen drama at Pleasanton under the direction of Robert Wagner.

The town trustees, beginning the first of the month, have adopted the new order, effective until October, which calls for the regular meetings of the board at 8 o'clock instead of 7:30 o'clock. As the curfew bell is rung at 9 o'clock instead of 8:30 o'clock, as is customary during the winter months

Welcomes
a New Neighbor—
Goldman's

The addition of a new, enterprising, progressive institution to the business life of Oakland is a matter of congratulation to our citizens. Business establishments such as this one do not make the tremendous investment involved in opening a store here unless the growth and progress of Oakland fully warrant it. We may be proud of the confidence Goldman's are evincing in the future of Oakland, and as a pioneer institution, which has been keeping step with Oakland's progress for nearly thirty-four years, we welcome this new firm as neighbors, and extend to Goldman's our best wishes for their success.

TWO EXECUTED BY IRISH REBELS; STRIFE RENEWED

Prisoners Taken by Irregular Stood Against Wall and Shot to Death.

By DANIEL O'CONNELL.

DUBLIN, April 4.—Two young Irishmen identified as Peader Breslin and Joseph Kernan, were executed by republican irregulars early today near the home of Governor General Timothy Healy of the Free State. They were placed against a stone wall and their bodies riddled with bullets. The corpses were left lying where they fell.

Nicholas Corcoran, a republican irregular attached to the forces in Ballina, was shot to death by Free State troops when he refused to remove obstructions from railroads.

A railway signal tower controlling several important railway junctions was blown up by irregulars during the night.

Three snipers were arrested.

In County Leitrim a train was held up by irregulars. The crew was removed and the train was then sent ahead at full speed with no one in the cab. It crashed into a freight train and both were derailed, rolling down a high embankment.

John Cronin, most important of the rebel leaders in County Kerry, surrendered to the Free Staters, saying he was tired of fighting and would support the Dublin government.

Official announcement was made that the hunger strike of women prisoners has ended.

Sons of Hermann Officers Installed

RICHMOND, April 4.—Grand officers of California were present last night for the installation of officers of the Sons and Sisters of Hermann. There were many visitors here from Oakland, Berkeley and other cities. The grand officers present were M. J. Gatsman, of San Francisco; William Rust, of El Cerrito; G. Keefer, of San Francisco; E. THIN OR STOUT—YOU CAN DANCE, TEACHER INSISTS

And She Ought to Know About It, for She Has Been At It for Years.

By FRANCES MONTGOMERY.

You may be able to dance, but can you express rhythm?

Dancing is as old as time and corresponds to a universal instinct of man. David danced before the Ark of God. In Rome the priests sang and danced at the yearly festivals. The ancient Egyptians danced as they sang hymns. Christmas carols were formerly circular dances with song accompaniment, and special dances were performed peculiar to Easter time. Romans considered it disgraceful for free citizens to dance unless it was in connection with religious ceremonies. Even the ballet was originally designed as pantomime drama used by the church for teaching moral lessons.

And so on down through the ages we have danced, but we have danced this way and that until the societies of dancing masters of the United States and Europe have, in our time, formulated a set of artistic figures for the popular society dances and adopted the steps to the accepted moral standards.

INSTRUCTIVE WITH SOME.

Some of us dance because it is instinctive, and we can't help it, but if the sense of rhythm be excluded from our make-up we are not moved to be terpsichoreans.

Most of us have the urge to enjoy the amusement and exercise to music, but have to be guided in the first steps. So we have the dancing teacher, and now that the instructor of the dance is to be found wherever the public dance assembly is, we may all learn the latest kinks in Terpsichore.

Oakland has the public ballroom and a score of dancehall teachers and most of the instructors are young women. Not only does the girl dancing teacher instruct, but she also learns, and what she learns is most everything about human nature. She can tell by the merest glance if her prospective pupil will turn out to be a second Valentino or a [illegible]. She can tell by the shake of his shoulder and the angle of his toes whether he fain would learn the old-fashioned waltz or take on the toddle. She knows—well, we will let her tell you what she knows—she being, in this instance, Selvah Peetz Brown.

TEACHING SEVEN YEARS.

Miss Selvah, who instructs in dancing in a local dancehall, has learned considerable about human nature, for she has been teaching ambitious ones to dance since she was 15; that is, for seven years or so. Contrary to the idea that those without a sense of rhythm cannot learn to dance, she says we all are capable of learning [illegible] dance or other.

"The man who does not know how to dance comes to the public dancehall," says Miss Brown. "He watches the dancers and wonders what the greatest attraction is. He sees the apparent enjoyment and feels that he must be missing something, and so after several visits he decides he will take a chance and takes his first lesson. But the young man does not learn so quickly as the older man who has never danced. It is much easier to teach the older man, and I do not know why, but they seem to just have the greater concentration and natural rhythm. The young man usually comes to learn fancy steps.

KNOWS THEM BY SIGHT.

"I can always tell at first sight if a man will make a good dancer or not, but sometimes I am surprised pleasantly. Some learn in three lessons the steps which others cannot master in six. People may not be able to learn the tango, but are very graceful in a stately waltz. The thin dancer can easily execute the difficult dances which the fat man must pass up, but that does not mean that the portly gentleman is not graceful. Indeed, the saying is true that the [illegible] lightest on their feet."

"And," concluded the petite little dancer, who has been dancing professionally since she was three years old, "the girl who is wise and uses judgment learns to handle properly the man who comes to the dancehall not to learn the dance, but to make overtures to the girl teacher. When a man comes to me with that intention I take his overtures lightly and kid him along so to speak and see that he learns at least the rudiments of dancing. He comes back, and before he knows it he has transferred his interest and is learning to dance and likes it."

Fat or thin, regardless of the size of your feet, you can learn how to dance, says the dancing teacher. The exercise of dancing is good for what ails you, says the physician, and in any case a light step bespeaks a light heart, say we.

George Washington was inaugurated president of the United States at New York, April 30, 1789.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers Or Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

What to Eat and Why

A Natural Supply of Vitamin

The word "Vitamin" is new, but the thing itself is as old as the human race. It is the energizing, vitalizing, growth-producing element in the right food. Its absence is a serious fault of the wrong food. When the food is right, there is no need to go to the drug store for Vitamin.

Grape-Nuts, the famous ready-to-eat cereal, supplies the natural Vitamin from the wheat, and a further supply is included in the cream or milk with which Grape-Nuts is eaten.

Grape-Nuts is delightfully crisp and appetizing, with a flavor which happily suggests the wholesome, health-building goodness which the food contains. Phosphorus and iron, as well as Vitamin, with a bran content to stimulate intestinal action, are supplied by Grape-Nuts. Many of our modern, "refined" foods lack these vitally necessary elements.

Grape-Nuts digests easily and is assimilated quickly, and is splendidly nourishing and energizing. You'll find better health and fitness, in the natural way, with Grape-Nuts as a regular part of your diet.

There's genuine economy in Grape-Nuts—many servings of this exceptionally nourishing food to the package. At your grocer's—ready to serve. Grape-Nuts—the Body Builder. "There's a Reason." Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Michigan.

HARDING HEADS OFF G. O. P. BOOM FOR PRESIDENT

Aspirations of Many Candidates Put on Shelf by the Recent Announcement.

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The recent announcement that President Harding would be a candidate for a second term in the White House forestalled the launching of a dozen individual presidential booms within the Republican party, it was learned today.

These "booms" for the most part have now been tossed on the political shelf, but a few are subject to and call at any time.

Among the nationally-known Republicans whose names were urged by friends as possible successors to Harding were Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, Senator William E. Borah(of Idaho, Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago, former Senator William Kenyon, of Iowa, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, Senator Medill McCormick, of Illinois, Major General Leonard Wood, now in the Philippines, and Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana.

WOOD HAD BEST START.

Of this number, political observers declare the General Wood boom had progressed the farthest. It is understood the Miami announcement forestalled actually launching of the Wood boom on his arrival in this country.

The La Follette boom is ready at all times as the senior senator from Wisconsin will control his state delegation to the Republican convention.

The potential candidacy of General Dawes, of "hell and Maria" fame, and of Secretary Herbert Hoover were to vie for administration support if Harding had decided not to run. With the President a candidate again, the McCormick, Watson, Wood and Lowden booms also died in infancy, for they will support Harding as earnestly as will Hoover and Dawes. Borah, who is without a national organization at present, has never bolted the party and can be expected to wait for 1928 for his "big chance" at the presidency.

WILL STAY IN FOLD.

Senator Capper, with strength among the farmers and frequently urged by farm organizations to make the race, probably will also remain in the fold without opposing Harding. The same can be said for Judge Kenyon.

Senator Hiram Johnson is the "question mark" of the list. Prior to sailing for Europe, Johnson emphatically stated he would not be in the race if President Harding ran again. His activities abroad and the Harding proposal for American entry to the international court, however, may cause him to change his mind before the Republican convention.

Lunch Concession At Lake Proposed

The board of park directors decided last night to confer with the playground commission and the city council relative to letting out luncheon and refreshment concessions at the municipal boathouse at Lake Merritt, now operated at a loss by the playground commission.

The city attorney has ruled that the park department, which owns the property, had no right to transfer control to the playground department, as such matters go through the council. The playground department officials assert that the refreshment business has been run at a loss and they are more than willing that the park department take it over and get bids for the concessions.

But it is admitted that the profitable season constitutes only about four months in the year. It is also admitted that the city can only give a one-year concession and the concessionaire would hardly be justified in making a big investment on a one-year lease.

The whole matter, according to the park board, will be discussed with the city attorney and city commissioners, in an effort to put the concession on a profitable basis. I. H. Spiro and a committee yesterday suggested a concession at the canoe house, but this is admitted to be only a part of the problem.

A definite policy, according to the park directors, must be adopted in the next few weeks.

ALASKA FIRE HERO DEAD.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, April 4.—William Zacharias died yesterday from injuries received when he rushed to the second floor of the Nordale Hotel here in a fire Sun- [illegible] had been trapped there. Besides being severely burned, he was hurt as he jumped from a window. He was a Fairbanks pioneer.

French Have Lit Fuse Premier of Ukrane Aserts

By JOHN GRADUENZ
(Copyright, 1923, by United Press)

MOSCOW (By mail to the United Press).—"The French government has lit the fuse (in the Ruhr) and if she will not extinguish it herself, before it burns out and reaches the mine, no government in Europe will be found which can guarantee its future policy."

"A powerful Russia offers more guarantees for the security of the French people against a possible revival of central European militarism than 10 Versailles treaties."

These were the statements to the United Press of Christopher Rakovsky, premier of the Ukranian Republic, regarded as one of the coming men in the great combination of states which grew out of the Soviet movement and which is now being directed toward a new, united Russian republic. Ukraine, the "Granary of Europe," is one of the strongest of these republics.

"The governments still control the events and it is possible to expect that the fear of a new war will compel them to be sensible. But if the events in the Ruhr are prolonged much longer then blind forces will become stronger than the governments and the limits of the state boundaries will be insufficient to confine the war within certain limits."

In reply to further questions regarding Russia's present and future, Rakovsky continued:

"Russia is the only great power which within her own boundaries solves the questions resulting from relations between classes and nationalities. Beyond the boundaries she does not pursue any conquering and aggressive intentions.

"Under such circumstances, Russia might become an important factor of strengthening international peace. The more favorable symptoms shown by France and partly by America are known. At present America is probably the country that knows the Soviet Republics better than any other.

"Due to the activities of the American Relief Administration, America is fully informed about the stability of the Soviet regime and the decisive influence of the Communist party.

"As regards France there are in France, besides militaristic elements, more farsighted political circles which more and more realize the delusiveness of those guarantees which treaties like that of Versailles give to the security of France."

WIFE A "GOOD SHOT."

Sportsman Elected State Club Director

MODESTO, April 4 — Henry Garrison, president of the Stanislaus-Tuolumne Counties Fish and Game Protective association, has been elected a director of the California State Fish, Game and Forest Protective League, it was learned today. Garrison takes the place of Joseph Marshall, whose resignation from the board was accepted Saturday. The local bi-county organization became affiliated with the State body two weeks ago. The local organization has a membership of over 500 sportsmen.

GIRLS! LEMONS BEAUTIFY SKIN

Make This Lemon Cream to Whiten Skin and Bleach Tan, Freckles.

Mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin softener and complexion beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon cream into the face, neck, arms and hands, then shortly note the youthful beauty, softness and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this harmless lemon cream to bring that velvety, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Advertisement.

It Is Easy to Keep Well in California If This Advice Is Followed

Oakland.—"For years I suffered with stomach trouble, indigestion, heartburn and sour stomach. At times I suffered so with billous headaches that it was impossible to do my work. For days my bowels were costive, which gave me a heavy, sick feeling all over. I was in this condition when some one told me of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for clearing and regulating the stomach and bowels. I took these 'Pellets' as directed, and within a week my bowels were acting naturally and I have not felt any distress in my stomach since." [illegible]

PICTURE SALES OF FILIPINOS IN COSTUME BANNED

Dealers Arrested in Manila by Government Plan Strong Defense

MANILA, April 1.—Two proprietors of picture shops on the Escolta, Manila's Fifth Avenue, have been charged with selling "obscene and indecent" pictures of Ifugaos, Negritos, Igorots and other peoples of the Philippines in their native costumes.

The issue has developed a hotly debated defense, and the defendants will seek to prove in court that the pictures are neither indecent nor obscene, but on the other hand illustrate a mode of dress which conforms rigidly to tribal standards of modesty and reflects customs far more ancient and fixed than the Western garb. The defendants charge that the government represented by the "Christian Filipinos" are seeking arbitrarily to impose upon the natives their own idea of dress.

A sturdy Igorot or Ifugao brave may be shown in a G-string, they contend, while his little limbs and sinewed torso might be the subject for a Greek statue. An Ifugao woman, whom the feminine movement has yet to overtake in the liberty she enjoys, would be shamed by a Paris gown; the scantier, but different, drapery traditional with her, cloaks her in perfect modesty.

It is believed that the government's action is partly based in the fact that pictures of these virtuous primitives sent out of the islands on postcards might be legended as those of Filipinos, which of course they are not; the true Filipino is a Christian, and costuming him and his Occidentalized lady in conventional dress enriches importers and merchants in the Philippines.

Even overcoats are worn by some Filipinos in the rainy season.

To get back to the alleged "immodest" Ifugao woman.

Unmarried Ifugaos live in dormitories, and marriages are trial marriages solemnized as permanent partnerships by elaborate ceremonies after it is clear that the contracting parties are compatible. By choice and by long-established custom, Ifugaos are monogamists, both men and women, there being the single standard of morality for both.

If there is breach of promise the aggrieved party is remunerated. If there be divorce—and one of the chief grounds for this is no children or weak offsprings—the property the woman brought to the marriage is restored to her. If there are children, she takes them. "All the property of both must be assigned to the children at the time of divorce (except the personal property).

Help College Men To Pick Their Jobs

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 4 (United Press).—Experiments designed to help the student while he is still in college to decide what occupation he will pursue upon his graduation have been started at Harvard University.

The work as outlined at present consists of a series of lectures and conferences to be given by men prominent in the various professions, such as engineering, teching, medicine, business, law and public service.

To further the aid which the lecturers are expected to give, conferences are to be held following each lecture. At these conferences the students will be offered an opportunity to discuss with the lecturer the advantages and disadvantages of that particular occupation.

The progress of the lectures and conferences will be watched by a committee with a view to finding out where they may be improved. The report of this committee will have considerable influence on the continuation of similar activities in the future.

MORE AUTHORITY ASKED BY UNION

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 4.—(By the Associated Press).—Enlargement of the scope of the Pan-American Union to permit the performance of any function conferred on it by the governing board or by subsequent pan-American conference is proposed in a convention which Dr. L. S. Rowe of the United States delegation submitted today to the committee of the present Congress.

The organization already has authority over commercial and educational problems, but the fact that it is not empowered to consider such questions as armament leads to the suggestion that its organization be amended to give it supervision over such topics.

Recommendations were made by the Brazil and Chile delegations that action on two points now under consideration, a uniform customs procedure and regulation of radio communication should await the action of world conferences soon to be held on the same subjects.

The United States delegation, it is understood, will recommend the convocation of a Pan-American radio conference in Washington.

IMMIGRANT, 60, GIVEN YEAR TO LEARN ENGLISH

Miss Francesca Guglielmino, 60-year-old immigrant from Italy, has the alternative of learning to read and write English before January 1, 1924, or being deported, according to a decision of the department of labor, reaching here from Washington, D. C.

Miss Guglielmino came to the United States to take care of the three children of her brother, S. C. Guglielmino, wealthy local insurance dealer. She was denied admission at Ellis island because of her inability to read or write. Guglielmino was on hand and after assuring the authorities that his sister would not become a public charge until she was able to take care of herself, she was granted six months' leave to visit her nieces and nephew.

When the time expired in January an extension was granted to permit the introduction of special bills covering her case by Senator Shortridge and Congressman Kahn.

Berkeley Collector Jailed in Alameda

ALAMEDA, April 4.—Earl Ehlers, 22, collector for a coffee store, who lives at 2011 Fulton street, Berkeley, was arrested last night at the request of Alameda police on a charge of battery sworn to by Mrs. C. N. Martin, 1186 Park street, this city.

Ehlers was lodged in the Alameda city jail and bail set at $250. He was booked to appear before Judge L. R. Weinmann in the Alameda police court tomorrow morning.

APE MAN ATTACKS 19 SCHOOL GIRLS

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., April 4 (By International News Service).—The man who has been attacking girls in the vicinity of the Council Bluffs high school, termed by the police as the "ape man," was inactive last night while a posse searched for him.

He has attacked nineteen girls during the past eight days. In each instance he crawled on his hands and knees from behind some obstruction and would clutch and claw at his victim's ankles, tearing their silk stockings and bruising their flesh.

The man has the appearance of a gorilla, his victims say. His hair is shaggy and long. His eyes are small and his facial features are monkey-like.

THERE weren't enough in 1921—5,000 home-owners were disappointed.

This year, with our factories already over-taxed by orders for larger Ideal Boilers, we can make only the same number of ARCOLAS as in 1921. Yet three times as many homes are being built.

So we urge you earnestly to see your Heating Contractor this week, and find out what it will cost you to have ARCOLA installed, with a genuine American Radiator in each room.

The cost is surprisingly low; and in three average winters ARCOLA pays back a large share of the cost in the fuel it saves.

Steps

Begin your spring cleaning right—by using Old Dutch. It wipes away all dirt and grime. Floors, woodwork, walls, tables, chairs, etc., are made clean and spotless. If you are going to paint, a thorough cleaning first with Old Dutch makes a better job.

All cleaning is done easier and better with Old Dutch than with old style methods. It's the easy, sanitary way.

Clean with safety. Old Dutch is a natural cleanser; contains no hard grit. It does not make scratches which later fill up with dirt, and make cleaning difficult.

Old Dutch is economical. The fine, flat particles offer more cleansing surface. That's why it does so much work.

After painting, use Old Dutch for cleaning the hands. It's great.

There is nothing else like Old Dutch

Drink KO-FAN

A Bracing Drink for the Tired and Thirsty

KO-FAN is a new drink made of ingredients from the Tropics and Far East to banish the fatigue and quench the thirst of hard-working, hard-playing Americans.

Sparkling like wine, fascinating to taste, alluring in color, healthful, invigorating, Ko-Fan combines all the qualities Americans have wanted in a drink.

You'll like it--from the first sip to the last drop drained from the claret depths of your glass.

First--Ko-Fan has a distinctive, fascinating flavor. You don't have to learn to like it. Ko-Fan and you are friends from the first. Thousands have differed on what it tastes like, but all agree that it's good.

Second--Ko-Fan has an exhilarating effect. It tones you up, braces you up, buoys you up, enlivens your mind. You walk with a brisker step, see with a clearer eye, think with a more active brain after a refreshing drink of Ko-Fan.

Third--It is healthful. Thompson, a food authority, says of one element: "Tested at army maneuvers, it was found to equal five times its weight of beef." All of the dozen ingredients are pure and wholesome. Scientifically blended, they provide a buoyant good drink which fills a real need.

Ko-Fan ingredients come from the Far East--one piquant flavor from the home of Omar Khayyam, another from China, a dash of goodness from the land of [illegible] from the South Sea Islands, all mingled scientifically to refresh and bring greater efficiency to Westerners.

Go to your nearest fountain today and order Ko-Fan. Observe its beautiful color. Note its strange, delicious flavor. After drinking it, notice how refreshed you feel, how alert!

'COWBOY DICK' IS FEATURE FOR SHRINE CIRCUS

Contest for Queen Is Given Impetus by the Five Candidates.

A touch of the movies will be lent to the Shrine Circus, starting Saturday evening at the Auditorium with the appearance of "Cowboy Dick," a well-known character among the Hollywood studios, where he makes a specialty of substituting for Tom Mix and other actors. "Cowboy Dick" is in reality Richard Milvick of Richmond, and his two horses, Lucile and Teddy, are among the most highly-trained animals in the country.

Milvick became interested in horses while in the employ of Jack McMahon, a horse fancier, who some years ago was known the country over.

Complete satisfaction with the progress of the arrangements for the circus was expressed yesterday by William J. McCracken, potentate of Aahmes Temple.

With five candidates entered the Queen Contest is assuming the interest of a political campaign. Pearl McFadden, a San Francisco candidate, is regarded as a "radical" by the other candidates, who believe that the geographical lines in the contest should be drawn more sharply. The Oakland candidates are Laura Romine, Gertrude Potter, Carmen Birren and Corine Alarie.

The employees of A. Schlueter & Co. will give a benefit dance tomorrow evening at Aahmes Temple, Thirteenth and Harrison streets, for their Shrine Circus Queen Contestant, Laura Romine.

Florida High Point 325 Feet Above Sea

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Florida, speaking physically, is the lowest state of the union.

The geological survey has just completed a topographical investigation showing that the Peninsula state's highest elevation, located in Polk county and known as Iron mountain, is only 325 feet above sea level. The widely known Everglades, comprising an area 150 miles long and about 100 miles broad, are at an average elevation of less than 50 feet above the sea, while the surface of the shallow lake within them, Okeechobee, is not quite 20 feet above sea level.

Even the one or two ridges scarcely rise to 300 feet elevation within the borders of the state. The capital, Tallahassee, is located on the slope of one of the uplands, and within the city border the elevation varies from 300 feet above sea level to less than 80 feet.

Women Use 10,000 Tons of Talcum Year

NEW YORK, April 4.—Ten thousand tons of talcum powder were used by the women of America during the last year, according to the latest figures from the United States Department of Commerce. The figures were submitted by Frank K. Woodworth, head of the American Manufacturers of Toilet Articles and associated with the National Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Soap Exposition, which opens here April 9 to 14, at the Seventy-first Regiment Armory. The statistics include face powder, which is composed mainly of talc, but do not take into consideration imported face powders or talcums. With approximately 34,000,000 women in the United States above the age of 15 years, the per capita consumption yearly of each woman is slightly more than 8 ounces, or one tin of ordinary size.

U. S. OPENS WAR ON TAX DODGERS

By WILLIAM J. LOSH.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—A nation-wide drive against tax dodgers has been started by the federal government, it was announced at the bureau of internal revenue of the treasury department today.

Thousands of the so-called "warrants of distraint" will be issued in cities throughout the country in a gigantic effort to force the payment of all back taxes due the government.

These warrants call for the seizure and sale of the property of all delinquent taxpayers and tax dodgers.

The first move of the federal government in the drive was made at Kansas City, where 500 of the distraint warrants were issued. Warrants were being issued in other cities just as fast as clerical forces of the tax officers can prepare the papers.

MUSICIAN DIES, COUNTY CHARGE

FRESNO, April 4.—Hugging his favorite violin to his heart, Max Bachman, 60, former wealthy director of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and leader of his own orchestra at the world's fair at San Francisco, died in the county hospital here yesterday practically friendless and in poverty. Bachman's last request was for music which hospital attaches were unable to provide.

Old Santa Clara Files To Be Reorganized

SAN JOSE, April 4.—Deputy County Clerk Frank Hogan, of Santa Clara county, today started on the task of moving and arranging 125,000 documents of all ages and descriptions at present on file in the clerk's office. During years past lawyers and others have had access to the papers, and as a result many have been displaced. With the completion of a number of new filing cabinets it was decided to move the documents and to re-arrange them numerically, Hogan being assigned to the task. Some of the records were filed as early as 1847. Some are written in Spanish. Still others are so ancient that they refer to California as a territory.

Haywardan Named Traffic Officer

SAN LEANDRO, April 4.—Harold Johnson, of Hayward, has been appointed traffice office of San Leandro by Marshal J. F. Peralta, his duties to begin within a short time. The officer will be employed by the city, will furnish his own motorcycle and will spend a large portion of his time patroling the streets of this city, particularly those carrying heavy traffic. His hours have not yet been fixed.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., April 4.—M. C. Hollis, former mayor of this city, defending himself against a charge of forgery, was acquitted late today. Other charges against him are yet to be tried.

EDUCATION WILL BE DISCUSSED BY EPISCOPALIANS

Church Conference to Take Up Problems, Religious and Secular.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Educational problems of both a religious and secular character will be discussed at the conference of educational secretaries of the Episcopal church, which will be held in Omaha, Nebraska, April 12-16, under the auspices of the department of religious education of that organization. The conference will bring together educational leaders from all of the 86 dioceses and missionary districts of the church in the United States.

A feature of the conference will be a discussion of the problem of education in the rural districts, which will be led by Dr. Harold W. Foght, of the United States Bureau of Education, and author of "The Rural Teacher and His Work." Dr. Foght is the government specialist in rural schools. Bishop Longley of Iowa will outline the educational problems in the small community, and other speakers on the same subject will be Rev. Charles N. Lathrop, executive secretary of the social service department of the church and Miss Charlotte Forsythe of Pittsburgh. Another important topic scheduled for discussion is the moving picture, and a third is that of week day religious instruction in the public schools, the discussion of which will be led by Edward Sargent, who is in charge of this branch of the work for the church.

Rev. Dr. William E. Gardner, secretary of the department of religious education, announced today that plans have been completed under which, on Sunday, April 15, more than a score of cities and towns in the neighborhood of Omaha will be provided with educational addresses and sermons by the distinguished educational leaders and clergymen attending the conference.

Editor Discusses Growing of Fruit

SAN JOSE, April 4.—Dr. F. M. Coleman, editor of the Sunsweet Standard, official publication of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' association, spoke on the various phases of the fruit growing industry before the members of the National Progress club at the meeting of that body yesterday. Dr. Coleman spoke from personal information gathered in scores of investigations, and his talk brought forth some exceedingly interesting facts regarding the fruit industry in Santa Clara county and in the state.

Husband of Wanda Denies Her Charges

LOS ANGELES, April 4 (By United Press).—"Wanda, I believe, wants a divorce from me because she thinks any man with a salary of less than $5000 a year is dumb," said A. Burton Hawley, husband of Wanda Hawley, who is suing him for divorce.

"Wanda thinks that unless a man has $5000 a year he's a cheap piker. I am told she charges me with cruelty and non-support, although I haven't been served with the papers yet. Neither charge is true."

PLANES URGED TO SPEED MAILS ABOARD LINERS

LONDON, April 4.—(By the United Press.)—Midget airplanes with folding wings, specially constructed tubular cases instead of hangars and tremendous speed are being boomed in England as the solution of the problem of sluggish trans-Atlantic mail service.

These baby planes would be held in port hours after the sailing of each giant liner, according to the plan. Meanwhile late letters, urgent matter and important documents of all kinds would be received and made ready for aerial transhipment.

The plane would begin its race after the departing liner when the latter had proceeded five hundred or more miles upon its way. Tremendous speed and continuous wireless directions would simplify the chase.

Heaving to for a few minutes, the liner would lift the airmail to its decks, sheath it in its steel case and proceed. Within anything less than one thousand miles of the port of destination the little flyer would be unpacked, again loaded with urgent mail and sent in to land.

This scheme, it is said, would clip days from the present mail schedules.

Hayward Rotarians Go to Conference

HAYWARD, April 4.—M. A. W. Lee and E. W. Burr left here yesterday to attend the first annual conference of the second Rotary district, being held in Pasadena, as representatives of the Hayward Rotary club. At this meeting a district governor of the district for the coming year will be nominated and resolutions drafted for presentation to the conference of the Rotary International to be held this summer. Plans for boys' work and other projects of Rotary clubs throughout the state will also be discussed.

With Burr and Lee were Mrs. Burr and Mrs. Lee. The party will return to Hayward Monday.

Until that time, Miss Tonghel will be instructed in her duties. Recognition of the choice has been made by both the trustee board and the school board.

20 CHARGED WITH SELLING STOLEN BONDS AND CASH

Clearing House for Illicit Traffic Uncovered in Twin Cities.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 4 (By the Associated Press).—Following the return of secret indictments involving a score of Minneapolis and St. Paul residents in an alleged nation-wide conspiracy to deal in bonds stolen from the government mails, the federal grand jury here started an investigation in connection with the robbery of a federal reserve truck in Denver in December.

It was disclosed today that for several months secret service operatives have been investigating the presence of much currency stolen in the Denver hold-up in Minneapolis and St. Paul. The investigation, it is said, led to the finding of the alleged source of the money in St. Paul.

The testimony regarding the reported plot to make Minneapolis the clearing house for millions in stolen bonds, securities and currency was furnished by Inspectors W. Morgenroth and Frank Reedy, of New York, who conducted investigations for months.

Their testimony, it was reported, concerned the finding of several hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds in Minneapolis stolen in the sensational New York mail robbery in April, 1921.

Bonds stolen in Chicago and Cincinnati also were found here, it was testified.

ENVOY'S PAPERS RECOVERED BY CLEVER SLEUTH

PRAGUE, April 4.—During the recent carnival in Prague there was performed, quite unknown to the revellers, a clever piece of detective work on the part of the local police which resulted in the restoring to a distracted diplomat of certain papers of the greatest importance. The local inspector of police in this narrative can be referred to only as D——.

D——, seated one afternoon in his office, was interrupted suddenly by a young diplomat representing one of the great powers of Europe, who related that a wallet containing documents of great value had been stolen.

"I must leave Prague by the night train," he explained to the inspector, "and I will be ruined for life if these documents cannot be recovered."

D—— drove to the legation and looked over the wallet substituted for that of the diplomat. It contained a Prague newspaper from which a clipping had been made. The inspector secured an intact copy of this paper, and was thus able to read the clipping cut out by the thief.

The clipping announced that there was to be a masked ball that evening at a well known hall in the city. With this as his main clue, the inspector hurried away to don a fancy costume. He was going to the ball.

The only costume he could find was his old dress Austrian uniform.

As he was leaving his house the detective at the legation telephoned him that the daughter of the janitor of the legation had just left her apartments in the costume of Carmen.

It did not take the inspector long to locate Carmen at the ball. She was seeking a man who eventually appeared in the uniform of a Hungarian magnate, and wearing the customary black mask. The pair withdrew discreetly into a quiet room.

Soon they came out, the girl wearing an expensive necklace she had not had on before. The inspector approached Carmen and the Hungarian magnate and spoke a few quiet but well-chosen words. There was no protest and no scene. Expert hands searched the pair, and the inspector quietly took possession of the diplomat's portfolio, the necklace, and other pieces of jewelry.

W. C. MORROW OF LITERARY REALM DIES IN VENTURA

Author and Playwright Seeks in Vain for Health in Change of Scene.

SAN JOSE, April 4.—William Chambers Morrow, author and playwright, died yesterday at Ojai, Ventura county, according to information received last night by relatives here. He had been in poor health for two years, and went from his home in San Francisco to Ventura county several weeks ago in the hope that the change in climate would prove beneficial.

Morrow was a veteran newspaper worker in addition to his achievements in the field of creative writing. He was a southerner by birth, and obtained his education at Howard college in Alabama and the University of Alabama.

Among his literary works were "Ape, Idiot and Other People," "Bohemian Paris of Today," "A Man, His Mark," and "Lentala of the South Seas."

For the last few years of his life Morrow devoted much of his time to the coaching of young writers. He had been for some time director of creative writing on the faculty of a private school in Berkeley.

Hayward Planning Rodeo For April 28

HAYWARD, April 4.—Instructions to proceed with arrangements for a rodeo to be held here April 28 were given W. T. Knightly, local banker, as head of the entertainment committee of the Hayward Merchants Boosters club yesterday, by L. R. Rosenberg, club president. Knightly, with Frank Pereria and E. A. Hey, have been in consultation with several well known rodeo promoters in regard to the project.

U-BOAT CRUELTY DENIED BY SIMS IN L. A. SPEECH

No Brutality by the German "Sub" Commanders, Head of War Fleet States.

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—The average American citizen takes great pride but little real interest in the affairs of the navy, Rear Admiral William Sowden Sims told members of the City Club at a luncheon in his honor here.

"If only one-twentieth of the money spent in the world war had been expended for preparedness, Germany never would have declared war," he said.

He urged his hearers to read "The Unpopular History of the United States," a volume rewritten from the official reports of Major Emery S. Upton, U. S. A., which he declared "would do much to acquaint the reader with mistakes made by the government, due, mostly, to lack of preparedness."

The admiral declared that during the war there was no brutality on the part of commanders of German submarines and that official records of the navy would not disclose even one instance where a German submarine fired on an open boat.

"It may seem strange and contrary to popular belief," he declared, in telling of his experience as commander of the American fleet during the war, "but almost invariably, after sending a torpedo into an allied ship, the German commander would radio the news to us, and tell us to go out and pick up the survivors."

He urged the construction of more submarines and airplanes, a sufficient number of which, he declared, "would prevent any navy on earth from landing troops on our shores."

Christian College Seeks Endowment

Dr. H. O. Breeden, pastor of the First Christian church, was a speaker yesterday at a meeting of ministers and laymen of the Christian churches of Northern California at luncheon at the Hotel Oakland and launched a $300,000 endowment campaign for the California Christian College. The college is a theological seminary for the training of ministers and is located in Los Angeles.

Dr. Arthur Braiden, dean of the California Christian College, was the principal speaker. He told of the establishment of the college through a gift of $400,000 from Charles C. Chapman of Los Angeles and the donation of a similar amount by the Christian churches of the state. Now $300,000 is being asked to carry on an enlargement program.

PUBLIC INVITED TO SEE NEEDS OF CITY CHARITY

See-for-Yourself Tours to Be Big Factor in Chest Drive.

A strong appeal to the people of Oakland to make the "See-For-Yourself Tour" to be held tomorrow the most successful of the series.

Visits will be made to the Childrens Day Home, the West Oakland Home, the Fannie Wall Day Home and the Rescue Home of the Volunteers of America.

The tours are arranged by the Community Chest for the purpose of acquainting the public with the actual work which is being accomplished by the forty-three different agencies and organizations which are to participate in the Community Chest.

TOURS OPEN TO PUBLIC

"I would like to get over the message that the See-For-Yourself Tours are now open to the public," explained W. H. Oliver, chairman of the committee in charge of the tours yesterday. "At first they were limited to the members of the executive committee and the workers. However we have had such a generous response from the automobile owners that we are now able to invite the public.

"The tour for tomorrow will start from the Community Chest headquarters, 1751 Franklin street at 3 o'clock. These trips are intensely interesting. At the various institutions and agencies visited the executives make brief explanations of the work and then the visitors are conducted on a sightseeing tour.

"I wish that every man and woman in Oakland could make these tours with us. The efficiency and the scope of the charitable and welfare work in Oakland will come as a decided pleasant surprise to 95 per cent of the people. I have little doubt that most of the citizens are entirely ignorant of the work which is being accomplished."

[illegible]

"Realizing that some people may not be able to make the tour on the week [illegible] arranged for a big public tour to be held on Sunday. This trip will start from the Community Chest headquarters at [illegible] o'clock and visits will be made to the Salvation Army Rescue and Maternity Home, the Childrens Day Home, the Ladies' Relief Home and the Baby Hospital.

"It should be [illegible] that there are no attempts to solicit funds or contributions on these tours and that the sole idea is to acquaint the public with the work which is being done."

Serving with Oliver on the committee are Mesdames [illegible] Falk, J. A. Steward and George McMaster.

The Daughters of Israel Relief Society, which is allotted $11,190 under the Community Chest budget, visited [illegible] the following statistics concerning the organization which was organized in 1877 and incorporated in 1883.

"The Daughters of Israel Relief Society is the chief relief agency of the Jewish [illegible] Federation of Alameda county. [illegible] is toward the assistance of the widows and orphans [illegible] [illegible]ck for the unemployed, placing the sick and tuberculosis patients in hospitals and generally providing for the needs of the dependent children.

MANY CASES HANDLED

"Since its organization it has handled 10,183 cases. In the year 1922 it helped to rehabilitate 79 families and 174 others.

"Our program for the year 1923 among other things provides for the rehabilitation of the [illegible] the [illegible] destitute widow as well as the family where the income is insufficient to provide for the [illegible].

"Wholesome surroundings and better habitations will be sought [illegible] this organization believes that environment plays a [illegible] part in moulding the character of the child. It will [illegible] to appoint a [illegible] committee for the purpose of taking [illegible] employment [illegible] wherever it arises. [illegible] this work concerns the [illegible] of permanent families, the bringing up of orphan and dependent children so that they may become independent self-respecting citizens and the placing of sick and tubercular patients in hospitals and the procurement of work for the unemployed."

Whisky Wrung Out of Sheets For 'Evidence'

BELLAIRE, Ohio, April 4.—When Police Chief Corbett's dry raiders entered the home of Mrs. Mary Jones, by smashing in the door, she grabbed a gun and a bottle, then leaped into bed, claiming she was very ill.

Odors of booze prompted an investigation. The officers found that Mrs. Jones had poured the liquor into the bed. Forcing her to get up, they wrung enough evidence from the sheets to warrant her arrest.

5000 BARREL OIL WELL FOR JACKIE COOGAN

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Lady Luck simply can't desert Jackie Coogan, film star and the world's greatest self-made boy. "Jackie Coogan No. 2," his second oil well at Huntington Beach, came in with a rush at 5000 barrels a day—which will have to be added to Jackie's income.

"Jackie Coogan No. 1" has been pumping for a number of months and turns a fat check to Jackie's account every month.

NATIONAL RADIO EXPOSITION IS OPENED IN S. F.

Thousands Fill Auditorium to View Displays of the Latest Equipment.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Several thousand radio enthusiasts crowded into the Civic Auditorium last night to witness the formal opening of the First National Radio and Electrical Exposition, which will continue until Sunday night.

An address by Mayor James Rolph, officially welcoming the exhibitors and visitors, opened the show. Introduced by Louis F. Leurey, president of the Electrical Development league, several city supervisors supplemented the mayor's address with expressions of welcome.

A feature of the opening of the exhibition was the broadcasting by radio the welcoming addresses from Radio KPO, the official broadcasting station for the exhibition, and the Pacific Radio Trades Association.

After the opening program the throngs visited the many booths displaying all sorts of electrical and radio devices. The exhibitors include manufacturers, jobbers, retailers and power companies from all parts of the United States.

NEW DEVICES SHOWN.

One of the largest exhibits is that of the Western Electric company, which covers 400 square feet of floor space. The apparatus shown was shipped from New York for the occasion. This and other exhibits include radio and electrical equipment of every imaginable design. Enthusiasm over some of the new pieces of apparatus waxed warm among radio fans, who were given their first opportunity to view some of the latest devices.

A feature of the show every afternoon will be the reception on loud speakers of all the Pacific Coast baseball scores, broadcast by The Oakland TRIBUNE from its station KLX, and also the entertainment programs broadcast from Radio KPO.

PROGRAM ON AIR.

With a program of speeches at the Auditorium tonight, followed by music, the radio audience which will not be able to attend the show will have an opportunity to listen in on the entire proceedings.

Today's program is as follows:

3:30 p. m.—Lecture by Don Lippencott on "Wireless."

3:30 to 5:15—Reception of baseball scores broadcast from Radio KLX.

4 P. M.—Motion pictures on various radio and electrical subjects.

FLASK AND $15 BILL WAITS FOR JULIAN ELTINGE

SEATTLE, April 4.—A monogramed silver flask is ready here for Julian Eltinge, impersonator of females, whenever he pays $15. The flask was taken from Eltinge when he and four other actors were arrested on their arrival here on February 25 from Vancouver, B. C. Charges that the quintet had liquor were ignored by the federal grand jury, but customs officers assessed the $15 against the flask and the whisky they said it contained. The flask is waiting—empty.

Old Piute Chief Eludes Posses

SALT LAKE CITY, April 4 (By United Press).—Old Chief Posey, last of the renegade Piutes still at large in Southern Utah, has at last eluded the posses sent after him and is believed to have made good his escape in the wild country. The chief is 89 years of age. He was wounded and without food but he managed to give the hundred or more pursuers a merry time and kept them at a distance with his bullets. A hundred dollars reward was offered for his capture.

The remnants of his tribe are in the stockade erected for them at Blanding. Many of the children are being sent to school for the first time. It is believed that Old Posey will never be seen by white men again. He has many sympathizers in other tribes and these may aid him in keeping hidden.

Court Fight Opens On House of David

LANSING, Mich., April 4.—Formal charges that the Israelite House of David colony at Benton Harbor is based upon a "foundation of deceit, immorality and fraud," were filed in the Ingham County (Lansing Circuit Court today by Andrew B. Dougherty, attorney general for Michigan.

SECOND TRIAL SET

MARTINEZ, April 4.—Date of the second trial of J. P. Lopez on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated has been fixed by Superior Judge R. H. Latimer for April 18. Lopez was adjudged guilty by a jury, but a new trial motion by his attorneys was granted by the court.

Bebe Daniels Seen In Production by William DeMille

BEBE DANIELS, who scores another screen hit in "The World's Applause" or "Notoriety"

Star's New Picture Being Shown This Week At American Theater.

Bebe Daniels, with her roguish eyes and her delightful clothes, couples these attractive features with a splendid dramatic ability in her latest picture, "The World's Applause" or "Notoriety," which heads the current bill at the American theater.

The picture is a William de Mille production and like all those that go forth under his name has power of theme and brilliant sequence. The story is of a beautiful actress whose passion is publicity. The world that admired her one moment condemns her the next when her weakness involved her in a tragedy.

Miss Daniels by far gives the best impression of her career and is supported by a notable cast, including Lewis Stone and Kathlyn Williams.

Round Eleven of "The Leather Pushers," with Reginald Denny and other film features are offered on the same bill, as well as the popular concert by Owen Sweeten and his orchestra, who are featuring several local parodies, written by Sweeten, on the Ziegfeld Follies hit, "Gallagher and Shean." "The World's Applause" is presented at 11:30, 1:30, 3:25, 5:20, 7:20 and 9:00. —Advertisement.

TRIBUNE RADIO TELLS PROGRESS OF BALL GAMES

Oakland Contests Will Be Given Play by Play to the Fans.

The baseball scores of the Pacific Coast League games, which opened yesterday, are being broadcast daily by The TRIBUNE from its radiophone station KLX. Following the broadcasting of the scores of the opening games yesterday the radio department received a flood of congratulations on the inauguration of this new service.

The scores will be broadcast daily between 3:30 and 5:15 o'clock. When Oakland is playing away from home the scores will be given inning by inning. This will apply to all the Pacific Coast League games. When Oakland plays at home the local game will be reported play by play, directly from the ball park.

The TRIBUNE will remain on the air until the game in San Francisco is over and until the Oaks finish their game, providing these games do not last until after 5:15.

This will be the practice, regardless of whether the Oaks play at home or away from home, giving the fans the full results of the game in which the Oaks participate, and also serving the San Francisco fans by giving the complete results of the San Francisco game. Other games will be reported inning by inning until both the San Francisco and Oakland teams finish their games.

It was announced last Sunday that this service would not start until April 10. It was decided yesterday to start with the opening games. The first game to be broadcast play by play will be on April 10, when Oakland will play at home.

Mission Society To Convene Here

Delegates from all the Queen Esther Societies of the Women's Home Missionary Society in the Oakland district, including Turlock and Modesto, will be present Friday evening, April 6, on the occasion of the annual banquet of the society at the First Methodist Episcopal church at 6:30.

Mrs. Alta Studley, secretary, will preside and a program of varied musical selections is assured. Miss Helen Bohnett will give the address of welcome.

The principal address will be delivered by Miss Frances Kahlstadt, a teacher from the San Francisco Training school and formerly national field secretary.

The program includes a piano and violin number by Miss Margery Mollan and Miss Lenore Mallon; saxophone selection by Miss Bernise Lawdence; news from the society's broadcasting station, led by Miss E. Petty; vocal solo by Miss Lena Reed; piano duet, Miss Esther Jacobs and Geraldine Small.

Mrs. Jno. Stephens, Mrs. Chas. Victor, Mrs. A. B. Newman and Mrs J. M. Jackson will be hostesses from the First M. E. church.

Officers of the society who will be present include Mrs. F. G. Harrison, conference president; Mrs. O. D. Jacoby, president of the Oakland district; Mrs. J. E. Piart, conference corresponding secretary, and Mrs. C. W. Wise, conference secretary of Young People's Work.

Wife Says Husband Declared Hatred

Ernest F. McPherson told her the nighbors were talking about her going around with an old man and then he accused her of being in love with this man, avers Mrs. Alice C. McPherson in a suit for divorce filed in the superior court. McPherson also remained away from home until late hours, declared he hated her and wanted her to get a divorce, the wife says. They were married in San Francisco, March 11, 1903, separated March 27, this year, and have one child, Kenneth, aged 13, of whom the wife asks custody with $40 a month for the boy's support and $25 a month alimony.

DAILY HEBREW SCHOOL PLANNED

To discuss plans for the founding of a special daily Hebrew school for all Jewish children, a mass meeting is called for tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the synagogue, Ninth and Castro streets. Rabbi B. M. Paper will be in charge of the proposed school. Leaders have in mind a project to take over a building in the vicinity of the synagogue to accommodate the classes.

All Jews of the community who are interested in the plan for the school have been urged to attend the conference. Members of the local congregations and auxiliary bodies have been particularly invited to participate in the mass meeting.

Baby Born in Taxi; Driver Plays M. D.

CHICAGO, April 4.—Losing in a race with the stork, Sam Colter, a taxi cab driver, was forced to play the role of a physician when Mrs. Margaret Coales, his fare, gave birth to a son early today. Later he was congratulated by physicians when he arrived with Mrs. Coales and Coales and their new son at a hospital. The boy was born as the taxicab was passing the postoffice.

WEEKS TO BACK OFFICER'S ATTACK UPON PACIFISTS

Two Anti-War Organizations Charge Misstatements to General Fries.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—A controversy of unexpected proportions has resulted from recent utterances of Brigadier General Amos Fries, chief of the chemical welfare service, assailing the activities of certain organizations on behalf of the abolition of war.

Two anti-war organizations, the National Council for Prevention of War, and the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, last night let loose a double-barreled attack on the general, charging that he had made misstatements about their methods and suggesting that he retract many of the things he had said.

At the same time there were indications that an answering broadside in the defense of General Fries was being prepared at the War Department. Secretary Weeks has let it be known that he believes that agitation against war has in some instances overstepped the bounds of patriotism, and it is expected that before the end of the week he will publicly set forth his view that officers should not be denied the right of speaking their convictions on the question of preparedness.

The executive board of the National Council for Prevention of War sent to Secretary Weeks a letter charging that General Fries had used his official position to attack and malign the organization.

Coolie Rises to Millionaire Rank

MANILA, P. I., April 4.—From coolie to millionaire in the space of 12 years is the experience of Ong Che, who came to the Philippine Islands 15 years ago from China. He worked as a coolie in Manila, performing all sorts of menial tasks, for nearly three years. After accumulating a few hundred dollars, Ong went into the business of buying and selling junk. Today he is rated as worth $1,000,000, all of which he acquired in this field.

Ong declares he will buy anything from a wire nail to a steamship. In order to substantiate the latter statement, he announced he had just purchased the old steamer Missoula from the quartermaster department of the United States Army.

Turks to Enforce Tax on U. S. Relief

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 4.—(By the Associated Press). — The Turkish customs authorities today refused to permit the Near East Relief to continue distribution of foodstuffs to the 25,000 destitute and hungry refugees in Constantinople unless the American organization paid the new consumption tax, which is four times as great as the import duty, it was announced by Near East representatives.

The tax demanded by the Turks totals $15,000.

U. S. READY TO HARNESS GRAND CANYON WATERS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Marble and Grand canyons of the Colorado, listed in most geographies as among the narrowest, deepest and most dangerous river stretches in the world, will be surveyed this summer to determine their adaptability to a general scheme of water power development.

The section to be mapped comprises about 300 miles, according to records of the interior department, and has been traversed only six time by persons qualified to note the topographical features for the benefit of future travelers.

The surveying party already has been selected and its equipment, much of it specially designed, is now being gathered.

MEMORIAD DRIVE STARTED.

PARIS, April 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—The first day's drive by the American Overseas Memorial Association netted 30,000 francs toward the 225,000 francs to be raised in Paris as part of a fund of 300,000, the interest of which is to be used in placing flags and flowers on the graves of all American war dead abroad.

JOSEPH PESCH IS SUICIDE.

ST. LOUIS, April 4.—Joseph Pesch, 50, widely known betting commissioner, who was mentioned in connection with the 1919 Chicago White Sox World's series baseball scandal, committed suicide.

DO YOUR WEAR ARTIFICIAL TEETH?

Think how handicapped we would be if Thomas Edison, Henry Ford and many others had not put their ideas on the market, where we all can make use of them. When you get right down to it, the "commercializing" of ideas is what has made modern dentistry really modern.

My study of "Roofless Plates" led me to produce a specially designed Plate and I found I had to advertise it, if it was going to do any good outside of my immediate acquaintances. My patients who are using the "Roofless Plate" say it means better mouth health, because of its unique features. It has taken me eight years to perfect this work and my ideas cannot be had elsewhere. Popular Entertainer Gains 20 Lbs. on Tanlac

Mrs. Russell Declares Famous Medicine Restored Her Completely When She Had Almost Despaired of Recovering From Stomach Trouble.

The wonderful powers of Tanlac are again very forcefully demonstrated. This time the grateful beneficiary is Mrs. Flora B. Russell, 635½ N. Orange St., Glendale, Calif., who states she has experienced the return of her health and strength and also a gain of twenty pounds in weight by the use of the medicine.

Mrs. Russell is a highly accomplished dancer and very popular in theatrical circles in New York as well as here on the coast. In telling of the benefits she has derived from the Tanlac treatment, Mrs. Russell said:

"At the time I commenced taking Tanlac I was suffering from asthma and a nervous, run-down condition. My stomach was so disordered that everything I ate would bother me and at times I became so nauseated I couldn't retain even a glass of water. I would have such fierce dizzy attacks that frequently I would have to have support to keep from falling, or even be put in bed. Every night was restless and almost sleepless, and I was so discouraged I thought I would never be myself again.

"Tanlac was highly recommended to me, and after taking the treatment I am in such splendid health that I feel as fine as I ever did. I have actually gained twenty pounds in weight and I sleep like a child every night. Tanlac just suited my case and I believe it will help anyone else suffering like I did."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 35 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

NEW ACT PROVES AID TO PACKERS, SAYS WALLACE

Livestock Industry Gains by Law, Declares Cabinet Member.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—After months of antagonism, and the delay caused by the test of its constitutionality, the Packers and Stockyards Act is now established on a solid basis and its administration is contributing directly and effectively to the good of the live stock industry, Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture announces in a statement just made public. Some noteworthy achievements have been recorded and leaders in the livestock and meat industry declare the act has brought about friendly and better contacts between the packers, producers, exchanges, co-operatives, and stockyards companies.

One of the most striking developments is the informal and promptly effective manner in which most complaints are being settled. That phase of the work of the packers and stockyards administration, Mr. Wallace says, is the reason for, as well as indicative of, the confidence placed in its men by the various interests concerned.

The law, in operation since August 15, 1921, is designed to prevent and correct irregularities and abuses such as unfair, discriminatory, or deceptive practices, the control of prices, and unjust rates or charges in the live stock and meat industry of the country. Under the direction of Chester Morrill, assistant to the secretary of agriculture, the packers and stockyards administration has been built up as a separate unit of the Department of Agriculture with divisions handling trade practices; rates, charges and regulations; audits and accounts, economics, and law. Livestock market supervisors are maintained at 19 principal stockyards. These supervisors visit others of the 60 stockyards under the jurisdiction of the secretary of agriculture. Approximately 5,000 dealers, commission firms, and other market agencies at these yards are supervised by the administration's men. They are available every market day, handling complaints right on the ground and anticipating them as far as possible.

Nineteen formal complaints, the last being the Armour-Morris merger for which hearing is set for April 13, had been docketed up to March 1. Final decisions have been handed down in six of these cases, and other decisions will be announced soon.

Complaint by live stock producers against commission charges at a number of the large markets, now in course of adjustment by arbitration through informal hearings, is the first large case to be determined in that way since the law went into effect. The complaints and market exchanges agreed to abide, without appeal to the courts, by the award which will be made by two of the administration's men. The agreement is characterized as one of the most progressive steps in the livestock industry in the last two decades.

The public in general was benefited by the action of the administration in causing a large packing company to discontinue selling 15 ounces of butter in cartons designed to hold one pound. Although labeled as containing 15 ounces it was declared to be an unfair practice. Its discontinuance resulted in national organizations indorsing the principle of standard containers.

Two L. A. Runaways Found in Alameda

ALAMEDA, April 4.—Huddled in an alley, with only the sky for covering, two lads who gave the names of Joe McMullin and Calvin Dernberger and claim to be 18 years of age, were found asleep by Policeman G. Dunn in an alley near Webster street and Eagle avenue at an early hour this morning.

The boys were taken to the police station and given food and lodging. They admitted having run away from comfortable homes in Los Angeles because they had wearied of home restraint and desired to see the world. They will be held until the Los Angeles authorities have been notified.

Women Seek To Save Farm For Unfortunate

BY EDNA B. KINARD.

A massmeeting of women throughout Northern California has been called for Monday, April 9, in the California Club House, San Francisco, by the Women's Industrial Farm Association. A determined campaign to save this state institution to California has been launched. The program of next week is one step in the plan to give expression to the sentiment of those leaders who have organized on behalf of the Sonoma home which affords an asylum to many girls for whom the state offers no other chance at rehabilitation and training for an economically independent future completely divorced from their past.

Three young women who have been inmates at the industrial home will be brought to San Francisco on Monday to make their plea for its continuance and to tell in their own way what its existence has meant in their lives. Miss Blanche Morse, formerly of Berkeley, superintendent at Sonoma, will be numbered among the speakers. Police judges and representatives of police departments will also make protest at any movement which may hamper the proper development of the industrial plant which is looked upon by leaders in social work as the most practical contribution which has been made to reform programs in recent years.

Mrs. Aaron Schloss, Berkeley clubwoman, who is numbered with the past presidents of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, and present chairman of Women's Joint Legislative Committee, representing the important statewide women's organizations of California, will preside as chairman at the Monday meeting.

All women are included in the invitation to attend the conference in the interests of the industrial farm.

"The King's English" is the subject which will be discussed before the Speech Arts Association of California on Saturday afternoon by Herr Wagner, president of the Sequoia Club. Miss Ethel Cotton will be the day's reader, offering selections from her recently published book, "Down Lyric Lanes."

The annual election of officers will take place at a short business meeting preceding the April program. The association meets in Sorosis Clubhouse, San Francisco, claiming its membership among students of literature and drama throughout this part of the state.

☼ ☼ ☼

Mrs. Walter H. Cortelyou is a member of a bridge luncheon club which will convene April 15 at the home of Mrs. H. A. Hesse, a number of the younger matrons to assemble for the afternoon.

☼ ☼ ☼

Miss Esther Parsons will be the speaker before the Business and Professional Women's Club meeting tomorrow at luncheon in the Broadway rooms. "The Industrious Dollar" is announced as her subject. Mrs. Bessie Wood Gustason, president, will preside as chairman.

Cards, Mah Jongg and dancing will assemble the clubwomen and their guests in the ivory ballroom of Hotel Oakland tomorrow evening at a brilliant function which will materially add to the clubhouse fund.

Details for the post-Easter party have been perfected by active committees whose members are eager to witness the swift realization of a building on the Fifteenth and Webster streets site.

The Girl in Her 'Teens will be considered on Friday afternoon by the Big Sisters of Alameda County. The program which will follow a short business session called at 2 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A. building, will be contributed by Miss Anna Wiebalk, speaker, and two young girls, in song and interpretative dance.

Miss Wiebalk will speak to the subject "The Adolescent Girl."

Eileen Glens will appear in the following dances: "Youth" (Raff's Cavatina), "Elf Dancing for Pan" (Grieg's Elf dance), "Lead Us Not Into Temptation" (Grieg's Watchman's song), "Death of Summer" (Grieg).

Nita Cooper, piano, will render "Nocturne" in B major, and Prelude 20, by Chopin; Prelude C sharp minor, by Rachmaninoff.

☼ ☼ ☼

Presidents of clubs throughout the state have been urged to interest themselves in Senate Bill No. 600 in a second appeal sent out by Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. If adopted by the legislature and signed by the governor, home demonstration will be permitted to continue.

Mrs. Fitzgerald requests that action be taken by clubs petitioning that the bill be introduced in spite of the fact that the Comptroller of the University of California has promised that home demonstration be absorbed in the budget of the university as there is no assurance of expansion and this bill provides for that.

Porter P. T. A. Head Gives Last Message

ALAMEDA, April 4.—"Keep the home fires burning, make companions of your children and gain their confidences," was the farewell message given by Mrs. J. A. Powell, retiring president of the Porter School Parent Teachers' Association yesterday afternoon at the last meeting of the organization at which she will preside as president.

Mrs. Powell was warmly thanked by the members of the club and presented with a token of appreciation for the work she has done for the school and community during the three years she has been the head of the organization.

At the next meeting of the club on May 1, the new officers elected yesterday will be installed and assume office. They are: Mrs. George [illegible], president; Mrs. L. W. Fields, vice-president; Mrs. M. A. Moore, secretary, and Mrs. H. D. Maynard, treasurer.

In the Philippine Islands there are 25,000 lepers.

Old Fashioned Wedding in Berkeley Church

It was a real old-fashioned wedding—that of Miss Marion McCreary and Stanford Brown—last evening in the First Presbyterian church of Berkeley. Many hundreds of guests were assembled at the appointed hour, the edifice transformed into a bower of bloom, against a background of garlands and greenery, Dorothy Perkins roses and Bermuda lilies, lighted by myriads of wax candles that gleamed and cast their soft rays over the springlike setting. The bridal entourage was one of the largest of the season, a sextet of bridesmaids, a maid and matron of honor, and wee ring bearer and flower maiden, with an equal complement of ushers.

Later at the home of Mrs. John Edward McCreary, a reception to the bridal party and 150 guests was held. Pink and white prevailed here also in the appointments of the home. Places were set for twenty-four guests at the bride's tables and smaller tables placed throughout the lower floor for the remaining guests. Baskets of pink roses and maidenhair adorned these.

Preceding the arrival of the bridal party at the church, Mrs. Stanley Dimm (Dorothy Dukes) accompanied by Mrs. George Califee, played a number of old-fashioned love songs. Rev. Lapsley A. McAfee, D. D., was the officiating clergyman and Howard McCreary gave his sister in marriage.

The bride was exquisitely gowned in a bridal gown of white satin with which was worn a fichu rose point applique lace and panel of the same in the front of the gown. The [illegible] arranged with orange blossoms and the handsome shower buquet of lilies of the valley and maidenhair with ribbon bows and lovers' knots.

Mrs. Howard McCreary was matron of honor and wore a gown of lavender taffeta with silver lace fichu and panels, the skirt made bouffant. She carried a shower boquet of pink roses.

Miss Helen McCreary, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and her gown was of blue taffeta trimmed in French nosegays. She carried pink roses and fern.

The sextet of bridesmaids — the Misses Leah and Edith Corde, Zella McCreary, Doris O'Donnell of Los Angeles, Helen Huggins and Mabel Toner were gowned similarly, each in a bouffant orchid-toned taffeta frock with cream fichu and lace collars and cuffs. They carried multi-colored shower boquets of spring blossoms.

The little flower girl, Janette Brown, was in a ruffled frock of pink taffeta and carried a basket of pink rose petals and Cecil Breuners. Master Hubert Brown as ring bearer wore a black velvet Eton suit.

Clarke Kesner was best man and the ushers Robert McCreary, Emerson Mikesell, Fred Forgy, Howard Neal, Dennis Leary, Sanford Dickey, Robert Connolly, Myron Brown, Arch Nesbitt, Cort Majors and Norris Nash.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Brown will go to Walnut Grove to establish their home.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON AT HOTEL OAKLAND.

Cards have been issued by Mrs. [illegible] Lorimer for a bridge luncheon Saturday, April 14, when the young matron will compliment Miss Mildred Cook, bride-elect of Ralph Stevenson Lorimer, son of Mrs. John Lorimer of this city.

☼ ☼ ☼

A surprise shower was given Thursday evening by Miss Elma Woods at her home in compliment to Miss Hazel Kyle, fiancee of Emil Gustafson. Miss Kyle's wedding is planned for the month of June. White lilacs and apple blossoms were combined in the table appointments with a centerpiece of a miniature bridal party.

Friday afternoon a meeting of the Womans Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church will be held in the Guild hall when the members will be addressed at 3 o'clock by David Oliphant, whose subject will be "Problems of Municipal Government." Mrs. Harry East Miller, president, will preside and tea follow the informal talk.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. Marmola Prescription Tablets overcome all these difficulties. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. A case is sold at one dollar by all druggists the world over, or send the price direct to the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this, you have no excuse for being fat, but can reduce steadily and easily without going through long sieges of tiresome exercise and starvation diet or fear of bad effects.—Advertisement

TWO VETERANS OF U. C. FACULTY SEEK TO RETIRE

Professors Gayley and Jones Will End Long Service This Semester.

BERKELEY, March 4.—Following closely on the statement that Professor Edmond O'Neill, veteran faculty member on the campus, was about to retire, comes the announcement today that the University of California will also lose from its ranks two other of its best known teachers.

That Professor Charles Mills Gayley, for many years head of the English department, and Professor William Carey Jones, dean of the college of jurisprudence, have applied to the regents for retirement has become known. Both will retire at the end of the present semester.

Professor Gayley has been associated with the university for thirty-four years, and Professor Jones for forty-eight years. Both veteran professors announce that they will devote the remainder of their lives to travel and rest.

Professor Gayley in announcing his plan to leave the university, in whose service he has spent more than half of his busy life, declared that he would spend the remainder of his life in writing and travel.

Professor Gayley declared that he had enough work ahead of him to keep him busy writing for the next eight years. In the third of a century he has been in Berkeley, Professor Gayley has written numerous books that have won worldwide recognition. Among them are "Classic Myths," known to millions of high school students, and "Shakespeare and the Founders of American Liberty," a work so thorough that it was used by Sir A. W. Ward, of Cambridge, in 1917, as the subject of the annual address before the Shakespeare Association of Great Britain. He is the author of many other books on literature and education.

Professor William Carey Jones, who is also about to leave the campus, is widely known, particularly among the members of the legal profession. He joined the faculty in Berkeley in 1875, and has served continuously.

Street Extension to Cost Vallejo $5500

FAIRFIELD, April 4. — F. A. Steiger, county surveyor; A. W. Wehe and Theodore Rump of Vallejo, have filed their report as viewers on the Sonoma street extension in the city of Vallejo, showing the probable cost of construction of the extension to be $5500, for grading and filling, for bridges and culverts and for fencing.

The application for the road to the Board of Supervisors was made a month ago and the report of the viewers has been set for hearing before the board for May 7.

The viewers estimate the damage to L. G. Harrier, Elizabeth Herbert, A. J. McPike, W. B. Knight, A. Kuckuk and the San Francisco, Napa, Calistoga Railroad at nothing and the damage to Mrs. Emma Steffan in amount of $1250, being for earth in the old railroad embankment. L. G. Harrier claims damages in amount of $780, Mrs. Steffan in amount of $2400 and A. Kuckuk $45.50. A. J. McPike, according to the report, has consented in writing to the right of way passing over his land.

Utah Boy Killed By Train At Oroville

OROVILLE, April 4.—Arthur Jacobson and Leo Atwood, both 15-year-old schoolboys of Sandy, Utah, had their dream of a trip to California tragically shattered in Oroville. Young Atwood fell beneath the wheels of a Western Pacific train and was instantly killed.

The boys attempted to climb from a gondola in which they were riding, young Jacobson landing successfully and unhurt, while Atwood apparently slipped and fell beneath the wheels. They had left their school and home in Utah Wednesday and had hoped to find employment in the Oroville fruit groves, according to the story told by Arthur Jacobson.

Boosters in Sonoma Vista Seek Gas Line

BOYES SPRINGS, April 4.—Boosters in the Sonoma Vista Improvement club voted to write to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in regard to having a gas main extended from Petaluma to the fast growing Sonoma Villa tract.

In the letter the club said that out of 140 members at least 125 property owners could be signed up to subscribe to the service. The towns of Boyes Springs, Sonoma, Fetters, Caliente and El Verano [illegible] as being able to furnish [illegible] property owners who would probably avail themselves of the convenience.

Deny Rumor of New Grain Warehouse

VALLEJO, April 4.—Officials of the Sperry Flour Company at South Vallejo do not put much credence in the rumor that the McNear company is preparing to erect warehouse and grain elevators at South Vallejo this year to handle the barley and other grain shipments made by that firm. Last year the Sperry Flour people handled the barley shipments for the McNear company.

Engagement of Two Girls in Chico Announced at Luncheon

MISS ALMA FRANCES JONES (left) and MISS IRMA BETTY EDGAR of Chico, whose engagements were announced at the same party Saturday. Miss Jones is the fiancee of Ralph K. Blasingame and Miss Edgar will be married to Robert Earl Holmes.

Misses Alma Frances Jones and Irma Betty Edgar Surprise Friends.

CHICO, April 4.—A double engagement announcement was made Saturday at a luncheon and bridge party given by Mrs. Frank E. Durkee of Sacramento, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. D. R. Camper, 5103 Fifth street, Chico, when the betrothals of Miss Alma Frances Jones to Ralph K. Blasingame, and of Miss Irma Betty Edgar, sister of Mrs. Durkee, to Robert Earl Holmes, were made known. Both couples are popular members of the younger set in Chico.

The announcements came as a surprise to the guests. Cards, to which ribbons had been attached, were hidden in a large lavender satin Easter egg in the center of the dining table. The ribbons were laid at each place and the cards told the story of the betrothals.

A color scheme suggestive of Easter, had been chosen by the hostess, the decorations consisting of lavender and yellow blossoms. Following the luncheon the guests were entertained at bridge.

Miss Jones is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Jones of Durham. She is a graduate of the Chico high school and also of a secretarial school in San Francisco. Blasingame belongs to one of the well known families of Chico, his mother being Mrs. Rose Blasingame. He served as an officer in the United States army during the war, and saw service in France. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha Pi fraternity, and active in Masonic circles as a Shriner.

Miss Edgar is a daughter of Mrs. F. M. Edgar of Chico, a graduate of the Chico high school and a member of the Alpha Chi sorority. She has taken special work at the Chico State Teachers' College. Holmes is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Holmes, and a graduate of St. Mary's College. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha Pi fraternity.

While no definite announcements have been made, both weddings are expected to take place in the near future.

The guests who attended the party were: Misses Mary Compton, Anna Belle Compton, Elizabeth Cheyney, Hazel Ruth, Marie Kelly, Katherine Kelly, Rebecca Oser, Mary Ann Eames, Constance Anderson, Myrtle Childs, Beatrice Hall, Gertrude Trolue and Zelta Todd, and Mesdames Leroy Bruce, Bruce Macy, Rex Meradith, N. T. Enloe Jr., Walter Phillsbury, and Phil Piltz.

BARTLETT FOR HETCH HETCHY

Mayor Louis Bartlett, candidate for director of the Eastbay Public Utility Water District, in an attack upon the East Bay Water [illegible], indicates that he favors Hetch Hetchy as a water supply for the new district, if formed. Bartlett is the first candidate for director to express a preference for a source of supply in advance of an investigation into all sources. His reference to Hetch-Hetchy is as follows:

"No doubt figures have been given as to cost of some sources of supply, but this is no reason for assuming that the most expensive supplies will be developed. We know within a relatively small percentage of variation, due to changes in the cost of labor and material, that the eastbay cities, by joining with San Francisco in the Hetch Hetchy, can more than double their present supply of water delivered in Lake Chabot for less than $25,000,000. While further investigations may not prove this to be the cheapest source it is mortally certain that these cities will never develop a source of water that costs more than the Hetch-Hetchy will.

License to Erect Dance Hall Protested

LODI, April 4.—A storm of protests from representatives of the Lions club, Exchange club, Christian and Methodist churches, Christian Endeavor, Bethel Tabernacle, Men's club and the public schools greeted the city trustees Monday night in opposition to the granting of a license to G. Piazzi to erect and conduct either a dance hall or a skating ring. Among the speakers denouncing the project were E. F. Van Vlear of the Men's club, C. C. Liter of the Exchange club, Emerson B. Herrick of the Lions club, Charles Gray of Bethel Tabernacle, Professor William Inch of the high school, City Health Officer S. W. Hopkins and Rev. H. E. Beeks. No action was taken, pending further investigation.

Vallejo Declared One Of Best Auto Towns

Demurrers Filed to Suits on Martinez

MARTINEZ, April 4. — Demurrers to the two suits filed against the city by W. S. Farley, former city engineer, in which he asks judgments totalling $38,000, were filed in superior court yesterday afternoon by City Attorney A. F. Bray. The demurrers set up the usual statutory grounds. The judgments sought by Farley represent money he says is due from the city for fees for engineering services, which the board of trustees refused to approve. City officials anticipate the suits being set for early trial.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION

"When is the best time to buy the various kinds of fish, that is, when is each kind in season?"

The various fish seasons are as follows: Codfish, all winter; herring, from the middle of December to February; sandabs, April, May and June; salmon, April to January, nearly all the year; tuna, soles and halibut, all the year; barracuda, February to August; kingfish, autumn, and tomcod, late summer.

"Is there a command anywhere in the Bible that women should wear hats in church?"

In First Corinthians, Chapter XI, Verse 5, Paul says: "But every woman praying or prophesying with her head unveiled dishonoreth her head . . ."

"Is the beaver protected in this state? If so, is it protected by state or federal law?"

It is a misdemeanor to kill a beaver in California, according to the state law, except by written permission from the State Fish and Game Commission when it is shown that the beavers are destroying levees used in reclamation work. The federal laws make it a punishable offense to take or ship beavers or beaver skin out of this state.

"Are amber and ambergris [illegible]"

No, they differ a great deal. Amber is a vegetable resin, hard and translucent, used in pharmacy and the manufacture of beads, pipe stems, etc. Ambergris is a fatty substance formed in lumps from secretions in the stomach and intestines of the sperm whale. It is found in the sea or taken out of the body of the whale in quantities varying greatly in size. It is valuable as a base in the manufacture of perfumes.

"Who was 'Eric the Red'?"

He was the founder of the first Norse settlement in Greenland. According to the Icelandic sagas he killed a man in Norway and fled to Iceland, whence he was sent into temporary banishment for a similar action, whereupon in 982 he set sail toward the west in quest of a strange land sighted in 876 by the Norse sea-rover Gunnbiorn. He discovered the country which he named Greenland. He lived there three years, when he returned to Iceland for colonists and supplies for a permanent settlement, which he is believed to have founded in 985.

U. C. STUDENTS WILL HOLD AX RALLY APRIL 12

Judge Waste Again to Tell Story of Taking of Ball Trophy From Rival.

BERKELEY, April 3.—Students of the University of California will hold their annual ax rally on Thursday evening, April 12, at the Greek theater.

This one rally of the spring semester is a celebration of the capture of the Stanford ax taken at a football game in San Francisco twenty years ago. Judge William H. Waste, of the class of 1891, who was one of the raiding party, tells the story of the capture at the rally every year. He will repeat the story of how the raiders snatched the ax from the Stanford rooting section in San Francisco, how the party eluded the whole body of Stanford men in hot pursuit, and how they finally smuggled it across the bay. The treasured ax has remained in the vaults of a bank in Berkeley.

Every year it is taken out of the vault under heavy guard and is escorted by the freshmen class to the Greek Theater. There it is turned over to the new custodian for the coming year. Tradition requires the custodian of the ax to be the newly elected baseball captain. Until the rally the ax is under the custody of W. Hernle.

At the coming rally Coach Andy Smith will present the Percy Hall trophy to the best all-round football player on the 1922 varsity squad. The trophy will be awarded to the man who, according to Smith, is the most valuable man on the team.

MOTHERS FIGHT ALL-NIGHT DANCE

ALAMEDA, April 4.—"I appear before the city council not as a clubwoman but as a representative of the mothers of the city. As such I bring to you from them the message that they refuse to sanction the issuing of return checks to public dances," was the opening remarks of an address made before the city council last night by Mrs. E. O. Schetter, president of the Alameda Federation of Parent-Teachers' Association, who spoke in opposition to the passage of a dance ordinance which permits the issuing of return checks up to 10 o'clock at night.

Mrs. Schetter declared that many a girl and boy of tender age, according to records, had taken their first taste of narcotics when they left the hall at public dances and went forth on an innocent lark or automobile ride. She concluded her remarks by declaring that the mothers of Alameda felt the morals of the children of the city should not be sacrificed to commercialism.

The ordinance was ordered laid on the table for further consideration at the next meeting of the council.

BABY CARRIAGE STOLEN FROM CHURCH FRONT

STOCKTON, April 4.—The meanest man yet has been discovered in the fellow who stole a baby carriage, blanket, pillow and child's overcoat in the vehicle from in front of California street church Sunday night. Fred Ackerman, 345 West Jackson street, reported to the police that when he and his wife came out of the church after Easter services their baby buggy and its contents were missing. They still are.

Man Who Stole His Own Child Nabbed

MARTINEZ, April 4. — Wayne Netherton of Byron, wanted in this county on a charge of child-stealing preferred by his wife, has been captured in Mexico and is on this side of the international boundary en route to Tucson, Arizona, in charge of Deputy Sheriff Rolph Harrison of Martinez, according to a message received by Under Sheriff William Veale this morning.

Mexican customs officials hold the 26 months old child Netherton is accused of stealing and have refused to let the father have possession of it. Harrison has telegraphed. The mother, Mrs. Virginia Netherton, is preparing to leave for Mexico to obtain possession of her child.

High Court Upholds Healdsburg Official

HEALDSBURG, April 4.—The State Supreme Court yesterday denied the application for five residents of Healdsburg to compel City Clerk John W. Hillhouse to put their names as candidates on the ballot providing for the recall of the five city trustees. The recall election is set for April 12.

Under the ruling there will be no candidates' names on the ballot, and it will be necessary for the voters to write in the names of those for whom they wish to succeed the incumbents.

The city clerk held that the candidates in announcing their candidacy did not properly observe the law relating thereto in that they did not specify the respective incumbents that they wished to succeed. The Supreme Court upheld this stand.

Veteran on Traffic Force in Monterey

SALINAS, April 4.—Erwin Collins, overseas veteran, was named this morning by District Attorney Albert E. Warth, as a member of Monterey county traffic force. The Supreme Court having knocked out the supervisors' power to appoint traffic officers, "Spike" will be a member of the district attorney's force of "dicks." Collins saw duty in Belgium in an army traffic service.

Happiest Women Deny Spooning Before Wedding

"Love Quiz" Shows 872 of 1000 Wives Happy; 389 Disclaim Fondling.

The larger percentage of the women of this city who now enjoy a happy married life never spooned before their wedding, according to the hypothesis that women are fundamentally the same the country over and that recent statistics obtained from the "love quiz" of the John D. Rockefeller Bureau of Social Hygiene of New York are a fair criterion.

A report compiled by Dr. Katherine Bement Davis, general secretary of the bureau, and made public in New York yesterday by the bureau gives the answers thus far received from 1000 married women to whom the questionnaire was sent.

375 ADMIT SPOONING.

The record shows that 375 admitted having "spooned" prior to marriage with other than their fiances; 208 spooned with fiances only and 389 never spooned until wed. The question was left unanswered by 28.

Eleven of the 375 failed to specify the extent of their spoonings: 21 wrote "not far"; 50, "kissing only"; 104, "hugging and kissing"; 45, "hugging, kissing and fondling," and 144 admitted more unrestrained spooning.

Of the 1000 married women, 872 proclaimed themselves happy. Of the happy group 41 per cent did not spoon, 37 per cent did and 22 per cent spooned only with their fiancees. Of the middle group, 38 per cent admitted the extreme.

691 COLLEGE WOMEN.

Included in the 1000 married women with which Dr. Davis' report deals 691 were college graduates, 47 college undergraduates, 41 high and normal school graduates and 12 private school graduates.

Eleven women of national reputation for their knowledge of psychology cooperated with Dr. Davis in preparing the questionaire, which included among its questions:

Has your married life been a happy one? If not, why not?

Were you strongly attracted toward young men?

If so, how would you describe this attraction?

Did you indulge, with one or more young men in the intimacies usually embraced in the term spooning?

If so, how far did you go in spooning?

For the purpose of solving vital questions of education and hygiene, the bureau is sending the questionaire to college women throughout the country asking them to answer the questions truthfully and fully.

EASTBAY LEADERS AID.

Women educators of the Eastbay cities and the leading women students of the university and colleges have voiced their willingness to aid in the work despite the intimate nature of the questionaire.

Miss Gertrude Matthew, vice-chairman of the students' welfare committee at Berkeley declared yesterday that the scientific purpose of the scheme would meet with full cooperation at the University of California. Dr. Ruby Cunningham, women's physician of the university has pledged her aid. Some of the questions to be submitted to the unmarried women are:

How old were you when you first began to spoon?

What effect, as you estimate it now, did spooning have upon the quality of your character?

Will you give the reason why you have not married?

What things are most stimulating to you?

College Girls Hold Hope of Marriage, Declares U. C. Professor.

BERKELEY, April 14. — With the college woman rests the hope for more happy marriages and fewer divorces.

Dr. Jessica Peixotto, professor of social economics at the University of California, is responsible for this contention. She says:

"College training is a definite asset to married life. Contrary to popular opinion, the college woman is more deeply interested in her household because of her college training. The education she has received enables her to run her household on the most efficient and scientific basis. The college woman is interested in the community as it affects home life, and she is prepared to serve both home and community intelligently.

IDEAL IS SEEN.

"Marriage between college trained individuals should result in ideal partnerships. Both parties appreciate the intelligence of the other, and pay tribute to it by regarding marriage as a real partnership. In this ideal combination, there is a free working towards common aims rather than any headship. The woman as well as the man is able to meet and cope with existing conditions. I do not mean to say that marriages between college trained men and women are the only happy ones, yet I believe that proportionately, such marriages should be and are more successful."

MARRIAGE ENCOURAGED.

Dr. Peixotto believes that parents who wish their daughters to marry early do not send them to college as the average college student marries later than the woman who has not gone to college. She says: "This is partly due to the fact that education is her principal objective during her undergraduate years. College training makes a woman more selective and thoughtful. This is particularly so in co-educational institutions where the students are so closely associated in college work as well as in social life.

"College training does not encourage spinsterhood among college graduates as is commonly believed. Statistics show that there are more married than single women who are college graduates."

SKULL BROKEN; TWO MEN HELD

Two men are held in the city prison pending the recovery of Paul Rebeire, who is at his home suffering from a fractured skull, which is said to have been received in a fight.

The men held are Tony Souza and Manuel Reposa. They were arrested yesterday afternoon. Souza is charged with battery. He appeared this morning before Police Judge Tyrrell. The case was continued until tomorrow morning.

According to Police Inspectors Sanderson and Goodwin the fight took place March 18.

Piedmont Becomes Chartered City

PIEDMONT, April 4.—By the adoption of the new city charter, granted last month by the state legislature, Piedmont has ceased to be a city of the sixth class and is now a chartered city. The former councilmen will now be known as trustees. Under the new arrangements charter amendments can be made by direct vote of the people instead of by the state legislature. The charter also empowers the people to elect four of the five members of the board of education, the fifth member to be elected by a majority vote of the other four members. No changes in the personnel of the city government was effected by the adoption of the new charter.

Tea Will Benefit Church and School

A silver tea under the auspices of the Lake district Catholic Ladies will be given tomorrow afternoon between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. [illegible] avenue. The tea is to be given for the building fund of Our Lady of Lourdes church and school.

Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco recently established the parish, appointing Rev. Kovany as pastor. A musical program has been arranged under the direction of Mrs. Leo Hanly. Mrs. Thomas P. Hogan, Sr., will preside, assisted by a committee of hostesses.

Women to Hold Benefit Card Party

SAN LEANDRO, April 4.—A benefit for the State Federation Endowment Fund, a card party will be given at the home of Mrs. C. L. Best, under the auspices of the Alta Mira Club, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served. The committee in charge of the event consists of the Mesdames L. B. Smith, C. H. Hale, F. F. Martin, O. Sullivan, Sidney Welch, L. J. Saxton, J. Lindsey, H. Stenzel, A. Perry, P. H. McGrath, H. C. Barton and W. J. McCoy. Mrs. Susie Dalziel, president of the club, is actively assisting in preparations for the affair.

Borings Begun For New Bridge Sites

VALLEJO, April 4.—Engineers and workers have started borings for foundation sites on the Contra Costa side of the proposed Carquinez straits bridge. It is stated that actual work will be started on the bridge during the summer.

FARMERS WITH MILLION REACH U. S. IN STEERAGE

NEW YORK, April 4.—The steamship Frederick VIII arrived today from Copenhagen with a million dollar steerage.

Aboard the steamer were about 400 Swedish, Norwegian and Danish farmers who brought forth letters of credit, many of them for thousands of dollars. Immigration officials estimated that the total was close to a million.

None of the immigrants, comprising mostly families of four or five, was detained at Ellis island. They are bound for the west and northwest where they said they had heard farm boys were deserting their plows for city life.

Burglars Work As Family Entertains

WOODLAND, April 4.—While Mr. and Mrs. Fred Welder, merchants of Woodland, were entertaining a party of friends at cards at their home on Second street Monday night burglars were looting the rear of the house. A valuable jeweled gold wrist watch was among the articles stolen. Welder heard a noise, examined the rear of the house and found burned matches strewn about. The house had been thoroughly ransacked, but nothing was missed until yesterday [illegible] Welder prepared to visit friends. Sheriff J. W. Monroe has a description of the stolen jewelry and keepsakes.

Funeral Service Held For Pioneer

SAN LEANDRO, April 4.—Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie E. Knaugh, for fifty years a resident of this city, were conducted at her home, 1545 East Fourteenth street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Monroe Drew, pastor at the First Presbyterian church here, officiated. Interment was in the family plot at Evergreen cemetery, Oakland. The deceased was 78 years old.

Ice Firm's Employee Held Up and Robbed

Jack Davis, employed by an ice company at Twenty-sixth and Linden streets, was held up at 2 a. m. today while on his way home from work. The hold-up men were both armed. One of them hit him in the face with his revolver and the second man hit him over the head. They then took $7 in currency and a gold watch and chain. Davis reported the hold-up to Policeman [illegible]

Y. M. I. PLANS DANCE.

SAN LEANDRO, April 4.—St. Leander's Council, No. 4, Young Men's Institute, will give a dance Saturday night, April 28, at St. Joseph's hall. John [illegible] heads a committee in charge of the affair.

CHEST WORKERS TO HOLD RALLY

BERKELEY, April 4.—One thousand Community Chest workers representing the eleven local districts and the two Albany districts will gather at 6:15 this evening at a dinner rally in the new high school cafeteria. Coming on the eve of the opening of the city's first Chest drive, the event will be the most important gathering of the campaign.

A. B. C. Dohrmann, San Francisco business man and chairman of the San Francisco Community Chest, will be the principal speaker. Rev. W. R. H. Hodgkin, general chairman of the local campaign committee, and Campaign Manager Roy R. Henderson, will be the speakers. Henderson today urged all team captains and workers to attend and they will be seated with their respective district leaders. Others who have signed pledges of co-operation but who as yet have not been assigned places on teams are also urged to attend.

The last of the various district meetings was held last night. District Leaders Dan Rygel and Walter A. Chowen assembled the workers of Districts No. 1 and 2 in the Willard school auditorium. Prof. Samuel C. May of the University of California was the principal speaker.

The great canvassing machine which will start soliciting for $132,875, the first chest goal, on Thursday morning has been whipped into a well running equipment.

POLICE BOOTLEG TRIAL APRIL 24

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Lieutenant of Police D. H. Brasfield, Patrolman Mark Willlver and William Barlon and seven civilians arrested in a raid when liquor was being landed from a sloop at the Western Meat company's wharf at South San Francisco, February 2, lost their first battle in the federal court today. Their trial was fixed for April 24 on the plea that the morale of the police department was suffering as the result of their arrest for conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

The government recommended April 24 for the trial, but Robert Duncan, representing the accused, demanded a continuance to the last of May or the first of June. The court refused to hear him further after learning that Chief of Police O'Brien was anxious to have the matter determined in the United States court.

The "Aquaplane Girl," Clear Lake Villas

Share in The Joys of This Lake Shore Retreat

The Clear Lake Villas homesite subdivision has a frontage of three miles on California's largest lake. Situated in the heart of one of the most picturesque regions in the State and favored by a delightful climate, it offers a world of healthful diversions throughout the entire year.

COOK CONTINUES PROMOTION PLANS DESPITE ARREST

Shareholders Will Make Big Fortunes If They Keep Faith, Say Associates.

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 4.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the former explorer and president of the Petroleum Producers Association, went ahead today with plans to make fortunes for his stockholders, although federal investigators accused him of fraud in connection with his oil operations.

Dr. Cook's associates in the oil stock business declared the former explorer is "no quitter" and the thousands of shareholders in the Petroleum Producers' Association, in all sections of the country, have but to keep faith and they will come out on top of the scramble for profits from the "black gold" in Texas oil fields.

The self-styled discoverer of the North Pole has successively headed the Texas Eagle Producing and Refining Company, the Texas Eagle Oil and Refining Company and Texas Eagle Oil Company. The evolution of these three eagles was marked by increases in capitalization from $300,000 to $2,500,000 and later to $5,000,000.

Each enterprise failed in its turn and is now defunct. When he launched the Petroleum Producers' Association Cook announced the capitalization would always be the amount of stock outstanding. Including the subsidiary oil companies it has taken over that capitalization is said to be approximately $35,000,000.

Cook's arrest climaxed a month of hectic experience with law enforcers. Recently he was arrested in a local hotel and accused in federal court of illegal possession of liquor. The following day his wife sued for divorce, charging a young woman was accompanying Cook at the time of his arrest. The decree was granted.

About this time associates of Cook in his oil ent[illegible] his defense and issued various statements in his behalf. In one of these they proclaimed that Cook actually discovered the North Pole.

Additional warrants were being drawn up and more arrests of stock operators were expected momentarily.

ASSOCIATION HAS BIG MEMBERSHIP

With a membership of more than 1100 the Parent-Teachers' Association of Technical High school claims to be the largest organization of its kind in the world. According to P. M. Fisher, principal of the school, this number exceeds that of any other club of teachers and parents of which he can learn.

"Last year," says Fisher, "following a membership drive in which Tech won a cup given by H. C. Capwell to the school showing the greatest increase in P. T. A. membership, we had an enrollment of 538. This we discovered, was the second largest in the United States, St. Louis claiming a still greater association. Our drive this year brought the number to considerably over 1100, which we believe is the largest to be found anywhere."

The recent drive, which was under the direction of Mrs. I. Guy Burks, chairman of the membership committee, and Miss Emily Zane Craig, of the Tech faculty, was a competition between major classes. Brooke Petray, president of the student body, and Elizabeth Eader, secretary, assisted in the campaign.

POLITICAL NOTES

Fred E. Reed, candidate for mayor, made an attack upon Jack Chambers, president of the Civil Service board, at a meeting of the Lakeview and Highland Improvement clubs last evening. He declared "he would throw Chambers off the board." Reed further declared that both his opponents in the mayoralty fight, Davie and Oliphant, were dodging the main issues of the campaign. Those issues, Reed stated, were waterfront development, transportation and taxation. He said that neither Oliphant or Davie offered any businesslike solution of these important problems.

Driving home the necessity for economy, efficiency and harmony in the Oakland school board, E. P. Cornell, candidate for School Director No. 2, addressed several meetings in various parts of the city last night. "I stand for a dollar of service for every dollar expended," said Cornell. "Ten years as a practical educator and several years' experience as a business man have qualified me, I believe, for service on the school board. I pledge you my slogan on the board will be 'find out what is best to be done, and do it at the least cost to the taxpayer.'"

Ernest J. Engler, candidate for Commissioner No. 1, was a speaker last night before the Dimond Progressive Club, advocating the creation of a greater Oakland through scientific and economical administration of municipal affairs.

"The city officials must have vision and the willingness to work hard for their city," said Engler. "I have seen the necessity for new and constructive policies, and that is why I have offered myself as a candidate for commissioner. East Oakland, my home district, is particularly in need of new street openings and other improvements, which will mean a great deal to the development of the whole region east of the lake. We are not going to get very far in these matters until we have an East Oakland man in the council."

"In your choice of public officials be guided by the character of the individual rather than by the propaganda he hands you," said H. T. Hempstead, candidate for Commissioner No. 2 at the meeting of the Allendale Improvement club last night. Hempstead said that the official business of the growing Oakland today is of such magnitude as to require the whole of a business day's attention from the heads of departments. He promised to give the city a full day's work each day, "such as you pay for and are entitled to."

"I am not seeking a political job, but am sincerely desirous of giving service where I feel I can be of greatest use, on the school board," said Nettie M. Miller, candidate for school director No. 3, to the Dimond Improvement club last night. Mrs. Miller explained why she had first filed for No. 4 and had switched later. "I did this," seh said, "because I did not want to appear in the light of an opponent of the widow of the late Director Boyle. There are five school directors to be elected out of seven, and the people have the fullest opportunity to get new blood for the board if they so desire."

Comparing the Board of Education to the board of directors of any large corporation, H. S. Craig, candidate for Oakland school director, was a speaker last night at a house meeting in Fifty-sixth avenue.

"The business of the Oakland school department is not different from that of a big bank or company," said Craig. "It requires the handling of large affairs calling for the expenditure of something like $4,000,000 a year. I hold that it needs the time and attention of men who have had plenty of experience with practical affairs and that is why I am offering myself as a candidate."

Salary increases for the Oakland police and firemen, as provided in Amendment No. 1, were last evening indorsed by the Colombo club and by the Italian-American club of Alameda county. In the resolutions of endorsement of the Colombo club it is set forth that "whereas the members of the Oakland Police Departmetn and the Oakland Fire Department are paid an insufficient wage to maintain the present efficiency of these respective departments and, whereas the present wage paid them does not attract the class of men desired for these important departments," the organization goes on record in favor of the amendment, and urgently requests the members to devote their energies in behalf of the measure.

Mrs. Peter J. Kramer, candidate for School Director No. 2, spoke [illegible] at the Fruitvale school, held under the auspices of the Fruitvale Women's Club and Dimond Progressive club, and said:

"Personally, I had no intention of running for school director, but if six years of experience and knowledge of the community needs of the various schools of Oakland can be of service to our children, I gladly will do my part as a citizen."

The executive committee of the Eastbay Voters' League, at a recent meeting, decided to endorse David D. Oliphant Jr. for the office of mayor, W. J. Moorehead for the office of Commissioner No. 1, and W. J. Baccus for the office of Commissioner No. 2.

The executive committee of the league consists of the following business men: H. D. Perry, chairman; August Lutz, E. Crowson, C. E. S. Hill, Harry M. Thomas, secretary, and Walter Ayden.

J. C. Downey, candidate for Commissioner No. 1, last night addressed a meeting of paint salesmen at the Pacific building.

Downey, who has been endorsed by Mayor Davie, outlined his platform as one of "strictly business." "Oakland is a big city," he said, "and the work of governing it is big business. I have been in business for many years, and have been successful here. I feel that I can make the same success with the business of the city as I have with my own. I bring to the work of the city the benefit my private experience, and have taken as my slogan, 'A business men for a business job,'" he said. "I do not believe in a policy of attacks." Downey stated. "If elected I intend to work in harmony with the other members of the city administration. We have had a har[illegible]ernment for the past two years, and with your support we can keep it that way."

E. C. Lyon, candidate for school director No. 1, spoke before the Fruitvale and Dimond clubs last evening. [illegible] ing his campaign as a business man qualified to handle the business of the school department, and opposed to factions within the board, which necessarily interfere with proper school administration. It is announced that friends of Lyon are perfecting a strong organization [illegible] at the primary, as only two have filed in No. 1 district.

ASSOCIATION OR UNION ARGUED BY RAILWAY MEN

Labor Board Hears Views of Both Sides on Question At Issue.

CHICAGO, April 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Whether maintenance of way men on the Union Pacific system, including the Oregon Short Line, Oregon Union and Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroads, shall be represented by the present union or by an association of system employees only was argued today before the United States railroad labor board.

W. M. Jeffries, general manager, and G. H. Sines, assistant to the vice-president of the Union Pacific, presented the carriers' side, stating that on a ballot among the maintenance of way men of the system eighty-eight per cent voted in favor of forming a system association to replace the present union.

Union representatives argued that the ballot was not conducted according to the rules prescribed by the labor board, and charged that road officials promised maintenance formen an increase in wages and better working conditions if the new association was formed.

Two telegrams, one from Hastings, Neb., stating that organizers for the association were offering $20 increase per month, free coal and free rent to those joining the association and another from Hugo, Colo., stating that increased wages were held out, were read into the record by union representatives.

The union was represented by E. H. Fljozdal, president of the union, and L. E. Keller statistician, both of Detroit, T. L. Jones, of Denver, general chairman of the Union Pacific, F. G. Stout of Chicago vice-president; and T. O. Randall of Denver, vice-chairman or the Union Pacific.

Road officials denied the charges that promises of any kind had been made if the new association [illegible] ter of reducing the present rate of pay, which is slightly in excess of the minimum set by the labor board, had not been taken up with the men or was directly contemplated in connection with the union question.

CUPID LICENSES NEVER RETURNED CAUSES QUERY

Why do some people take out marriage licenses and never get married?

Conjecture, twiddling his thumbs in idle speculation, suggests death, cold feet, irate parents, financial reverses, cooling love and a host of other reasons.

Whatever the cause, the fact remains that every year there are a number of licenses never recorded after being issued. During the last year 58 licenses were issued for marriages that have never been recorded, according to figures in the Hall of records.

Conjecture has even gone so far as to suggest that some of the licenses may have been obtainedd to create a spurious matrimonial state.

But perhaps it's none of Conjecture's business, after all.

Wisconsin Alumnae Hold Yearly Banquet

Members of the Alumnae of the University of Wisconsin, now residing in California, held their nineteenth annual banquet last night at the Claremont hotel. More than fifty members attended and a motion picture showing scenes on the university campus was shown.

Professor Edward H. Gardner, of the University of Wisconsin, who is making a tour of alumni clubs of the Pacific coast, was the principal speaker, and told of Wisconsin's undertaking to erect a memorial union building on the university campus at Madison.

The following committee was appointed to carry on the bay region campaign for this building: Frank V. Cornish, general chairman; Professor Ira B. Cross, chairman for Berkeley; Charles A. McGee, chairman for Oakland, Sylvan J. Lisberger, chairman for San Francisco, and Professor E. E. Robinson, chairman for Palo Alto.

S. P. Traction Loop Proposed By Mayor Davie

Suggestion to Corporation to Remove Rails From Franklin Street.

An inter-railway "loop system," in which the Southern Pacific and Traction Company use each others' tracks, was suggested by Mayor Davie in letters sent to President William G. Sproule of the Southern Pacific and General Manager W. R. Alberger of the Key Route today.

Mayor Davie says an arrangement can be reached to avoid further use of Franklin street by the Southern Pacific. He suggests that the Southern Pacific use the Traction Company's street car tracks on Webster street hereafter, from Fourteenth to Twentieth streets.

The mayor asserts that the parallel trackage on Webster and Franklin now constitutes an "unnecessary duplication."

HOPES TO REMOVE TRACKS.

According to the suggestion of the mayor, the Southern Pacific could switch its trains and street cars at Seventh and Webster, run them up Webster to Fourteenth, realign the present depot to face Webster at Fourteenth, use the Traction Company tracks up Webster and then switch over by one block of new trackage to the present Southern Pacific line on Twentieth.

"Franklin street, says the mayor, "is rapidly becoming a great retail district. We want to get the Southern Pacific off Franklin and on Webster."

The proposition is explained also by the mayor to Alberger, whose consent must be won before the discussion can proceed.

APPEAL TO SPROULE.

The mayor's letter to Sproule in part:

"It would be extremely desirable from the city's point of view if suitable arrangements could be made between your company and the S. F. O. T. Railways whereby your trains could be operated over the S. F. O. T. tracks on Webster street from Fourteenth street to Twentieth street.

"By the construction of an interconnection at Fourteenth and Webster streets between your present [illegible] Webster street track of the S. F. O. T. Railways and the construction of tracks in Twentieth street between Webster street and Franklin street connecting the Webster street tracks of the S. F. O. T. Railways with your tracks at Twentieth and Webster streets, it would be possible for your company to route the cars from Thirteenth street to Twentieth street on Webster street and thence westerly over your present route.

"Such method of operation would relieve congestion on Franklin street, eliminate the duplication of the Webster street tracks by your Franklin street tracks from Fourteenth to Twentieth streets and would also permit your company to entirely dispose of the square block of land owned by it at Fourteenth and Franklin streets.

ECONOMY IN PLAN.

"Such an arrangement would also be advantageous to your company and the city in that it would remove the necessity of your holding the entire square block of land at Fourteenth and Franklin streets as operative property. If your right of way across this block was no longer necessary, your company could immediately place this land [illegible] pose of it."

The mayor invites Sproule to meet him in conference with Alberger. His letter to Alberger states the substance of the letter to Sproule and asks for an expression of the attitude of his company on the plan.

WILLIAMS VOTERS RECALL TRUSTEE

WILLOWS, April 4.—In a special recall election held at Williams, near here, Charles Eling, town trustee, was recalled and J. L. Mendenhall and J. L. Byrnes, also trustees, were re-elected. It was charged that the trustees were guilty of having failed to call a special sewer bond election after a petition had been filed with them by taxpayers. H. H. Cruthers was elected to succeed Eling.

$40,000 Voted For Vacaville Streets

VACAVILLE, April 4.—Vacaville's proposal to issue $40,000 in bonds for street improvements carried at yesterday's election by a vote of 244 to 38. FIFTY MILLIONS' DAMAGES ASKED IN AIRPLANE SUIT

Manufacturer Charges That Big Companies Combined to Destroy Him.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Alleging conspiracy to destroy his business, James V. Martin of the Martin Aeroplane factory, Long Island, filed suit under the Clayton act here today to recover $51,510,000 from the Manufacturers' Aircraft Association, Inc., twenty-seven other corporations and thirty-eight individuals.

The plaintiff declared his business had been damaged to the extent of $17,000,000 and under the Clayton law he claimed triple damages plus an attorney's fees of $510,000.

He charged that the defendant corporations and individuals had conspired to monopolize the aircraft trade, and told the court that whereas he had worked as a contemporary of the Wright brothers and Glenn H. Curtiss, and had invented indispensable parts of present-day aeroplanes, none of the defendants had invented any aeroplane or aeroplane device.

THREATS TO KILL CHARGED.

In furtherance of the alleged conspiracy, he charged the defendants had slandered him, burned his planes, lied about his accomplishments, destroyed government reports commending his devices and even made plans against his life.

The result, he declared, was to bring about failure of his business in England, Canada and France.

Among the individual defendants named were Benedict Crowell, former assistant secretary of war; Howard E. Coffin, Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service; Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, director of naval aviation; Sidney D. Waldon, Detroit; Edward A. Deeds, Harold E. Talbott, Jr., Charles F. Ket[illegible] Vincent, William B. Stout, both of Detroit; Richard F. Hoyt, Henry M. Crane, Benjamin F. Castle, George H. Houston, Clement M. Keys, all of New York City; Horace M. Hickam, chief of the information group of the army air service; Frank H. Russell, vice-president of the Curtiss company; Commanders Hunsaker and Krause, U. S. N.; Thurman H. Bane, E. P. Schnaeke, both of Dayton; Lester D. Gardner, Caleb S. Bragg, John K. Robinson, Jr., Samuel S. Bradley, James A. Blair, Jr., Grover C. Loening, Albert B. Loening, all of New York City; Delos C. Emmons, Dayton; Fred P. Rentschler, Patterson, N. J.; William B. Sichberz, East Greenwich, R. I.; Inglis M. Uppercu, Keyport, N. J.; Roy D. Chapin, Detroit; Major R. H. Young, U. S. A.; Howard C. Blood, Detroit, and William D. Gilmore and R. H. Fleet, both of Washington, D. C.

BIG CORPORATIONS NAMED.

The corporations named include the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, organized at Washington; Burgess company of Massachusetts; Boeing Aeroplane company of Seattle; Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor company of New York; Dayton Airplane company; Elias Brothers, Inc., Buffalo; Engel Aircraft company of Ohio; Fisher Body Corporation, Detroit; Gallaudet Aircraft Corporation, New York; Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, Akron; L. LAST RITES HELD FOR CALIFORNIA PIONEER OF 1846

John Frederick Hargrave, With Donner Party Part of Way, Is Buried.

Funeral services were held this afternoon from the family home in Dover street for John Frederick Hargrave, well-known pioneer, who as a child accompanied the Donner party some of the way on the journey to California. Hargrave died on Monday following a brief illness.

William Fowler, grandfather of Hargrave, with his two sons, William and Henry, came to the coast in the early forties, taking up a large grant of land in Napa valley, including the present site of Calistoga. In 1846 John Hargrave and his wife, Catherine Fowler Hargrave, determined to join their kinsfolk in the new district. Hargrave died on the journey, leaving his wido wand four children, of whom John Frederick was the youngest.

In the spring of 1846 the pioneers joined the Harlan party at the Platte river. Tragedy threatened when the man guarding the oxen slept and seven of the animals strayed. Through the aid of George Harlan, new animals were provided and the party continued on their way.

William Fowler, uncle of Hargrave, familiar with the country through which the passage was made, hurried his sister and her children through Bear river valley into California just ahead of the snowstorm which trapped the Donner party. They arrived in Calistoga in October, 1846.

Hargrave married Miss Julia Smith, daughter of Henry C. Smith and granddaughter of George Harlan, in Livermore in 1875. For many years he engaged in farming in the Livermore and San Ramon valleys. Later he was interested in mines in Placer county. The family home was established in Oakland in 1902.

[illegible] widow; a son, Harold F. Hargrove, and a daughter, Mrs. H. L. Drury, survive the pioneer.

Hargrave was born in Missouri in 1843.

STATION CHANGES AID FIREMEN

As a result of the remodeling of many fire houses of Oakland, Commissioner Frank Colbourn asserts he expects that the increased efficiency of the firemen, because of better living quarters, will almost pay in one year for the remodeling.

Colbourn asserts that the percentage of loss of time because of sickness in the past has been enormous. He says the quarters of many of the firemen were barns, pure and simple, and highly insanitary as human habitations.

"The engine-houses," says Colbourn, "were originally designed for horse drawn engines. There were stalls and hay lofts, and a [illegible] percentage of unpreventable dirt which has grown worse through the years. In some of our fire houses the men have been on sick-leave a great deal of the time. No provision was made for modern motor apparatus, and consequently the fire-houses have still been barns until their present remodeling."

Statistics of the fire department, says Colbourn, show an immediate ratio of efficiency where an engine-house has been remodeled and rebuilt. With a dozen now rebuilt, he says, the health of the firemen will more than pay for the cost.

New Varieties of Fish Are Found

SAN PEDRO, April 4.—Two new varieties of table fish have been discovered by local fishermen working along the coast of Lower California and along the Mexican coast, according to a statement made here by C. S. Bauder, Deputy State Fish and Game Commissioner.

The new fish are the real red snapper, similar to those found in the Gulf of Mexico [illegible] fore found on this coast, and a striped fish that has been named the Mexican bass.

All records for fishing were broken on this coast last month, the report showing that 11,310,536 pounds were brought in, the greater portion being sardines for the canneries.

Eastern Expert Voices Plea for Science in Ads

Profession Must Develop to Meet U. S. Emergency, Lunch Guests Hold.

Development of advertising along scientific lines for the ultimate solution of the perplexing marketing problems of the country was urged by Edward H. Gardiner, head of the department of markets and advertising at the University of Wisconsin and president of the National Association of Advertising Teachers, in an address before the Oakland Advertising club yesterday.

Distribution of the country's economic goods must continue to be effected through a system of open competition, and it means commercial stagnation if the people look to government regulation as a panacea for their present trade problems, Gardiner declared. Whatever ills now hamper efficient marketing may best be remedied by advertising, he said, and the advertising men of the country must develop their profession to meet the emergency.

Gardiner quoted Frank Vanderlip, the eminent financier, and other men of national repute to illustrate how an adverse opinion to advertising was growing as the result of unethical practices.

"I wish there were no such thing as advertising," Vanderlip told him.

"You are polluting the minds of your students when you teach them advertising," said a former president of a national advertising organization.

Gardiner answered the accusations with the statement that the University of Wisconsin did not consider advertising "hokum" and "bunk," but a profession that must be supplied with an ethical code similar to that of the medical and legal professions.

"Advertising is the greatest implement that has been forged to produce the needs of a complex society," declared the professor. "All national projects and large municipal and corporation deals would be impossible without advertising."

He concluded his address with an appeal for advertising men to [illegible] knowledge that is to be found in the colleges of the country in order to lift the profession from a state of 'guess work' to one of science.

ACTION TAKEN ON RE-ZONING PLAN

ALAMEDA, April 4.—[illegible] of the present zoning ordinance which was voted upon favorably by the people of the city at the municipal election March 13 was contained in a communication received from Andre Fourchy, [illegible] of the Civil Rights league of this city, and read before the meeting of the city council.

Fourchy, who is a property holder near the site of the proposed hospital at Willow street and Clinton avenue, also appeared in person and asked the council to "respect the wishes of tax payers and see that the set-back lines, as set forth in the new zoning [illegible] strictly adhered to and that the hospital, when constructed, is placed back some distance from the street."

Dr. W. B. Stephens replied to Fourchy by saying every possible consideration would be shown property holders in the neighborhood and the building set back as far as the depth of the lot would permit.

The council gave a first reading to an ordinance which will reclassify the property involved and make the way clear for the construction of the hospital. The ordinance will come up for passage at the next meeting.

G. A. R. PLANNING ENCAMPMENT AT MODESTO IN MAY

Department of California-Nevada Sets 56th Annual Meeting.

MODESTO, April 4.—The fifty-sixth annual encampment of the California-Nevada Department Grand Army of the Republic, will open here May 14 for a week. Department headquarters will be in the Modesto Hotel.

The program for the sessions, announced by George W. Ficks, assistant adjutant general, includes the following items:

A meeting of the council of administration will convene at 2 o'clock the 14th. The first session of the encampment will be held Tuesday, May 15, at 1:30 p. m., when officers will be installed. Wednesday the annual parade will be held, starting at 10 a. m. The afternoon will be devoted to sightseeing. Thursday evening the Spanish War Veterans will hold a campfire in honor of Modesto's guests. Friday evening the citizens will give a campfire at the courthouse, with competitive drills and a band concert.

Magazine Corrected On Snow Expedition

In appreciation of a recent big illustrated article on the Snow African game trip, Mayor Davie today sent the following letter to Travel magazine at New York:

"I noted with a great deal of pleasure the amount of space in the March issue of your magazine given over to pictures of the Snow African expedition. I also noted what you state concerning the fact that this expedition left San Francisco some three years ago for the purpose of collecting museum specimens.

"I believe it will be of interest to you to know that this party was known officially as the Oakland Museum Expedition, and that they were collecting specimens of African natural life for the Oakland museum.

"The city of Oakland has expended $215,000 in the purchase of land for a site on which to erect a new museum building for the express purpose of housing the Snow collection. All the groups of animals which appear in the motion picture film are to be mounted in a natural setting in this museum. When completed we believe that the Oakland museum will be unsurpassed in the United States for completeness of exhibits and for possibilities of showing to the people of this city and of the West conditions of natural life in Africa."

YOUNG BURGLAR, TAKEN, ADMITS THREE ESCAPES

BERKELEY, April 4.—With three escapes from officers already on his record, Howard Upton, alias Leonard Van Buren, young burglar, boasts from a cell at Berkeley police station that he will outrival Roy Gardner, notorious bandit, before he finished his career.

Upton was captured by Officer O. W. Wilson of the Berkeley police department in an attempt to rob the home of Mrs. Paul Robinson, 1816 Escondido avenue. Taken to police station and placed on the lie detector, Upton was discovered to have a long record as a burglar and jailbreaker.

At the time of his arrest in Berkeley he was being sought by officers in all parts of the state for escaping from a deputy sheriff on March 10, when he was being taken from San Bernardino to Folsom after having escaped from the Redding jail in the northern part of the state. Although his hands and feet were heavily manacled and he was clad only in underclothes, Upton made his escape from a speeding train. Nothing more was heard of him until he was captured in Berkeley.

LOCKS UP GUARDS

At the time of his get-away in San Bernardino, Upton was being returned to jail following a spectacular escape at Redding, where he with other prisoners was working on a road gang. He locked guards and prisoners in the Redding jail and successfully eluded posses and officers organized to capture him. His first escape, according to his confession and police records, was in 1918, when he jumped on the running board of an automobile as it was passing through the gates at San Quentin, and under threats of death forced the autoist to drive him to safety.

Although declaring he is only 23 years of age, Upton has a criminal career dating back to 1915, when he was sent to the Preston reform school at Ione for burglary. In 1917 he was sentenced to San Quentin on another burglary charge and since that time, according to his own statements and those of officers, he has led the police of the state a merry chase not only for the crimes he has committed, but by his ability to escape his captors.

Upton was captured in Thousand Oaks after Mrs. E. Z. Pike, 181 Yosemite avenue, had informed the police that she had seen a man enter the Robinson residence. Although the capture took place last Friday night, Berkeley police have been keeping the incident secret in an effort to get a co-worker with Upton, who is declared to have escaped from the Robinson home. Upton effected entrance to the Robinson home by climbing a tree and jumping to a sleeping porch. He secured $200 in jewelry which was found on his person.

CONFESSES THEFTS

Placed on the lie detector, Upton also admitted entering the home of H. G. Frost, 44 Oakvale avenue, Berkeley, on March 27, where he secured $500 in jewelry. He declared he came to Berkeley in an automobile stolen from Clarence Slade, 32 Monte Vista avenue, Oakland, which he said broke down at Webster and Claremont avenues, where he abandoned it. Upton has been residing at the Oregon rooming house, 1912 Fillmore street, San Francisco, where more than $500 in loot was found. He has been formally charged with burglary in Berkeley and the police believe that jobs other than those to which he has confessed will be traced to him.

Young Broker and Bride on Auto Tour

RENO, Nev., April 4 (By International News Service).—Mrs. Ethel Painter Hood, prominent society woman of Baltimore, Md., and James Hyland Kuhns, a Baltimore broker, were on their way to San Francisco today for a three weeks' honeymoon tour of California by automobile following their marriage here last night.

Mrs. Hood was recently awarded a divorce from J. M. Hood Jr., Baltimore capitalist, after she had charged extreme cruelty on his part, testifying that he beat her on many occasions, insulted her publicly and abused the children. Mrs. Hood was given the custody of her two daughters, Mary Caroline, 10, and Ethel, 15, the other [illegible] in the care of the father.

In taking out the marriage license Kuhns gave his age as 21 and that of Mrs. Hood as "over 21." He said he would enter business here and they would make Reno their permanent home.

LINCOLN HIGHWAY TO BRING 225,000 TO WEST COAST

Estimate of the Travel This Summer Is Made by A. F. Bement.

DETROIT, April 4. — Sixty thousand autos will travel from coast to coast over the Lincoln highway the coming summer season, according to an estimate made today by A. F. Bement, vice-president of the Lincoln Highway association. This means that about 225,000 persons will travel over the highway between April 20 and October 25, as compared to about half that number last season.

Bement, who bases his prediction on the countrys increased prosperity and the great improvement in the roads throughout the country, said:

"With the exception of a few places, the 3300 miles of highway is in excellent condition. For 300 miles across Iowa to Omaha, the road is mostly gravel, but about 100 miles of graded dirt is bad when wet. From Omaha, for 500 miles across Nebraska to Cheyenne, Wyo. the road is mostly fine gravel. There is a rough stretch east of Rock Springs and another one west of Green River.

"The only real difficulty likely to be encountered by tourists is between Salt Lake City and Ely, Nev., on the great Salt Lake desert, for a distance of 17 miles, which is bad when wet.

"The route across Nevada will be in good condition, as much new work will be completed in another week. The road is rough east and west of Austin, Nev., and just east of Eureka, Nev.

"From Reno over the Placerville summit of the Sierras a new road will be opened May 15 and from Summit to Oakland, Cal., the road is nearly all paved with concrete."

Nanny's Milk Must Pay for Elaborate Meal

How long will it take a goat to pay, in buckets of goat's milk, for a meal consisting of a $175 fur coat, one shoe and one silk stocking?

This is the question that, presumably, is today troubling the mind of an hitherto carefree Nanny goat that is held a prisoner in the back yard of John Keegan, 3129 Courtland avenue.

Until yesterday Nanny, whose ownership, if any, is unknown, was free to go and come as she pleased,—and, thanks to her simple tastes and the fondness of the present generation for canned goods, was able to pick up a comfortable living from back yards and vacant lots. Yesterday, while Mrs. Keegan was away from the house a few minutes, Nanny wandered through the Keegan back door, and there, tempted beyond her strength, she abandoned the simple habits of a lifetime and indulged in an orgy of high living. Mrs. Geegan returned in time to find her smacking her lips over Mrs. Keegan's fur coat, after having disposed of two previous courses consisting of one of Mrs. Keegan's buckled slippers and one of her silk stockings.

It was at that point that Nanny's free, Gypsy life ended for an indefinite period, for Keegan's verdict, on learning of Nanny's dissipation at his expense, was that she should pay for it with the only means at her disposal—milk—and that she should remain a prisoner in his yard until her debt is settled. Nanny is now undergoing regular milkings and the value of each is credited to her as a payment on account. But there is a long way to go, and Keegan has not yet figured out how long it will be before Nanny is free again.

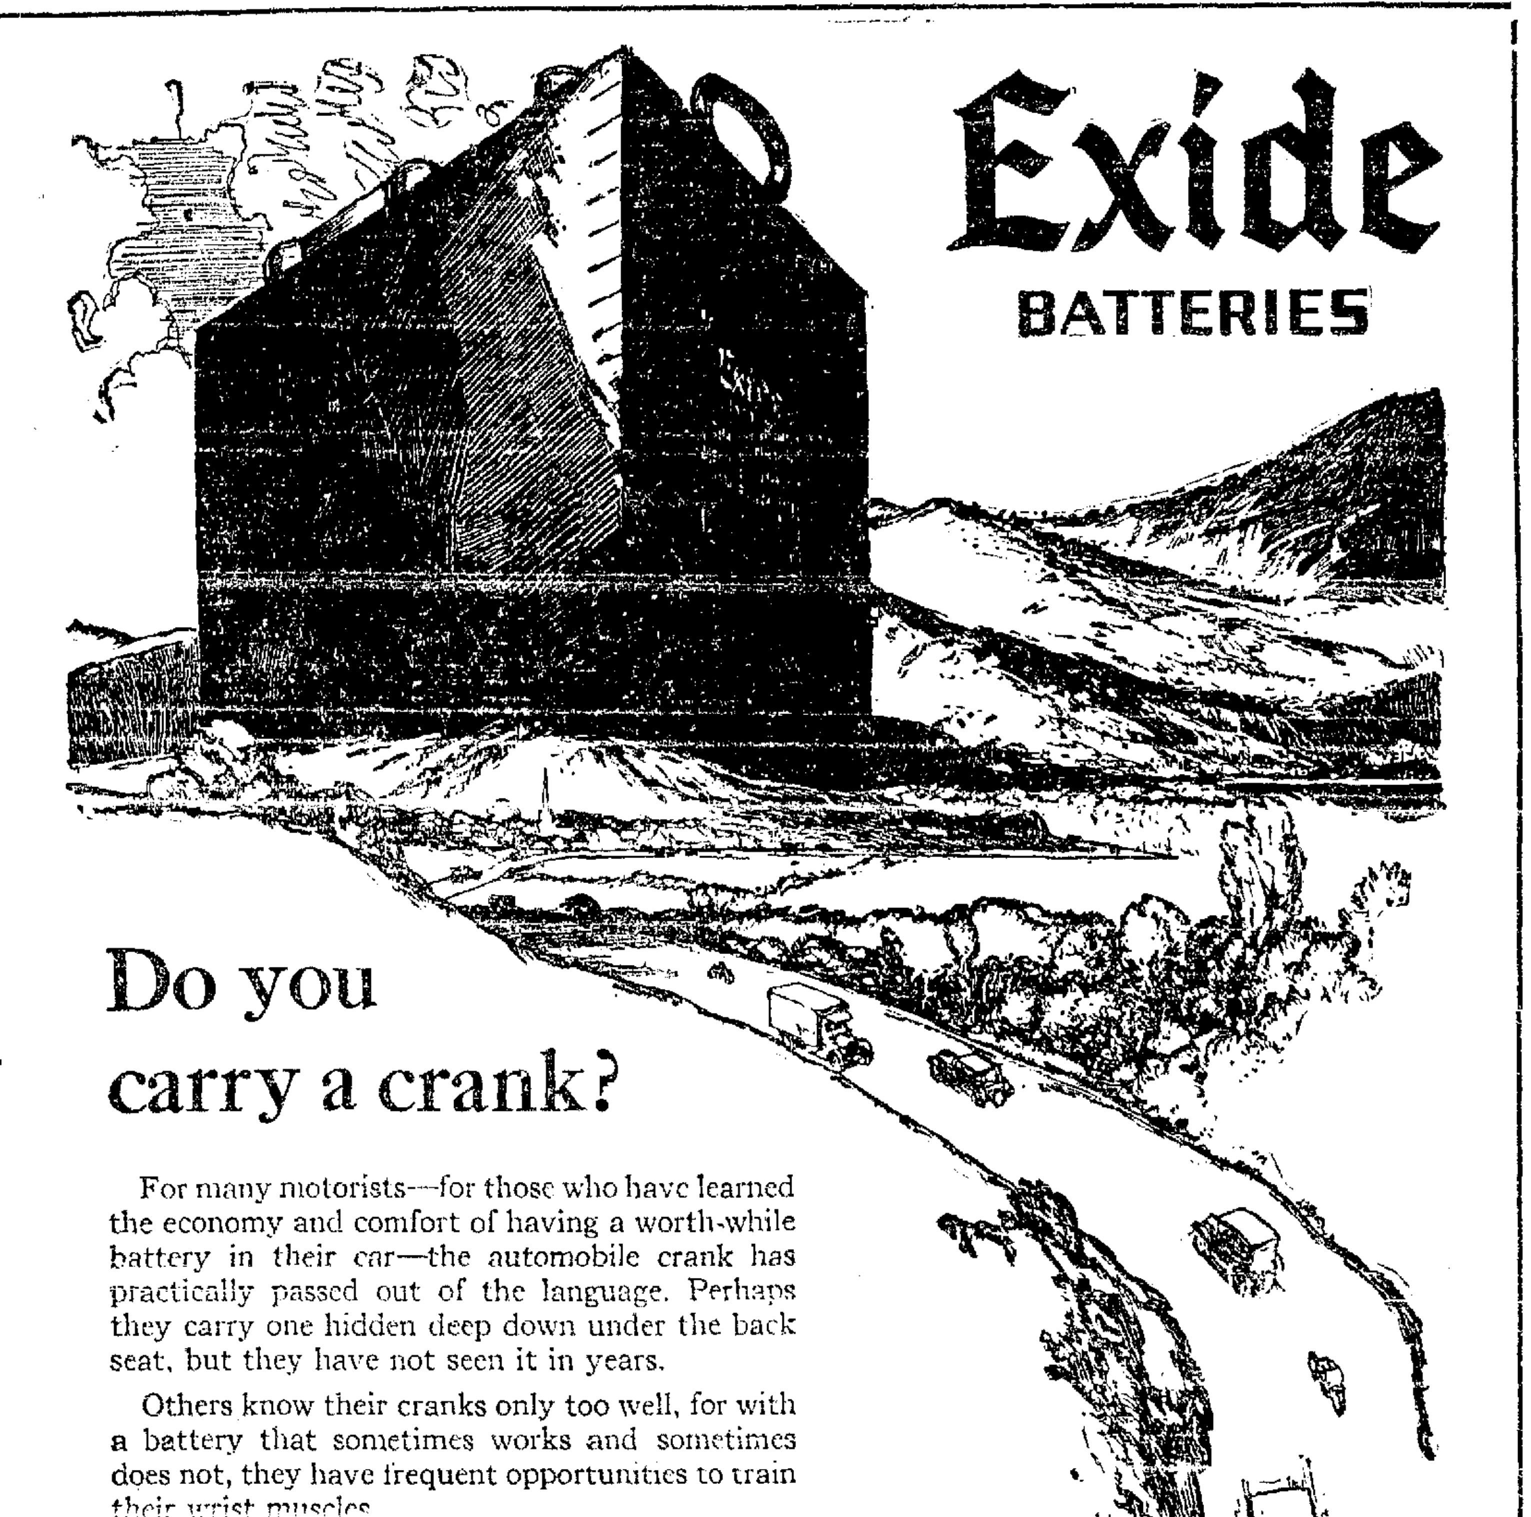
BATTERIES



Do you carry a crank?

For many motorists—for those who have learned the economy and comfort of having a worth-while battery in their car—the automobile crank has practically passed out of the language. Perhaps they carry one hidden deep down under the back seat, but they have not seen it in years.

Others know their cranks only too well, for with a battery that sometimes works and sometimes does not, they have frequent opportunities to train their wrist muscles.

The comfort of knowing your electric starter is going to work every time, the security of being sure that your lights will illuminate the road ahead the moment you switch them on—these are the joys of having a battery on which you can always depend.

The proof of experience

If you own an Exide, you know these joys. If not, and you make inquiry, you will find that in earning its reputation as the long-life battery Exide has given satisfaction to millions of automobile owners in all parts of the world.

Sturdily built, Exide has the rugged power to outlast any other battery. That is what makes it economy for you to own one. When your battery needs to be replaced, drive to the nearest Exide Service Station and get the right size Exide for your car.

PARTHENEIA'S ANNUAL SHOW TO BE COLORFUL

Unless Rain Spoils Plans the Pageant Will Be Held Tomorrow, Friday.

BERKELEY, April 4.—Unless April showers spoil their plans, the annual Partheneia of women students of the University of California will be staged tomorrow and Friday in Faculty Glade on the campus.

If it rains the co-eds will collect $3500 insurance and will make arrangements for two future dates when old Sol smiles through the clouds.

Everything is in readiness for the colorful pageant of maidenhood—this year titled "A Thing of Dust." A dress rehearsal was held yesterday in Faculty Glade under the direction of Irving Pichel, who has charge of the masque, and with Miss Anita Avila supervising the dancing. Oriental in tone, the masque will be unusually colorful with a series of attractive dances interspersing the weaving of the story. To Miss Laura Wickham will fall the role of the princess who scorns conventionality and defies the gods to walk alone on life's path. She is allowed the choice of a companion, and the selection of her guide forms the plot of the story.

The old theme of the evolution from maidenhood to womanhood is worked out in "A Thing of Dust." In her role Miss Wickham personifies "All Maidenhood." Among the dancers in the play will be the Misses Dorothy Damianakes, Anita Avila, Eileen Eyre, Virginia Byrne, Gladys Crabtree and Dexter Harding.

The masque, unless rain interferes, will begin at 3 o'clock tomorrow. There will be both reserved and unreserved seats.

Eggs in Britain to Bear Stamp of Origin

LONDON, April 4.—Every egg sold in England will be stamped with the country of origin, if the plans of various housewives' organizations to put such a bill through Parliament are successful.

Much interest has been aroused in London recently by the declaration of the National Poultry Council that only about ten per cent of the eggs sold as new laid eggs comes from the provinces of England. It has been shown that huge quantities of eggs are shipped into England every year from Holland, China and Egypt, are mixed with other eggs, and sold as native eggs. Because the foreign eggs are of a better color and larger than English eggs, it is said the retailers are able to sell them more readily than English eggs.

'THING OF DUST' NOT INSULT TO FLIVVER, BUT AID

BERKELEY, April 4.—Suppose you were the owner of a several-years-old flivver, which you had neglected to wash for some time, and after having left it parked on Telegraph avenue you returned to it to find a group of laughing young U. C. co-eds pasting on its windshield a label reading, "A Thing of Dust"—what would you do about it?

What one man did last night under these circumstances was to raise such a disturbance that a policeman came running to the scene. There he found several pretty co-eds trying to get in a word edgewise while the indignant car owner loudly demanded to know what was the idea, and what they meant by insulting the machine.

With the aid of the policeman the girls succeeded in explaining to the irate motorist that "A Thing of Dust" did not refer to the flivver, but is the name of this year's Partheneia. They were members, they said, of the show's publicity committee, and were headed by Miss Gretchen Kyne, the committee chairman. The motorist subsided, and the girls went on sticking up posters.

40 YEARS OF CHARITY TO BE CELEBRATED

ALAMEDA, April 4. — Forty years of charity work will be fittingly observed tomorrow afternoon by the Alameda Ladies' Relief Society which will celebrate the fortieth anniversary of its founding with a reception and entertainment. The affair will be held in the Unity Circle hall on Grand street between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock.

A program of music and vocal selections will be given to be concluded by the reading of a paper written by the president, Mrs. Henry Hacke, which will give a complete history of the organization. The article will be read by Mrs. H. O. McCoy, recording secretary.

The officers who will act as a reception committee include Mrs. Henry Hacke, president; Mrs. Dora Werner, vice-president; Mrs. H. O. McCoy, recording secretary; Mrs. Theodore Altonn, financial secretary; Mrs. G. Earle Kelly, treasurer; directors, Mrs. Chris Megeot, Mrs. Elizabeth Groub and Mrs. Adolph Scheizel.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister — Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia). 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

GANG OF RUFFIANS KIDNAPS, BEATS, DESERTS WOMAN

Restaurant Owner Victim in Revenge for Fraud Laid to Girl.

LOS ANGELES, April 4 (United Press).—Kidnaped by a gang of ruffians, beaten, tied and given warning to leave town after being thrown out of the machine at a lonely orange grove, Mrs. Louise Collins of Santa Fe Springs early today struggled from her bonds and appealed to the sheriff's office for help.

A widespread dragnet has been thrown out for the five men who perpetrated the kidnaping. The hunt is being led by two squads of deputy sheriffs in machines, armed with sawed-off shotguns.

Mrs. Collins said the men cursed her and ordered her to get out of town, claiming she had mistreated a girl who had worked for her as a waitress and had been discharged.

OUSTED GIRL BLAMED.

"This girl, after her discharge, told a man she owned a part of the restaurant, sold it to him and disappeared," Mrs. Collins told officers. "When he came around and tried to take possession of the property and found he had been swindled, he seemed to blame my husband and myself. The girl was discharged because of the attentions which were being paid to her by a known bootlegger. We didn't want him around.

"The leader of the party issued the orders.

"'We'll teach you to defraud innocent girl," he said.

"I tried to tell them I wasn't guilty, but they went on talking like a judge and jury.

"'It is the order of this body that you leave Santa Fe Springs by 6 o'clock Thursday evening,' the leader said. 'We'll give you that long to sell your restaurant and get out.' Then he hit me on the head twice with a club, saying it was just to show me he meant business.

DESERTED IN GROVE.

"They finally stopped, dragged me out into an orange grove, hit me over the head again and drove away, leaving me tied with the sack still around my head.

"I finally wriggled loose and ran to the nearest road. I stopped an automobile, asked a man to take me to the nearest telephone, which he did, and I informed the sheriff's office."

Collins, who resides with his wife at Whittier, and who works in the restaurant during the day, became alarmed when his wife did not appear and had already telephoned the sheriff's offices at Santa Ana and Los Angeles.

A Multitude of Women Recommend It

The strongest recommendation possible for any medicine to have is the sound testimony borne by the vast multitudes of women who have used it. It has been proved that 98 out of every 100 women once ill with ailments that caused suffering and despair have been restored to the joys of health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This marvelous record shows its power over the ills of women and the letters of recommendation we are continually publishing in this paper should induce every ailing woman to try it.—Advertisement.

Auto Wreck Kills Paso Robles Man

KING CITY, April 4.—Frank Tihart was almost instantly killed and Frank Valla was slightly hurt at 5 o'clock Monday evening when a car in which they were southbound to their homes at Paso Robles skidded on the wet pavement five miles south of San Ardo and upset. Tihart's skull was crushed when he was caught beneath the wreck. He was an employee of the Shell Oil Company. An inquest was held here by Coroner J. A. Cornett, of Salinas.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

BOTHERED WITH DRY ECZEMA

On Palms Of Hands Six Years. Cuticura Heals.

"My sister was troubled with dry eczema on the palms of her hands. She was bothered with it for about six years. It caused the skin to crack and peel off, and sometimes they used to bleed. Soapy water made her hands worse.

"She used several different remedies without any results. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and she noticed a great improvement from the first. She purchased more and in four months she was healed." (Signed) Miss Opal L. Crossley, Atascadero, Calif., Aug. 18, 1922.

OAKLAND AND CHINA.

For years China has been the favorite subject of study and discourse for Julean Arnold. At the time of the Foreign Trade Conference in San Francisco when the experts of a number of nations met to discuss the opportunities offered to American trade with the opening up of the Orient, Julean Arnold was the leading speaker and his subject was China. That meeting stimulated on the Pacific Coast a new consideration of China's possibilities. It was responsible for a number of constructive moves on the part of Oakland men of capital.

Chinese politics boiled over and armies marched up and down looking for President or General. With the feeling that the internal disturbances had set back the chances for development men on the Coast allowed their interest to slacken. Now, when the time is at hand again, for an American encouragement of Chinese expansion and Chinese prosperity Julean Arnold has paid another visit to Oakland.

As a result of that visit thousands of persons have a new idea of things Chinese. The one who has spoken slightingly of the culture of the old nation across the Pacific will not do so again. The business man who has become impatient because there is not the same immediate response to suggestion in China he expects in this country will consider the fortunes which have come to those who have sought to understand the Chinese nature and to adapt their sales methods to the country.

Overproduction can harm this country more than underproduction. It is what throws men out of work, lowers prices and occasions distress. In China is the market of the future; in China, where remarkable development is expected in the next ten years, is the field for American vision and American trade. The whole country is looking to China and to the Pacific Coast to take the initiative in making the most of opportunity. That is why Julean Arnold is out here now.

Mr. Arnold has studied his subject long enough to love it. He knows that Americans should not only recognize the trade chances in China but should learn to understand Chinese culture and methods. The friendly relations which may exist in the years to come should be based on something more than buying and selling. To that end Mr. Arnold spoke to the Chamber of Commerce, the school teachers and the students. He is urging upon the Pacific Coast a program which includes with business an understanding and an appreciation of China and the Chinese.

The visit and the message of Mr. Arnold are of greater moment to Oakland than any other city, for it is the opinion of this foremost ex- [illegible] that this city will be the great industrial center at the gateway to that Pacific commerce which is to become greater than the trade of the Atlantic.

PREPAREDNESS IN THE AIR.

Over in England men and journals are discussing the "air menace" of France. The major concern, no longer, is that of dreadnaughts and cruisers, although they are being modernized in every way, but of fighting aircraft. France has 2520 planes in military service and 508 operating commercially. The estimate of the British upkeep for the air forces over there for this year is about $90,420,300, an indication that England does not intend to occupy any but first place in the air. Our own aerial strength, in modern planes, is a little more than one-tenth that of France.

J. Mayhew Wainwright, retiring Assistant Secretary of War, recently rendered a report describing the situation of the Air Service in the United States as critical. The war momentum which was responsible for its existence during the past few years is practically spent. Within one year, at the present rate of expenditure, the Army will have 650 airplanes of which only 200 will be of modern equipment.

It is not surprising that an organization is seeking to stimulate interest in aeronautics just as the Navy League works in the program for an adequate [illegible] The National Aeronautic Association is seeking membership in a country-wide campaign, it is asking those members to help arouse Congress to an understanding of the facts of aviation.

As the argument of the Association has been stated, the aeronautic industry has proved up, if the records of speed, endurance, distance and altitude mean anything. It can supply the best equipment known, and yet is languishing for lack of reasonable stimulation, which the government alone can supply through orders for aircraft. The Association does not believe the development will come without the government taking the initiative and it believes the situation is critical.

SPEAKS FOR LEAGUE.

Lord Robert Cecil, sincere advocate of the League of Nations, is a visitor in this country. Perhaps it was inevitable that this visit should be called by some another attempt of a man from across the Atlantic to tell Americans what and how to think. Those who make this statement do so without having read any of Lord Robert Cecil's speeches and without taking the man's purposes and disposition into consideration.

Frankly the former Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs of Great Britain, is here to learn and to exchange views. He is so thoroughly convinced as to the place of the League in world affairs that he has not been able to understand the opposition of this country. A lack of an understanding of this opposition, it would seem from his utterances, has not meant a refusal to grant it a hearing or accord it respect.

By his association with the League of Nations, his knowledge of what it has done, and his views of a place which should be its in the future, Lord Cecil is qualified to speak for the League and for a large part of British sentiment. He takes the position that no League can be complete without this country and no league, international court, or agreement can be effective until the United States and England understand each other's views. This being the case, he says, he wishes to understand the position of Americans and to tell them what the League proponents believe.

Whatever the results, the discussion which will come out of Lord Cecil's visit cannot fail but add to the general understanding of the subject.

THE SEASON OPENS.

The baseball season is on again. The sturdy Oaks step out of the training camp and bushes into the box scores. Men all over the city discover they can finish their day's work by 3 o'clock, small boys break speed records from school to park, and all the old knot holes in the fence are claiming their rightful proprietors.

This year, of course, the Oaks are better than ever. There is not a doubt in the world but they will win the pennant. The fans point to what they did to the Chicago Cubs, to the fielding and hitting records of the training season, to the signs and the evident fatigue of the jinx. Certainly, the Oaks will win the pennant.

All over the country men are saying the same thing of their home town team. Peculiarly the teams which win the pennants come from those cities wherein this community backing is strongest. The baseball team unites all races and creeds for a common cause, stimulates civic loyalty and is a great boon to the peanut and soda-pop market. It makes for lusty lung-clearing yells, for training at repartee, vicarious exercise, and the pleasures of participation, even as onlookers, in a contest.

Women archers at the University of California are sending their arrows into the fields where mere man practices baseball and there is a loud complaint. The conservative solution would seem to be that, as heretofore young Cupid has performed the services acceptably, these first hand measures might well be squelched.

[illegible] has received advice on how to vote on the 200 bills awaiting attention and one some of the bills each has received hundreds of suggestions. The information is advanced for the consoling effect upon those persons who ran for the Assembly or Senate and were not elected.

AMERICAN ATHLETES ABROAD.

The two Americans, W. P. Mellen and R. K. Kane, who rowed Saturday in the first Oxford crew to be victorious over Cambridge since 1913, proved their finer in what appears to have been a great race. Until half way to the end no daylight showed between the two shells, and for the greater part of the four and a quarter miles the Cambridge oarsmen were never more than a length behind Oxford.

Reports of the race give a large share of the credit for the victory to Mellen, the first American boy to stroke on Oxford crew against Cambridge. Guy Nickalls, famous Oxford Blue, who once was coach at Yale, thinks that Mellen has made his name as "one of the finest strokes of our generation."

Although the stroke is frequently one of the lightest men in the shell, Mellen, with his 155 pounds, falls below the average weight. He must pack unusual endurance and determination in a comparatively slight frame. Four and a quarter miles is a killing course, a quarter of a mile longer than our crews row at Poughkeepsie and New London. Yet Mellen finished in good condition, while the Cambridge stroke, ten pounds heavier than he, collapsed completely when his boat crossed the line.

Every new link in international sport is a good thing. There is as much understanding of other nations to be had on the track and field as there is in commerce or diplomatic exchanges.—New York Herald.

The LANTERN

COPYRIGHT 1922

May Happe writes us as follows:

"The flair for the occult and the esoteric that has taken possession of the United States impresses me as a curious phenomenon.

"The contemplation of these cults of mysticism gives me the sensation that I might have on witnessing the nuptials of the Taj Mahal and the Albert Memorial.

"Or coming across Hamlet reading the magazine of Wall Street on the steps of the Tribune Building.

"Or finding La Giaconda with her nose flattened against a department store show window.

"Or watching a traffic cop, off duty, gulp down whole chapters of 'Amiel's Diary.'

"Or partaking of chicken a la Maryland served on a Gubbio lustre platter.

"Or drinking a cocktail consisting in equal parts of Vermouth, coca cola, benedictine and Lydia Pinkham's Compound.

"Or running into the Blessed Damozel selling popcorn and mouse traps.

"Or reading an appreciation of 'The Lantern' typed on a portable typewriter by Walter Pater."

The last sentence strikes us as especially incongruous. Mr. Pater would undoubtedly write of "The Lantern" on flutes of silver with a style of gold.

The following strikes us as being of the same general school as that of our own Fothergil Finch:

W. B. Bryan gives us the real dope on Mehitabel the Cat, who has fooled us for so long, as follows:

"The claims of Mehitabel the Cat concerning her Egyptian ancestry seem to be the result of an atavistic imagination stirred up by the recent rush of archaeologists into the Egyptian tombs. For upon reading I Chronicles i, 50, I discover that Mehitabel was the daughter of Matred and the wife of Hadad who reigned in Pai. This is also called Pau (bleating of sheep) Genesis xxxvi, 39, a town of Edom. Matred means driving forward which quality was apparently inherited by her daughter, Mehitabel, changing her from a lovable alley cat into a social climber."

Chicago News: "During his first term every American president is an anomaly—he is at once the nation's chief executive and also a potential candidate who feels that he must modify his conduct more or less to fit his aspirations for re-election. Presidents, though merely human, should be presidents and nothing else."

Kansas City Star: "Secretary [illegible] hundred Russians detained at Ellis Island be admitted to the United States. We suppose it's all right, but apprehend the first thing they will do when admitted will be to tell us how to run our government."

Kansas City Star: "In spite of the fun that is made of sloganeers and name specialists, the business of thinking up names for commercial articles seems to be a good one the year round. It now is evident that the fellow who spent all summer naming apartment houses and country clubs has put in a profitable winter putting the same names on the spring styles in men's hats."

Detroit Free Press: "If the pro-leaguers want to convert the remainder of the world, the thing for them to do is to get busy and see that their pet organization steps in and settles the Ruhr difficulties."

Seattle Times: "Senator Hiram Johnson, now touring Europe, announces that it will depend upon the comforts of travel whether he visits Russia. Perhaps the senator wishes to ascertain if the United States is still sending food there."

Medford Mail-Tribune: "Some of the court decisions are enough to start a civil war. A Michigan judge has ruled that the United States government has the right to ask European agitators what they are raising hell about in this country."

Brooklyn Eagle: "If 'Freedom shrieked when Kosciusko fell,' Freedom had had high hopes when the arms of Tadeusz were consecrated and he was made dictator at Cracow March 24, 1794. The Poles in America celebrating the 129th anniversary of this event had a right to do so in a cheerful mood. Their country is free today, and more or less prosperous."

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

Sutter county is going at a solu- [illegible] lems in a practical manner. Its prosperity depends largely upon its peach crop and that crop has come to be measured in late years by the success with which seasonal farm laborers can be secured to help in picking and moving it. The county chamber of commerce is now setting itself to the task of bringing a large labor supply by providing comfortable living quarters for this temporary but necessary population. — Sacramento Union.

Some people rave because the choo-choo cars make a lot of unnecessary noise after the midnight hour. There are also some people who rave when that street sweeper begins his daily grind. It's funny, too, he does all his work in the silent parts of town where nobody sleeps before midnight and after midnight starts working where everybody sleeps.—Merced Star.

Pilferers of flowers are causing considerable annoyance to property owners in certain parts of Visalia, it being reported that various sorts of bulb flowers appear to be much in demand among night prowlers. —Visalia Times.

Frank Barber's dog, his faithful friend and boon companion, has been poisoned. Not much loss, you say? But it is to Frank. If you lost the dearest treasure of your life you'd think it a tragedy, wouldn't you? In this instance the loss of a pet animal is a real loss.— [illegible]

Action by the Department of Justice in its sweeping attack on fake oil stock promoters is being backed by other departments of the federal government. Texas, where most of the grafters make their headquarters, is the first field to be invaded by government agents. Those who have sold worthless paper, and who have been sending dreamy literature through the mails are to be placed under arrest.—Hanford Sentinel.

Jason and his adventuring Argonauts furnished, no doubt, a tremendous thrill to watchers along that Thessalian harbor shore, when he steered his many-oared ship out to see. That thrill was a mild and insignificant thing, though, compared to what we should get next July, when the ZR-1—four city blocks in length—casts off her moorings here and goes roaring away to the northward, bound on the latest and most spectacular of human explorations.—San Diego Union.

Jacinto Benavente (not a cigar, but the name of the Spanish author who has written and staged 80 plays) visits America. He says our blood-and-thunder movies and stage melodramas are "intellectual bull-fights." Think it over. Maybe we've been too harsh with the cruel sport of the Spaniards. Mental cruelty is as evil as the real thing. [illegible]

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

PURPOSE.

Not for high place or fame alone,
Not for the riches men desire,
Is this brief space of years we own.
If this were all, the race would tire.

Men would grow weary of the strife
If to possession they were chained,
And could not see throughout this life
More than the medals to be gained.

Were there no sweeter joys than greed,
No deeper happiness than fame,
No goal beyond the present need,
Life were no better than a game.

The flag would fall, the race would die,
The home be stripped of sentiment,
And broken every family tie
If all our years for gain were spent.

'Tis not for gold the race is strong,
'Tis not alone for fame we toil,
We live and strive and move along
For something Time can never spoil.

There's a purpose for our care
Although but vague and dim it seems,
A reason for the ills we bear,
And each man sees it in his dreams.

Beyond the gold, above the fame,
And every flag that is unfurled,
Past hills of joy and pits of shame
Men mark the progress of the world.

And so we count it sweet to live
And good to play the role of man,
Glad in the knowledge that we give
Our little to the greater plan.

Reduced Rates.

Mrs. M. had arrived at the little station in Vermont on a cold stormy evening and had hired an old man to drive her to her friend's farm up among the hills. The roads were in bad condition from the storm, and the ride was altogether a very uncomfortable one. "How much do I owe you?" she asked on arriving at her destination. "Well, ma'am," said the old man, "my regular price is a dollar, but seein' as it's such a bad night and the goin' so terrible, I'll call it seventy-five cents."—The Christian Register (Boston).

Need Sleep.

Among the members of a fashionably country club are a doctor and a minister, who delight in the exchange of repartee.

As they met one day the ministe. observed that he was "going to read to old Cunningham," adding (as he was aware that the old man was a patient of his friend, the doctor): "Is he any worse?"

With the gravest of expressions the physician replied:

"He needs your help more than mine."

Off his guard, the minister asked anxiously: "Poor fellow, is it as bad as that?"

"Yes; he is suffering from insomnia."—Living Church.

LINIMENT.

Although I usually say what I think and think what I say, I handn't the courage to omit liniment from the medicine cupboard. The word liniment means to smear: that is what I think of liniment in general. Still I am not wholly unmindful of the thrill one gets from putting some smelly liniment on the lame or aching spot. I can still recall the joy of grandma's soap and sugar poultice on a stone bruise.

For aches and pains in the muscles or joints one of the most comforting liniments is a mixture of equal parts of oil of wintergreen or oil of birch and olive oil, which may be applied with prolonged rubbing as desired, if there is no very acute inflammation. Of course when there is much inflammation rubbing or manipulation of the inflamed part is unwise.

The rubbing or massage is the explanation of any relief or benefit obtained from most liniments. A certain amount of temporary mitigation of pain is sometimes obtained by counter irritation. That means, as nearly as I can explain it, burning or blistering one's back, for instance, to distract one's attention from a pain in the tummy. Many liniments burn or irritate sufficiently to distract attention from aches or pains which are not very severe. And a third way in which liniments may do good or harm is through the absorption of certain drugs into the system when they are applied to the skin. This absorption is not necessarily through the skin, however. In fact physiology teaches that there is practically no absorption through the skin. The systematic effects of various medicines applied to the skin depend rather on the fact that the medicines are of volatile character and are volatized by the body warmth and inhaled. At any rate, alcoholic solutions of medicines, the common form in liniments, are absolutely not absorbed by the skin. Nevertheless, as I have already said, some medicines applied in liniments do exert a systemic effect, however absorbed.

It is immaterial whether a liniment be liquid or solidified. Solidified liniment, melting to liquid at the warmth of the body, has the advantage of convenience and cleanliness and is therefore much used nowadays. Solidified liniment may be kept in the most cleanly container, the collapsible tube, or in a jar or box if contamination is not to be feared. Several formulas achieved popularity. One called analgesic balm, with numerous variations on the title, consists of oil of wintergreen or artificial oil of wintergreen (methyl salicylate), with menthol, incorporated in a base of lanolin and petrolatum or lanolin alone. This is used as an application for neuralgic pain, muscle and joint soreness or pain, and aches and pains in general. When using it, be careful to keep it out of the eyes. Another popular formula for solidified liniment is either an improvement or an aggravation of analgesic balm, for it contains also some capsicum to give it pep and some belladonna which tends to allay spasm or cramp. This is about the best formula I know:

Menthol	3 grains
Oil of wintergreen.......	20 drops
Extract of belladona....	20 grains
Lanolin	6 drams
Petrolatum, enough to make	1 ounce
Fluid extract of capsicum	20 drops

Keep in a collapsible tube.

Seems So.

DEATH AUTO IS SHOWN TO ALLEN JURY

Jurors View Bloodstains On Car in Which Dealer Is Alleged to Have Been Slain; Sheriff On Stand

The viewing by the jury of an automobile, in which it is alleged that Walter Dowdy, Palo Alto automobile dealer, was killed, and the appearance of Sheriff George Lyle, of San Jose, star witness for the prosecution, were today's features of the trial of Harry Allen, charged with the murder of Dowdy.

The prosecution has charged that Allen tricked Dowdy into taking a trip with him in the automobile in question on December 21, 1922 and that during the course of the journey Allen beat Dowdy to death with a hand ax.

The automobile, which has been at the county garage for several weeks, was shown to the jury at the garage, several bloodstains on the exterior and interior of the car being shown.

SHERIFF ON STAND.

Sheriff Lyle took the stand after several minor witnesses had been called by the prosecution. He told of a conversation he had will Allen at San Jose on December 22. Allen the night before had driven the automobile to the police station at San Jose, carrying Dowdy's body there in the machine.

The sheriff testified to a conversation he had with Allen in which the defendant told in detail of the trip he took with Dowdy. Lyle's version of the story was the sixth to be introduced at the trial and tallied in the main with that told by other witnesses.

The witnesses who preceded Lyle included District Attorney Ezra Decoto and three of his assistants, Preston Higgins, Frank Mitchell and Herman Murbach. All testified concerning their possession, prior to the trial, of certain of the exhibits offered by the prosecution.

DEFENSE FIGHTS MOVE.

A move to show the jury the car late yesterday was frustrated by the defense when Attorney Peter Crosby charged that "the evidence in the case, referring to the car, has been tampered with." Crosby went on to state that he used the term tampered "in no insidious manner, but the evidence thus far certainly shows that the condition of the car has been materially changed since this defendant left it."

As an indication of his charge Crosby referred to former testimony of E. O. Heirichs, chemical analyst and handwriting expert, who told of having placed small white arrows on the machine near certain bloodspots. Heinrichs attempted to show by his testimony that bloodstains in the inside of the car radiated from a common center, the prosecution contending that this center was immediately behind the steering wheel and just over the driver's seat.

TESTIMONY ATTACKED.

Crosby broadened his objection to an attack on the entire testimony of Heinrich and moved that it be struck from the record. The jury had been excused from the courtroom during the arguments between counsel, and Superior Judge H. L. Preston stated that he would consider the motion at a later time.

After District Attorney Ezra Decoto had argued that inasmuch as Heinrich had testified as to placing the arrows on the car and that the arrows indicated the direction in which the blood was traveling when it struck the car, the jury could see the arrows without having an undue impression made upon their minds, the court called Heinrichs to the witness stand. It developed from questioning that the white arrows could be removed and Heinrichs was instructed to do so, the court intimating that if this was done he would allow the jury to view the machine.

George M. Thompson, of Palo Alto, identified revolver introduced in the trial as his. The gun was taken from the automobile following Allen's arrest. Four empty shells were found on the floor of the machine at that time. Thompson testified that he fired the gun about a week before the murder, leaving two loaded and four empty shells in the gun. He said that Dowdy often took the gun with him on trips.

Old Matrimony Again Shatters College Careers

MISS HELEN CHESTNUT, University of California student, who was married secretly two weeks ago and announced it last night.

Marriage of Wendell White and Miss Helen Chestnut Just Announced.

BERKELEY, April 4.—"FOR SALE—Two perfectly good college careers; owners embarking on the sea of matrimony."

If college careers were salable, such would be the announcement of Miss Helen Chestnut and Wendell White, students at the University of California, who were married secretly in San Rafael and kept the secret just two weeks.

Mrs. White announced her marriage last night to her sorority sisters of the Delta Delta sorority, and told her plans to take out a "leave of absence" to finish the honeymoon that was interrupted by mid-term examinations.

The bride is a popular member of the younger set in Piedmont society and is a sophomore at the university. White is affiliated with the Chi Phi fraternity and is a junior.

After returning from a brief honeymoon the young couple will make their home in Berkeley, but they will not return to college.

WOMAN OF MYSTERY ENDS LIFE

Poison Swallowed by Guest in S.F. Hotel; Lived Under Assumed Name and Took Steps to Conceal Identity

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Police detectives are attempting today to discover the identity of an attractive woman of about 35 years of age, registered at the Plaza hotel under the name of Mrs. Esther Grant, who late yesterday committed suicide in her room by swallowing poison after tearing into bits the photograph of a prosperous looking middle-aged man, said to be her former husband.

"When my money is gone I will end my life. I will never work for a living," the woman said a few days ago, according to a girl friend with whom the police got into communication with shortly after her body was discovered.

Her body was found on her bed, clad in a silken chemise and kimono. On a table nearby was a glass containing crystals, which Deputy Coroner Thomas F. Gavin declared to be poison.

A note reading: "Please notify Mrs. Edith Rebhan, 812 Stewart hotel," was also found.

Mrs. Rebhan said she had met Mrs. Grant two years ago at the Stewart hotel. Mrs. Grant registered at the Plaza on January 21. She told Mrs. Rebhan that her real name would never be divulged.

"Mrs. Grant told me that a wealthy Seattle man who had taken a fancy to her had given her $4000 a couple of years ago and some presents afterward. She never revealed his name, but she said he was married. She saw him, I understand, when she was in Seattle a few months ago.

"She often remarked that when her money was gone he would commit suicide and about two months ago bought two pounds of poison for that purpose. She told me that the name of 'Grant' was one she assumed to conceal her identity from relatives in Minnesota and Chicago."

Mrs. Grant was a pronounced blonde, with attractive, regular features. She was [illegible] feet 7 inches tall.

DEAN BILL IS ADOPTED

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Claimed by labor legislators a victory for their cause, the assembly today passed by a vote of 45 to 29 the Dean bill prohibiting appointment of peace officers who have not been residents of California for at least a year prior to their selection.

Opponents of the bill, including Assemblymen Carter, Cleveland, Jones and Fulwider, branded it as a disguised measure designed to hinder control of strike disturbances by preventing trains coming into the state during strikes from being manned by outside guards.

Friends of the bill argued that it is an American measure and that officers who have not lived in the state for at least a year have not become acquainted with the California laws.

High School Instructor Is Sued for Divorce

Roy D. McCarthy, instructor in science and mathematics at the Vocational High school, is charged with telling his wife before friends during a party in their home at 4209 Sutter street on January 15, that she was "reaching the stage of senile degeneracy," says a divorce complaint filed today by Mrs. Beulah B. McCarthy.

Besides humiliating her with this statement, says Mrs. McCarthy, her husband once said that her family should get divorces by the job lot, including herself. After returning from a hospital where she underwent an operation for apendicitis, Mrs. McCarthy says, her husband upraided her for the expense and when she became hysterical left the house and remained away all day.

Declaring they were married in Minot, N. D., June 12, 1910, and separated April 2 last Mrs. McCarthy asks for $75 a month alimony and a division of community property valued at $2500.

Testifying that when she was a mourner at a funeral held in a local undertaking parlor, her husband, Joheph Ernstine entered the place and dragged her to the street. Mrs. Gladys Ernstine appeared today before Superior Judge J. S. Koford, seeking a divorce.

Mrs. Ernstine, who was granted a decree, also stated that her husband, who is a soldier stationed at Fort Dr. Russey, Hawaii, frequently threatened her life, and that on one occasion he drew a knife and threatened to kill her.

Mrs. Ernstine was granted custody of her minor child, Forest, aged 2 years. The couple were married in Oakland, October 10, 1917, and separated January 9, 1921.

More persons entered the auditorium in the past nine months of the 1922-3 fiscal year than in the entire fiscal year preceding, according to statistics given to Ralph York of the public works department today.

In the last nine months, 811,754 persons went through the doors, or about four times the entire population of Oakland, and in March alone 93,944 persons entered. There were fewer than 750,000 in the big building in 1921-2.

The receipts of the past nine months were $16,885.20 over expenses.

The receipts for March were $5,722.19, as against $3,462.02 in expenses. The net profit to the city was $2,260.17.

SEALS TASTE DEFEAT IN FIRST GAME WITH VERNON TIGERS

LARGEST CROWD IN HISTORY OF LOCAL PARK EXPECTED TO SEE FIRST GAME ON TUESDAY

ESSICK MEN DEFEAT SEALS IN FIRST OF SEASON ACROSS BAY

Jakie May Called to Rescue of Doyle in Late Stages of Contest; Runs Scored in First Frame Sufficient to Beat Courtney.

The champions fell from grace in their first start of the year yesterday when the Vernon Tigers celebrated the opening of the Pacific Coast League season in San Francisco by administering a 4 to 2 beating to the winners of last year's pennant.

Bill Essick's men meant business when they stepped to the plate in the first inning and when Harry Courtney experienced a couple of wild spells, passing Gorman to start with and finishing with a wild pitch, the Tigers caused the gong to crash twice, nearly enough runs there to give Jess Doyle the upper hand.

But Jess was unable to go the route and when Manager Essick saw his Bengals skidding on thin ice along in the late frames of the contest he hustled Jakie May, his diminutive twirling ace, to the sidelines to warm up and the opening day crowd was treated to the spectacle of seeing Jakie stand the Seals on their respective ears in the closing cantos as he was wont to do last season.

Things Happened In First Frame.

Things happened too quickly to please the Seals and their ardent supporters who had come out prepared for a gala day in which the tome town athletes would lead in the fatted calf in honor of the return of "kid baseball."

Before the customers were comfortably seated the Tigers took a mean advantage and forced many to crane their necks to view the happenings that transpired on the diamond.

Gorman, first man to face Courtney, walked on four balls that were no closer to being strikes than the w. k. celluloid dog chasing the asbestos cat in warmer regions than Fresno.

The veteran Chet Chadbourne lost no time in spanking a rollicking single to right field and Gorman, who is no slow athlete when it comes to picking 'em up and laying 'em down, strolled to third. Ellison cared for Murphy's offering but Gorman was forced to rejoin his teammates on the bench after scoring on the wild pitch that Courtney unbottled. Pete Schneider then further spoiled Harry's day by whacking one for two sacks to register Chadbourne.

Seals Score One; Tigers Continue.

In the third inning the Seals showed their first signs of life with the willow and rapped out three genuine hits to score one run. Compton, Valla and Hendryx, the hard-hitting outfield trio, connected in order to chase over one run. Then Doyle became himself once more and retired the side.

The sixth was a pleasing frame for the Bengals and crushed the hopes of the home town fans for all time insofar as winning the opener was concerned.

Courtney was getting the ball over by this time and the Tigers sized up the situation at a glance and five of the best athletes on the club put the ball in spots where the fielders weren't. Had not Pete Kilduff pulled off a double play at a most opportune moment there is no telling how many Tigers would have scored.

When the Seals appeared dangerous in the eighth inning Essick promptly yanked Doyle and sent May to the rescue. One run was the extent of the damage caused by the Seals and May retired Walsh on a fly to Chadbourne in the eighth to end all hopes of a late rally. The score:

Pinehurst Golfers Maintain Positions

PINEHURST, N. C., April 4.—Although falling four strokes behind Frank C. Newton of Brookline, Mass., in yesterdays round, T. Russell Brown of Burlingame, Vt., maintained his place in the lead of the 250 contestants in the annual North and South amateur golf tournament and topped the list of 16 who will participate in the championship round. His card at the conclusion of the qualifying round showed 76-78—154.

Newton came second with a score for the two days of 84-75—158. Henry J. Topping of Greenwich, Conn., 1922 champion, failed to qualify for the championship group.

Oaks to Open Play at Home Tuesday, 10th

OUR Oaks, victorius in their opening game of the season away from home yesterday against Los Angeles, appear assured of a royal welcome upon their return home for the second series of the year against San Francisco.

Ivan Howard's boys will pry the lid off the season at the local park next Tuesday afternoon and there has been such a rush for the advance sale of seats that Secretary Herbie McFarlin predicted today that before Saturday the entire park reserve section would be sold out.

Fans desiring to make reservations for the opening game here next Tuesday can be reasonably certain of securing the desired accommodations by telephoning Piedmont 11. The early birds will be the ones who enjoy the choice seats.

Criqui Is Rated One More Poor Sock Absorber

Frenchman Said to Dislike Body Punches; Tip for Kilbane.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Eugene Criqui, the latest Frenchman to invade America in quest of a world's title, is declared to be the best boxer ever sent out of France, but to those who prefer horse sense over applause, that will mean less than nothing. Criqui comes of a many - are - socked - but-few-can-take-it race of boxers.

Unless he is a notable exception, Criqui will return to France in due season, having proved nothing beyond the fact that Americans are a gullible lot and that he cares little or nothing for body punches. All of the Frenchmen, from Carpentier on down the line, harbor this marked distaste for a punch in the porte-cochere, or, technically speaking, the midriff.

TIRED, HE ATE ROSIN.

The gorgeous one really quit to Dempsey in that million dollar frolic over in Jersey. He had taken an ample sufficiency of the champion's jolts on his artistic torso, and when he was knocked down with a clip on the side of the head decided to stay there for the conventional ten.

Paul Journee, his sparring partner, was a push-over for Charley Weinert in his lone appearance in an American ring. Paul didn't like them in the body or elsewhere. Neither did one Georges Papin, another entry for whom Descamps, the arch-sharpshooter, was responsible.

TENDLER TENDED PAPIN.

Papin came here as the lightweight champion of France. He had a snappy left and a semi-accurate impression of what the loser's end of a bout with Benny Leonard would be. He, therefore, talked in threatening terms about Leonard and succeeded in easing himself into a match with Lew Tendler, who knocked him off with unslightest conception of protecting his body, but he went down talking, the sense of his conversation being that he was a badly fouled individual. A Frenchman, by the way, is never knocked out—merely fouled.

It was so with Charley Ledoux, the bantam, who probably was the best of the lot. Ledoux managed to hold his own with most of the American second raters, but a sock in the stomach by Kid Williams ironed him out flat in the fifteenth round at Tom McCarey's Vernon arena. Ledoux, of course, was hit low. A knockout punch below the chin is too low for the average Frenchman.

LOUIS COULDN'T HIT.

Another fairly good one was Louis de Ponthieu, the lightweight, who was the pioneer of all French invaders. He came on here about ten or twelve years ago and proved a clever boxer against some of our best. He couldn't punch, however.

Criqui, according to his record, is quite a socker in his own right, and, owing to a reconstructed jaw made necessary by German shrapnel, is said to be immune to punishment there. He, however, has been knocked out by Pal Moore, the slapstick gent from Memphis, and if you can laugh that one off you are funnier than a set of sleeve garters.

Scenes at Recreation Park Where Tigers Clawed the Seals

The TRIBUNE cameraman was on the job at Recreation Park yesterday afternoon to witness the Vernon Tigers and San Francisco Seals usher in the 1923 season. Below is shown what his camera saw. The big pitcher on the left is JESSE DOYLE, who started on the mound for the Tigers, and on the extreme right is HARRY COURTNEY, the Seal southpaw who was charged with the Seals' first defeat. The pair of gents shaking hands in the upper center are BILL ESSICK (left), manager of the Tigers, and JACK MILLER (right), manager of the Seals. Below in the center, PETE SCHNEIDER, the Vernon outfielder, just as he left the plate after meeting the ball for a two bagger that gave the Tigers their second run in the first inning. The catcher is SAM AGNEW of the Seals, and back of Agnew is UMPIRE BILL BYRON.

Giants Should Sweep Easily To Third Win

NEW YORK, April 4.—The New York Giants, should sweep easily to their third successive National league championship and, maybe, to their third world's championship, in the opinion of Kid Gleason, veteran manager of the White Sox.

Prevented by rain from continuing yesterday his team's exhibition tussle with the Giants at Fort Worth, Texas, Manager Gleason gave his opinions of both clubs, and his own, he confessed, will finish well up at the top, fighting.

"Take it from me, it's a cinch for the Giants to win another pennant," said the kid. "They are far and away the class of their league, one of the greatest ball clubs I ever saw. Of course, I have not seen either the Pirates or the Reds, who are supposed to furnish the fighting for the Giants this year, but I can't imagine anybody stopping McGraw's club.

"It has everything—pitching, speed, hitting, confidence, daring. Oh, just everything. It must be wonderful to manage a bunch like that—always trying and always fighting. I like the Giants at every position. The Giants look a lot speedier to me than they did last year. They take long chances and they make the most of them, that's my kind of baseball, run out every opportunity to the limit.

"The confidence of having two world championships is behind that. The boys have class and they know it."

Durants Will Have Strong Summer Team

The Durant Motor Company is laying plans to place another fast semi-pro ball club in the field for the summer season and [illegible] Phil Gardner has been appointed manager and Bobby Smalo will be field captain. Smalo and Gardner are two of the smartest boys in the local semi-pro game and are well liked, so they should place a strong outfit in the field.

Gardner has announced that the Durants will start their independent season on Sunday, April 15, and will play right through to October, meeting the best teams in the state. Ambose, a husky pitcher of experience, has already been signed for hill work and Laurnie Beeson will work behind the plate. Eddie Pessano, Bill Bare and Frank Biggs are members of the midwinter team who will be retained.

Firpo Signs Two Contracts to Box

NEW YORK, April 3.—Luis Angel Firpo, South American heavyweight, yesterday signed two contracts for his appearance in the charity boxing show at the Yankee stadium May 12.

One was for a 15-round match with Jack McAuliffe II, of Detroit, and the other an agreement to substitute for Jess Willard or Floyd Johnson, who are matched for 15 rounds on the same card, in the event either was prevented from [illegible]

Union Construction Nine Is Winner 8-3

Bill Clancy's Union Construction Company ball club invaded Mare Island Sunday and trounced the Marines to the tune of 8 to 3. Lefty Cothran, on the hill for the Construction boys, held the Sea Cops to five scattered hits. Zimmerman at short was the big star of the game, getting a homer, a triple and two singles out of five times at bat.

Phil Gardner, on first, clouted the agate for a circuit swat with two men on. Chamberlin also got a triple and singled.

Bartoli caught a fine game besides getting a double and a single for himself. Parsons of the Marines struck out 13 men.

Indian Ball Team Schedules Games

Something new in the line of baseball teams has been organized at Clear Lake Park, Lake county. A club composed entirely of full-blooded Indians has been formed and has mapped out a complete schedule of games for the summer months.

It is expected that the team, [illegible] regular playing season, will issue challenges to several of the bay region nines.

As a special attraction on Decoration Day the Indians will meet the Goodwin All-Stars on the Clear Lake Park diamond.

Babe Ruth Is Reported in Batting Slump

NEW YORK, April 4.—Correspondents traveling northward from New Orleans with the New York Yankees reported today that Babe Ruth was in the throes of one of his worst batting slumps, and that it had the Bambino perceptibly worried.

In spite of the Babe's spring training this year, his successful effort in getting down to weight and his earnestness in discipline, he has failed to produce hits, long or short. He seems to have difficulty in meeting the ball, and becomes concerned when the pitcher gets two strikes on him, a state that was mirth-provoking for him in former years.

Experts who have studied the Babe and his baseball for years believe that his difficulty may be due to over-anxiety, to his revised estimate of his duty to the public, to his owners, to his team and to himself. The experts are trying to establish in their own minds whether the Babe has lost confidence in himself.

Oxford Team Will Compete in Relays

PHILADELPHIA, April 4.—The Oxford University two-mile relay team which will compete at the Pennsylvania relay carnival April 27 and 28, will be composed of Captain Milligan, Stevenson, Hewettson and L. Athletic Stars In Drake Relays

DES MOINES, April 4. — A 600-yard race bringing three great stars—Phil Spink of the Chicago Athletic Club, Eary Eby of Pennsylvania and "Deac" Wollers of Ames—together in competition probably will be a special added attraction at the fourteenth Drake University relay meet here April 27 and 28.

Spink, Eby and Wollers are among the greatest middle distance runners in the country. Spink broke the central A. A. U. indoor record last week in Chicago when he covered the distance in 1:16 3-5. Eby was national champion at the half mile in 1920 and 1921. Wollers won the quarter mile event in the recent Missouri Valley indoor meet at Kansas City in 51 1-5 seconds, which is 1-5 second less than the previous conference record.

LeBourveau To Join Phillies In A Few Days

MARYSVILLE, April 4.—Dewitt LeBourveau, well known local boy, is leaving Friday to join the Philadelphia Nationals, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Charles Schinkle of this city. LeBourveau has been spending the past few weeks at Placerville, where his wife and child will remain with her parents this summer.

LeBourveau, who has been with the Phillies for the past few seasons, came out west with the intention of joining the Oakland team, but owing to some misunderstanding Commissioner Landis would not let him join Oakland. Yesterday he received a telegram ordering him to return to Philadelphia and report to the Phillies for training.

LeBourveau was very much disappointed as he hoped to remain on the Pacific Coast this season. Since entering the big league LeBourveau has made a splendid record and is considered one of the fastest players in the National league.

Woodland Team Will Meet Stockton

WOODLAND, April 3.—Although second is the best the Woodland High school track team could make in a six-team contest at College City last Saturday, Instructor Raymond Scott has invited the Stockton High track athletes to meet the locals in Woodland either next Friday or Saturday. Scott states that he has assurance of a meeting with Stockton, and that although he may not win, he is planning to [illegible] ence for coming interscholastic meets.

With only two weeks' training Woodland took second in the recent inter-county meet. The scores were: Sutter City, 85; Woodland, 50; College City, 38; Colusa, 32; Williams, 3, and Willows, 1. Les Clover of the Woodland team won the only first for the locals, covering a mile in 5:07. He was not pressed at any time.

Sutter City has one of the fastest track teams in the valley and recently won from Sacramento High.

Campbells Popular As Golf Instructors

LONDON, April 4.—The Campbells are coming!

Perhaps it would be more accurate to say that another Campbell is coming, since four of them already are here. The fifth is en route.

Four of the Campbell brothers are now employed as golf professionals in the United States. Andrew is with the Springhaven Country Club at Philadelphia, John with the Old York Club at Philadelphia, Alec with the Cincinnati Golf Club, and Matthew with the Manchester Club at Boston.

David, who has been an assistant professional at Gleneagles, sailed a few days ago for Philadelphia.

Some enterprising [illegible] has a chance to make it unanimous for James, a sixth brother, is professional at a Birmingham club and could be induced to follow his illustrious quintet of brothers overseas.

Sacramento Is Only Home Team to Win

Howard Must Have Been Spoofing Angels About Kremer's Condition

By EDDIE MURPHY.

Another season for the Pacific Coast League was ushered in yesterday afternoon with the Oaks, Vernon, Sacramento and Seattle players going to their respective clubhouses with scalps tied to their belts. Down south, our Oaks spoiled a perfectly good day for the Los Angeles fans by handing the Angels a 4 to 1 beating, thanks to the pitching of Ray Kremer, the slender right-hander of the local pitching staff, who was supposed to be on the hospital list and unable to take part in the opening ceremonies. The Seals met a 4 to 2 beating before the Vernon Tigers at San Francisco, and fifteen thousand more fans had their appetites spoiled by seeing their favorites take the short end of the score. The Salt Lake Bees were listed as the home team at Fresno, and they also tasted defeat at the hands of Harry Wolverton's Seattle Indians, the count being 4 to 0. It must have been a great day for Manager Harry Wolverton, the Gray Fox. Up at Sacramento, the Senators were the only home club of the four to come through with a win. They sent thirteen thousand Sacramento fans home happy by handing the Portland Beavers a 3 to 1 trimming.

FRESNO CROWD SMALL.

The attendance at San Francisco was all that was expected, and the season was ushered in with the usual ceremonies of having Mayor Rolph pitch the first ball and Chief of Police Dan O'Brien receive it. Sacramento fans turned out stronger than ever before for an opening game. If reports are correct, the attendance at Los Angeles was the smallest in years for an opening game. Ten thousand is estimated, and of that number, 8859 were paid admissions. Down at Fresno where the Salt Lake Bees and Seattle Indians introduced Coast League ball, a crowd of only two thousand was out. If fans do not turn out stronger than that for any of the remaining week day games, the Fresno boosters may just as well make up their mind that Fresno will have a very, very slim chance of getting a Coast League franchise within the next ten years. Fresno is a great Sunday baseball town, but judging from yesterday's turnout, it will never pay to play week-day ball in it. Maybe after all, Salt Lake owners will wish that they opened the season at home.

WHO WAS RESPONSIBLE?

Manager Ivan Howard must have foxed the Angels or else somebody wanted to excite the Oakland fans by sending out a story to the effect that Pitcher Ray Kremer would not be able to twirl the opening game against the Angels. A story was flashed over the wire last Monday to the effect that Kremer injured himself and would probably be out of the line-up for the full week. Local baseball headquarters were not notified by Ivan or Del Howard about Kremer's condition. The failure of Ivan or Del to send word led to the belief that Ivan Howard was trying to outfox the Angels, or that somebody was playing a joke. And then came the good news that Kremer was to pitch the opening game, and a couple of hours afterwards, better news came.

Kremer won the ball game, allowing only six hits. It must have been one of the happiest moments of Kremer's life when he strolled toward the clubhouse after the game. He always wanted to pitch an opening game and prove to the fans that he could win one. Nick Kremer, a brother of Ray, was about as happy a man as there was in Oakland last evening, for Nick follows Ray's work on the hilltop about as closely as Ivan Howard does.

California Noses Out U. S. C. Nine

BERKELEY, April 4. — The California varsity baseballers defeated U. S. C. yesterday afternoon on California Field in a hard fought, eleven inning game by a score of 3-2.

The Trojans scored in the first inning when Bothwell tripled, later crossing the plate when Hawkins grounded out to Toomey. California tied the score in their half of the first inning when King, first man up, singled, advanced to second on Farrar's error, and scored [illegible] Foss.

California scored again in the second inning when Gerlach hit to Chabare, who booted, Gerlach taking third. He scored a moment later when Toomey grounded out to Chabare. U. S. C. tied the score in the fourth inning, Hawkins singling, advancing to second on a sacrifice, taking third on Foss' single and scoring on an infield out.

The score remained two all until the last half of the eleventh inning when the Bears scored the winning run. Captain Hermle, first man up, doubled, and scored when Bowen hit a long single to center.

The summary:

	R.	H.	E.
U. S. C.	2	9	5
California	3	10	2

Fielding H. Yost Stops at Eugene

EUGENE, Ore., April 4.—Fielding H. He was driven in an automobile to Corvallis, where he was scheduled to deliver an address before the students of the Oregon Agricultural College.

OAKS START SEASON WITH WIN OVER LOS ANGELES CLUB

SOUTHERN TEAM IS OUTPLAYED IN EVERY WAY BY IVAN HOWARD'S 1923 PENNANT HOPES

RAY KREMER HOLDS LOS ANGELES CLUB TO SIX LITTLE HITS

Ivan Howard's Tossers Outplay Angels in Every Way and Celebrate Start of 1923 Season With a Win; Ted Cather Gets Three Hits.

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Happy moments were spent here yesterday afternoon by twelve thousand baseball fans who turned out in celebration of the season's opening for the Pacific Coast League. But those moments were only short. Marty Krug, making his debut as a manager in the league, led his Angels to a one run lead over Ivan Howard's reconstructed Oaks in the first inning. Mr. Ray Kremer, was the gent who appeared on the hilltop for the Oaks, and the Angels nicked him for that run in quick time. It looked like Marty Krug and his Angels were going to get good and even for Howard or someone else on the visiting club announcing that Kremer would be in no shape to pitch because of an injury. But as said before, the happy moments were short as the Oaks nicked George Lyons for a run in the fourth to even the count, and they took a safe lead in the sixth by scoring two. The final count was 4 to 1, the Oaks scoring another off Wallace in the ninth.

The Angels played anything but the brand of ball to get them by in the Coast League. Six errors were contributed to the box score by them. But we can say that Ray Kremer and George Lyons pitched better than Coast League brand of ball—it was nearer to big league brand. The Oakland heaver allowed six scattered hits and wished a lot of goose eggs on the Angels after the first inning. Wallace allowed three runs and four hits in the seven innings that he worked.

Ted Cather Has Good Day, Gets Three Hits.

Clarence Twombly made things look panicy for the Oaks in the first inning by leading off with a single. Chester Thomas helped to muddle matters up more by fielding Carroll's bunt and throwing wild to second putting two men on. Charles Deal moved them along with a sacrifice, and Twombly trotted home when Griggs hoisted a sacrifice fly to Cooper. The Angels were through scoring right then and there.

Carroll, the Angels' center gardener, put the Angels off on the wrong foot in the third by making a boot of LaFayette's single to center and allowing the Oak to to reach second. The Frenchman moved to third on Cather's single, and scored when Krug mussed up Cooper's easy grounder.

Lyons was also in some way responsible for the Oaks taking the lead in the sixth. Wille drew a walk and scored from the first station when Lyons fielded LaFayette's grounder and threw a mile over first base.

LaFayette landed on third. Ted Cather, who was the heavy sticker of the game with a double and two singles, contributed his second single to score LaFayette and the Oaks had the game in the ice chest.

Angels Outplayed By Locals in Every Way.

The Oaks filled the bags with none out in the ninth and scored their fourth run. Cather led off with a double and Cooper put him on third with an infield hit. Smith drew a walk to fill the bags. Chester Thomas forced Cather at the plate when he hit to Wallace, but Cooper scored when Griggs after receiving a throw to first heaved wild to second. Kremer lifted a fly to Twombly and Smith was out at the plate, trying to score after the catch.

The Oaks outplayed the Angels in every way. Their fielding was of high class order. The Angels were outhit in the pinches, outfielded and outsmarted, is putting the reasons for the Angels' defeat in few words.

Ty Cobb Spoiled No Hit, No Run Game

Neither Toad Ramsey nor Rube Waddell, star left handers of years ago, ever pitched a no hit game in the majors. Ramsey once hurled a one hit classic at Baltimore on July 31, 1886. The game went twelve innings and he won, 2 to 1, with Matt Kilroy opposing him. Ramsey fanned 16 men. The safety off him was a double.

Waddell pitched several one hit contests, but the one in which his chance of getting among the immortals vanished most quickly was against Detroit, at Columbia Park, Philadelphia, on May 17, 1906. Then the Tiger batter laid down a bunt and beat it out. After that nobody on the Detroiters' lineup got a hit or anything that resembled it.

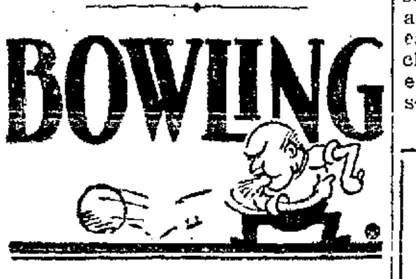
The name of the cruel young Tiger who beat the Rube out of a no hit game at the start of the contest was Tyrus Raymond Cobb.

Commissions Issue Rulings Aainst Boxers

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 4.—The local boxing commission last night passed a ruling prohibiting all boxers from the stables of Jack O'Keefe, Eddie Long and Eddie Kane, Chicago managers, from participating in contests in Indianapolis for a period of six months. The action followed the alleged failure of the managers to carry out the terms of a contract with a local promoter calling for a bout between Jack Shepperd and Bud Taylor, bantamweights, which was scheduled here tonight.

O'Keefe is Shepperd's manager, and Kane and Long handle Taylor's business. The ruling includes all boxers managed by the men, including Tommy Gibbons and several other prominent ring figures.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Tom Gibbons, St. Paul lightweight, will be permitted to meet Jack Dempsey for the world's heavyweight boxing title, if he first defeats Jack Renault, Canadian boxer, the New York boxing commission ruled today.



The Breuner Furniture five opened with a bang at the Auditorium alleys in the Auditorium Handicap league, winning four points from the Royal Shoes. The Twomey Tailors, by taking three from the Oakland Coal Co., moved into second place to start with while the Picked Stars and Auditoriums got an even break for the night.

The Breuner team shot high series with 2696 with the Tailors close behind with 2658.

The first game, with a score of 948 of the Breuners, took high team game.

Roskie of the Breuners was in a class by himself with 605 for series.

The picked stars, a team of women bowlers led by Mrs. Hopping, wife of Hopping of the Durant Motors, will prove a hard team to beat as they are given a special handicapping of 100 pins per night in addition to the regular league handicap. It is the first instance of a team of women bowling in a league against teams of men.

William Harris of the Outrigger Canoe Club of Honolulu, now touring the antipodes, won his second swimming championship of New South Wales in record time recently at Sydney, capturing the 220 yard race over a 113-yard course in 2:26 1-5. The Australian record was 2:27. He previously won the 100-yard sprint.

First Picture of Oaks-Angels Game at Los Angeles

Rival Found For Paddock In Far East

NEW YORK, April 4.—A formidable rival for Charley Paddock and other American sprinting stars has been uncovered in the Philippines, according to word received from athletic authorities in Manila.

The new track sensation is Fortunato Catalon, an 18-year-old high school youth, who was credited with running 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds on three consecutive days at recent tryouts for the 1923 far eastern games. Five watches clocked Catalon each day and several of them caught him in 9 3-5 seconds, the world's record.

Catalon, who won the 100 and 220-yard dashes at the far eastern games in 1921, will be sent to the Olympics in 1924 to test his speed with American and European stars. His performance has stimulated Filipino interest in sending a team to Paris. Catalon's performances are vouched for by Fred England, former University of Washington athlete and now secretary-treasurer of Philippines Amateur Athletic Association, in a letter to Elwood S. Brown, executive officer of the National A. A. U.

Wilhoit Returns To Salt Lake Team

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., April 4.—Joe Wilhoit, leading slugger of the Salt Lake Coast League baseball club, left last night to join the club at Fresno. He was called to his home here on business last week and was unable to participate in the opening game, which the Bees lost yesterday.

Tom Gibbons Is to Train In Havre, Mont.

HAVRE, Mont., April 4.—If the proposed Dempsey-Gibbons heavyweight championship bout is fought in Shelby, Mont., on July 4, Tommy Gibbons, challenger for the title, will train in Havre, according to James Moran, chief of police here.

Chief Moran and Mike Collins of St. Paul, Gibbons' manager, held a conference here recently on the prospective bout and training quarters. Only a few years ago Chief Moran was a lightweight boxer, with headquarters in St. Paul. Two years ago when a newly elected mayor decided on a reform administration, he found the proprietor of a ranch near Havre was an ex-pugilist. This rancher was Jimmy Moran, and he accepted the post of police chief.

Starts Season by Winning for the Oaks

This is RAY KREMER, a product of our own sandlots who decorated the hill for the Oaks in the opening game of the season at Los Angeles yesterday and who held the Angels to six hits and won the ball game. Ray is due to have another big season with the locals.

FIRST EVENTS IN GAME AT LOS ANGELES

The Oaks won the first ball game, score 4 to 1.

The Angels were the first to lose.

Ray Kremer pitched the first win.

George Lyons pitched the first losing game.

Mayor Cryer pitched the first ball, and Sheriff Bill Traeger caught it.

McAuley made the first assist, and Griggs the first putout when McGaffigan, the first batter, rolled to McAuley.

Twombly of the Angels led off for his club by getting the first hit, a single.

Chet Thomas made the first error when he threw wild to second.

Deal laid down the first sacrifice, putting Twombly on third.

Griggs hoisted the first sacrifice fly, scoring Twombly in the first inning.

Twombly scored the first run.

Cooper was the first batter to walk.

Cooper stole second base right afterward.

McAuley was the first Angel to draw a walk.

Brubaker was the first Oak to handle an assist when he put Deal out on his sacrifice bunt.

McAuley was the first Angel to make an error when he threw wild to first in the third.

Cooper was the first Oak to lay down a sacrifice.

Carroll got the first double of the game, in the third inning.

LaFayette got the first hit for the Oaks when he singled in the fourth.

Griggs batted in the first run.

LaFayette scored the first Oak run when Krug booted in the fourth.

Cooper was the first player to be caught stealing, Baldwin throwing him out at second in the fourth inning.

Carroll was the first Angel caught stealing.

Griggs was the first batter of the game to fan, Kremer fooling him in the fifth.

Cather was the first Oak to bat in a run when he singled, scoring LaFayette in the sixth.

Cooper was the first Oak to be called out on three strikes.

Krug to Griggs, on which Wille and LaFayette were retired, was the first double play of the season on the Los Angeles lot.

LaFayette was the first Oak to hit into a double play.

Cather was the first Oak to hit a two bagger.

English Women Adopt Rowing As New Sport

LONDON, April 4.—Before long England will have its varsity boat race for women to rival the annual Oxford-Cambridge race.

Women's rowing clubs are springing up everywhere in the neighborhood of London and in the riverside villages.

"There is no finer exercise for the average healthy girl, provided, of course, that she doesn't overdo it," said Miss Radley, secretary of the Cecil Ladies' Rowing Club.

"Bracing as it is one need not be surprised to find that the doctors recommend rowing in the case of the girl who needs fairly vigorous exercise, though it is only the really strong girl who should go in for racing.

"We have several girls training for the musical profession who find that rowing is of great advantage to them, because it teaches them how to breathe properly. Proper breathing is as essential in rowing as in singing."

Despite Miss Radley's praise for rowing as womanly exercise there is severe criticism of the women who take up this form of sport from other quarters. Many doctors claim it is too strenuous for women.

S. L. Tossers Are Trimmed By Indians

Harry Gardner Hurls Great Game of Ball, Allowing Three Hits.

FRESNO, April 4.—A crowd of two thousand fans from all sections of the valley saw the Seattle Indians and Salt Lake Bees start off in the 1923 race for the Pacific Coast League bunting. The Bees acting as the home club were defeated 4 to 0, the game being featured by a corking pitching duel between Harry Gardner of the Indians, and Myers of the Bees.

Myers worked the first seven innings and allowed two hits, while Gardner went the full route and allowed three hits in all. All the scoring was done at the expense of Myers. A triple in the sixth inning by Catcher Yaryan of the Indians scored two runs. The score:

Do You Know?

"Who was the first major league player to jump a reserve into the Federal League?"

CURIOUS READER.

George Stovall of the St. Louis Browns.

"Is William T. Tilden the world's tennis champion?"

R. J. B.

There is no official world's tennis title. Tilden is generally regarded as being the greatest player in the world, however. Up until just recently the British championships at Wimbledon assumed the right to be known as the world's championship, but the International Tennis Federation ruled that no tournament should be held for the world's championship. Tilden won the Wimbledon championship in 1920 and 1921, but he did not defend his title last year and it was won by Gerald Patterson, the Australian, who was later beaten by Tilden in the American national championships.

"Is Bill Brennan, the heavyweight boxer, of Irish descent?"

BOXING BUG.

Brennan, although he appears in the boxing records as being from County Mayo, is not of Irish descent. He was born in Chicago and his name is Shanks.

GOLF

By W. D. McNICOLL.

Few of the competitors in the forthcoming Northern Amateur championship realize what a splendid test of golfing skill the Berkeley course is. The par of 70 has not yet been equalled by any professional, and the best amateur scores have been nearer 80 than 70.

The first hole which measures 367 yards par 4 has been criticised but a clean hit tee shot a little to the right will give the player a clear view of the green which is not badly trapped, and should with care be secured in par figures.

Hole No. 2, 401 yards, is also parred at 4, two carefully placed shots are necessary to reach this real golfing hole. Driving to the left of the fairway is possibly the safest line to take, but even if one's tee shot should reach the grassy hollow to the right a brassie shot may be playable, but direction must be good to keep on a narrow but long green.

A hooked approach is badly penalized, while a sliced second shot gives the player a difficult down-hill approach, with the danger of over-running the narrow section of the green. Those delightful trees which have threatened the player who slices or hooks are now left behind, and only to the left of the third fairway is trouble to be found, but like all skillfully planned courses the designer sees to it that the bold player is rewarded. A tee shot just clear of the rough on the left gives the player an open green to approach, while the safety first golfer may find himself confronted with a hazard in the form of a tree which will give him considerable trouble to negotiate.

This plateau green which measures 327 yards from the tee is well-situated to test the skill of the player who must choose between a boldly played pitch shot right up to the pin or risk a run-up shot with just enough strength to carry the slope, a par four score at this third green will satisf. the average player.

Beavers Held To Three Hits In First Game

New Senator Shows Various Kinds of Class On the Pitching Mound.

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Thirteen thousand Sacramento ball fans were out to see the Sacramento tossers take a 3 to 1 win from the Portland Beavers in the opening tilt of the season. The game was a good one and featured by the pitching duel between "Suds" Sutherland of the Portlands and Bill Hughes of the Senators. Hughes, who hails from the International league, allowed only three hits to the Beavers, while Sutherland allowed six.

Art Koehler's double, McCann's error and Kopp's triple permitted the Senators to overcome a one-run lead in the fifth. All three hits were made off Hughes in the third, when the Beavers scored their run.

William H. McCarthy, president of the Coast league, was here and caught the first ball, which was pitched by Mayor Albert Elkus. The score:

County League To Start Next Sunday

The Southern Alameda County League starts next Sunday, April 18, a twenty-game, split-season schedule, with games at Hayward, Irvington and Livermore, with San Leandro, Newark and Pleasanton as the traveling clubs for the opening games.

The directors of he league are as follows:

L. R. Rosenberg, Hayward; Joseph Dias, Newark; Thomas Tierney, Irvingon; E. J. Lawless, Livermore; Charles Gale, Pleasanton; Judge William Gannon, San Leandro; W. J. Knightly of Hayward, president; W. Mathieson of Centerville, secretary-treasurer.

The by-laws and schedule have been adopted and each club has deposited its forfeit money.

President Knightly has called a meeting of the directors to be held tomorrow night at Hayward to make final arrangements for the opening games.

BILLY SHADE AND JACK REEVES MEET TONIGHT AT AUDITORIUM

STANFORD TRACK TEAM WINS OVER U. S. C. IN RETURN MEET AT PALO ALTO 72 TO 57

AUSTRALIAN CHAMP TO MAKE DEBUT AFTER THREE YEARS' ABSENCE

Promoter Tommy Simpson Removes Danny Nunes From Card and Puts Joe Coffey In His Place to Meet Eddie Gorman at Auditorium

Billy Shade, after three years' absence from local boxing rings, will appear before the fistic fans tonight when he will meet Jack Reeves in the main event of Tommy Simpson's weekly show to be staged at the Oakland Auditorium. Following tonight's menu of seven bouts, the little four rounders will be ordered to take a two weeks' vacation, so fans missing tonight's card will have a mighty big appetite to satisfy when the ring is placed in the center of the auditorium again. A carnival which starts next Saturday, will be the attraction at the auditorium for the next two weeks. Advance sale of tickets indicate that very few of the regulars will miss tonight's card, and that Billy Shade will be welcomed home by a packed house.

Billy Shade and Jack Reeves top what looks like a first-class menu, and if this pair of glove pushers entertain as they are expected to the fans are going to get plenty of action for their money. Reeves and Shade are a pair of boys who are willing to stand up to each other and give and take without backing away. Reeves took things easy all day yesterday, as he was in tip top form after his workout Monday.

Denny and Barrieau to Meet in Semi-Windup.

The appearance of Shade in the local ring is attracting fans from all the small towns about the bay. Shade is a much improved miller over when he used to box here, but that is not going to worry Reeves, who thinks that he has a good chance of beating the boy who claims three Australian championships.

The pair of Frankies, Barrieau and Denny, are also expected to stand in the center of the ring and give and take wallops as fast as they can hand them out. Barrieau has the edge on Denny, for the reason that he earned one decision over him and in another bout he got a draw. Denny is determined to even the count with the Canadian boy. The dope will be all upset if Denny and Barrieau do not satisfy the cash customers.

Joe Coffey Replaces Danny Nunes on Card.

Promoter Tommy Simpson announced this morning that Danny Nunes has been drawn from the menu, and that Joe Coffey will take his place. Nunes was dated with Eddie Gorman, but for some reason Tommy decided at the last minute to let Coffey do the honors with the Oakland featherweight. The Nunes-Gorman match was causing considerable chatter among the fans, as Nunes beat a number of good boys while away from Oakland. Gorman is glad to get another chance at Coffey, who recently took a close decision from him.

Billy Cordeau of the Northwest and Claire Bromeo should make the fur fly. Bromeo always gave the fans a run for their money, and he should get a big hand when he enters the ring. He did most of his boxing around San Jose the last couple of years. Cordeau is a 145-pounder, who carries a mean wallop and fans can expect to see one of the pair kiss the mat some time during their encounter.

Preliminaries Always Furnish a Surprise.

The first bouts are backed up by a few preliminaries that promise to keep the interest of the ringsiders. Tommy Simpson usually uncovers some unexpected kind of entertainment in his preliminaries. and the question is, what pair of boys will furnish tonight's surprise? Louis Garcia and Tim Callahan are billed for the second bout of the evening, while the third will see Charlie Rogers and Jock Griffin exchanging blows, and Young Sharkey and Bobby Gray will furnish the curtain raiser.

BOXING CHATTER

BUTTE, Mont., April 4.—George Sollis of Salt Lake City knocked out Sammy Gordon of Portland, Oregon, in the last round of their twelve round bout as the main event in the American Legion's boxing card here last night. Sollis weighed 128 and Gordon 126. Sollis had Gordon helpless when the referee stopped the fight when the final round had gone two and a half minutes.

In the semi-windup Walt Hart of Salt Lake City and Indian Lavata of Pocatello went eight fast rounds to a draw. Hart weighed 118 and Lavata 116.

As an added attraction Henry Jones, 145-pound wrestler of Provo, Utah, met Joe Simonich, 147-pound boxer of Butte in a mixed match, Jones winning in the second round when he pinned the boxer's shoulders to the mat.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 4.—Leading all the way Ted Krache of Hoquiam, Wash., won a decision here last night over Jack Josephs of Minneapolis. Fans made many expressions of disapproval of the fighting of Josephs, indicating their belief that he was not trying as hard as he could. Krache weighed in at 137½ pounds and Josephs at 146½.

Pat Williams of Seattle and Frankie Britt of Tacoma, Eddie Buell, U. S. S. Seattle, and Eddie McCarthy, Centralia, 120-pounders. Soldier Woods, Seattle, and Red Campbell, Everett, welterweights, were given draws. Williams broke his right hand in the first round but did not discover until after the bout what was wrong with it. Eddie Moore, Seattle bantamweight, lost to Jack Cox of Tacoma.

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Young Brown of Hemet, Cal., won a decision over Johnny Relsier, New York lightweight, in the main event at the Vernon arena last night. In the semi-windup Weldon Wign of Portland, Oregon, defeated Henry Gastine, Los Angeles featherweight.

BUTTE, Mont., April 4.—George Sollis of Salt Lake City knocked out Sammy Gordon, Portland, Ore., in the last round of their 12-round bout last night. Sollis weighed 128, Gordon 126 pounds. Walt Hart, Salt Lake, and Indian Lavatta, Pocatello, went eight rounds to a draw in the semi-windup. They are bantamweights.

Strangler Lewis Wins From Gardini

CHICAGO, April 4.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis' vicious headlock helped him to a two out of three falls victory for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship here last night from Renato Gardini, Boston, Mass., Italian. For the first fall Gardini slammed Lewis to the mat with a flying mare, and, while the champion lay with the breath smashed from him, pinned him with a double arm lock in [illegible] thirty-two seconds.

In an hour, eleven minutes and forty-five seconds Lewis applied a dozen headlocks to Gardini for the second fall. The Italian challenger came out for the third fall dazed and weakened by the punishing grasp of Lewis' arms about his head and succumbed to four successive headlocks for the decisive fall in three minutes and twenty-one seconds.

Philadelphia Man Beats Daw's Mark In A.B.C. Tourney

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 4. — A new world's record and changes among the five leaders of the all-events, singles and doubles featured in the American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday, William Knox of Philadelphia bettered the mark of C. Daw of Milwaukee [illegible] ing a total of 2019 for a new record.

Knox, who rolled with the Quaker team of Philadelphia, on Monday night, scored 618 pins in the team event, added 686 in the doubles and scored 715 in the singles. Knox started his singles with a 192 game, followed with 244 in his second game, and needing 276 pins in the final game of the singles to take the lead in the all-events, lined up strike after strike until the ninth frame was reached, when he lost a perfect hit, the number eight pin wobbling and then finally standing. He struck out for a 279 total, giving him the high single game of the tournament.

The McCanns team of Waukegan, Ill., scored the highest total in the team event last night when they turned in games of 943, 961 and 990 for a total of 2894. A. Flood was the high man on the five with 619.

The standing of the leaders:

Five-man event—Nelson Mitchells, Milwaukee, 3139; Claman Dairy Lunch, Indianapolis, 3115; Risdon Creamery, Detroit, 3036; Livestock Press No. 1, Chicago, 2982; Petersen Parkways, Chicago, 2961.

Doubles—C. Daw and F. Wilson, Milwaukee, 1358; F. Sichert and H. Sanders, Dayton, 1318; H. Schultz and J. Mack, Detroit, 1306; W. Knox and C. Trucks, Philadelphia, [illegible] and J. Jacobs, Milwaukee, 1295.

Singles C. Baumgarten, Cincinnati, 724; G. Neuman, Milwaukee, 716; W. Knox, Philadelphia, 715; M. McDowell, Cleveland, 713; W. Elwert, Toledo, 711.

All events—W. Knox, Philadelphia, 2019; C. Daw, Milwaukee, 2014; M. McDowell, Cleveland, 2008; F. Chalcraft, Buffalo, 1945; C. Moses, Toledo, 1936.

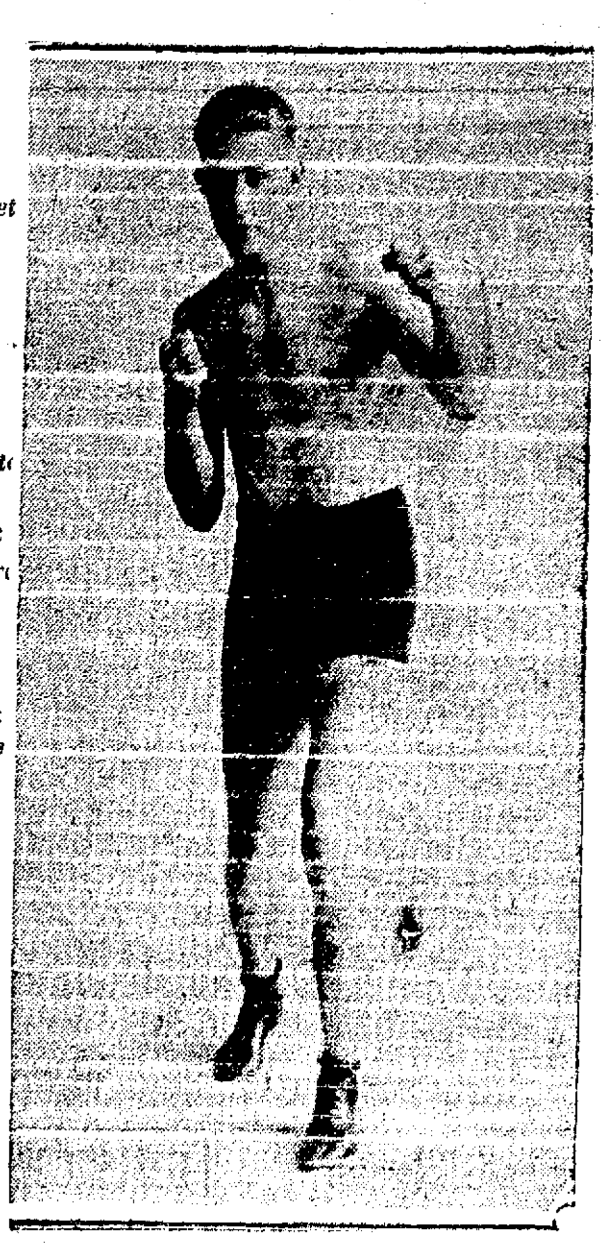
Meets Billy Shade Tonight



JACK REEVES, who is shown here and who will meet BILLY SHADE in the ring at the Auditorium tonight, is promising to make the return debut of the Concord boy an unpleasant one. That is what Reeves hopes to do, but Shade says that he will make his debut a successful one at Reeves' expense. At any rate, the main attraction should be a good one as both boys are willing mixers.

ELIGIBLE GOLFERS FOR CALIFORNIA AMATEUR PLAY ARE ANNOUNCED

The announcement of the annual handicap rating of the Northern California Golfers was made last night and contains close on to 300 names. Players listed below are eligible to compete in the amateur championship to be held over the Berkeley course on April 25. Should 11 and under handicapped golfers not enter in sufficient numbers those with 12 for a handicap will be permitted to play over the new championship course at Berkeley, which is considered the finest test of golf in the northern part of the state. Dr. C. H. Walter (holder), Sequoyah, and Jack Neville, Claremont, in conjunction with Douglas Grant, now resident in England, occupy the premier position at scratch. Robert Hunter, who spent many months devising traps and hazards at Berkeley, will be asked to negotiate the course with a reduced handicap of 1. Frank Kales, of Claremont, is rated at 2.

The subscription cup contest which should have taken place at Claremont yesterday, was postponed on account of so many of the class A women players being out of town or unable to compete. An impromptu blind hole tournament was contested, in which nine of the eighteen holes are selected by lottery, and the competitor who scores best at selected holes is declared winner.

Mrs. H. A. Prole and Mrs. H. H. Sherwood tied for first prize with scores of 51 each, and have arranged to play off the match this morning. The selected holes were 1-6-7-11-12-13-15-16-17. Others who competed were Mrs. C. A. Stacey, Miss Violet Whitney, Mrs. L. W. Simpson, Mrs. W. J. Gardner, Mrs. Hugo Lorber, Mrs. R. R. Yates and Mrs. [illegible]. Mrs. J. C. Cushing and Miss Alice Knowles are both out of town, but expect to return in time for the forthcoming tournament.

An electric tournament has been started at Claremont for the women members and will continue during April and May. This is one form of contest which usually holds the interest of the competitors until the close of the event.

Card Track Athletes Win From Trojans

Distance Events Give Stanford Point Landslide; Anderson Stars

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 4.—Stanford scored an expected victory over U. S. C. on the Stanford track yesterday afternoon, 72-57, despite the valiant efforts of Charlie Paddock and Otto Anderson, the Trojan stars. Anderson was the bright light of the day, piling up 18 points with first places in the 125-yard high hurdles, 220-yard low hurdles, and broad jump, and second place in the 100-yard dash.

Charlie Paddock, capturing the 100 and 220, accounted for 10 points more while Martz turned in a win over the two Stanford stars, Williams and Van Judah, in the 440. Other than that the Trojans failed to distinguish themselves to any marked degree.

Norman Anderson won the shotput and discus throw, but had little or no competition while his teammates had plenty in their events.

Hayes of Stanford turned a fast two miles, setting the best time record for a Stanford or California man this year with 9:53 despite the fact that there were but two in the race, both Stanford men.

Slow times were in order in the other events of the track, save the hurdles, where Otto Anderson skimmed over the obstacles in fast time.

With Black out of competition, Dennis of Stanford came to the front as a pole vaulter and won over White of U. S. C. with 11 feet 9 inches better than Norris of California could do last Saturday when held to a tie by the Trojan athlete.

The summary:

100-yard dash—Paddock (U. S. C.) won; O. Anderson (U. S. C.), second; J. Campbell (S.), third. Time—10 seconds.

220-yard dash — Paddock (U. S. C.) won; J. Campbell (S.), second; Clark (S.), third. Time—21 3-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—Martz (U. S. C.) won; Williamson (S.), second; Van Judah (S.), third. Time— 51 2-5 seconds.

880-yard run—Daly (S.) won; Dole (S.), second; McIntosh (S.), third. Time—2 minutes 2 1-5 seconds.

Mile run—Gurley (S.) won; Thayer (S.), second; Woods (U. S. C.), third. Time—4 minutes 32 3-5 seconds.

2-mile run—Hayes (S.) won; French (S.), second (no third awarded). Time—9 minutes 53 2-5 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—O. Anderson (U. S. C.) won; Dole (S.), second (no third awarded). Time—15 2-5 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles—O. Anderson (U. S. C.) won; Falk (S.), second; Rogers (U. S. C.), third. Time —24 3-5 seconds.

Shot put, distance 46 ft. 2 in.—N. Anderson (U. S. C.), won; Richards (S.), second;; Ludeke (S.), third.

Broad jump, distance 22 ft.—O. Anderson (U. S. C.) won; Rogers (U. S. C.), second; Minsky (S.), third.

High jump, height 6 ft.—Kemnitzer (S.), won; Arthur (S.), second; Davis (U. S. C.), third.

Pole vault, height 11 ft. 9 in.—Dennis (S.) won; White (U. S. C.), second; Schofield (S.), third.

Javelin, distance 178 ft. 3 in.—Farish (S.) won; Eskew (S.), second; Kelly (S.), third.

Discus, distance 131 ft. 8 in.—N. Anderson (U. S. C.) won; J. D. Campbell (S.), second; Arthur (S.), third.

Relay—Won by University of Southern California. Team of Paddock, Johnson, Hughes, Martz over Shermund, Schofield, Van Judah, Williamson.

Warner Arrives On Stanford Farm

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 4.—"Pop" Warner, Stanford's new football coach, arrived on the campus yesterday, a day ahead of schedule, to take charge of spring football practice. Along with Warner came Tiny Thornhill, assistant coach, who was in charge of the Stanford line-men last season.

Coach Andy Kerr immediately issued a call for football candidates and fifty or sixty aspirants are expected to turn out at the first practice.

Warner made no predictions for [illegible] he aimed to give his team more specialized work and looked for improvement.

Foley Out With Lynch Challenge

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 4.—Jack Allen, manager of Vic Foley of this city, claimant to the Canadian bantamweight championship, yesterday announced that he had sent a challenge to Joe Lynch, world title holder. Allen suggested that a match between Foley and Lynch take place in Shelby, Mont., this summer, if arrangements for a fight there between Tommy Gibbons and Jack Dempsey are effected.

The Hardest Fight Of My Career

By PINKY MITCHELL.

It may be strange, but really the boy who gave me the hardest battle was Al Thomas. The bout was held at Rock Island, Ill., during the season of 1918. It wasn't that Thomas gave me a trouncing or anything like that; on the other hand, it was I who handed out the beating, but what a tough guy he turned out to be.

Thomas came at me hammer and tongs and never backed an inch. He could hit, too, as he landed some pretty solid punches on my jaw. It was only my good condition and youth that saved me for the time being.

Finally in the third I began to reach Thomas with right crosses. Four times I dropped him in that round, and even then he came back fighting like a bull before the period ended.

Round after round until the bell ended the scheduled ten-round set-to I slipped Mr. Thomas flush on the jaw, but he shook off the punches like a dog rids himself of water, and he continually kept piling in. While Thomas did not score with any telling punches, I was a pretty tired young fellow when the match ended.

I was sorry to hear that afterward he had been killed during the war in France.

Aside from Thomas, I think Clonie Tait, the Canadian champion, gave me a pretty rugged battle. Clonie is a vicious puncher and one who continually hits. There is hardly any let-up in his swinging. It certainly kept me stepping fast keeping out of range of his haymakers.

In all my battles I never felt that I had ever been pushed to the limit. Now my ambition is to get on with Benny Leonard. I had the chance New Year's day, but fate was against me, and I was taken ill with a case of bursitis in my shoulder the night before the contest.

Walla Walla Quintet Wins Opening Play

Western Entries Survive the First Round With Exception of Hagerman.

CHICAGO, April 4.—Disappointment and joy were the mixed feelings apparent as the University of Chicago's national invitation interscholastic basketball tournament opened its second day.

Play started yesterday with the Walla Walla, Wash., High against Gloversville, N. Y. Walla Walla twice won 36 to 29. Nanticoke, Pa., another eastern aggregation, was downed by Miles City, Mont., 32 to 22.

The championship hopes of the Dupont High, Louisville, Ky., winners this season from the Lexington, Ky., Blue Devils, last year's titleholders, were shattered by Osage, Iowa, High 27 to 23, after the game was carried into an extra period. By virtue of that win the Osage basketeers today stood out as one of the strongest competitors for the 1923 title.

Lorain, Ohio, regarded as another strong contender for the title, won its game from Aurora, Minn., 28 to 24. The team from Hagerman, N. M., that learned the game on a dirt court without the aid of a coach was defeated.

The result of yesterday's games was as follows:

Walla Walla, Wash., 36; Cloversville, N. Y., 29; Nanticoke, Pa., 32; Miles City, Mont., 22; Charleston, S. C., 43; Dallas, Texas, 22; New Trier, Chicago, 33; Hume Fogg, Nashville, Tenn., 23; Mesa, Ariz., 33.

Four-Rounders Are Ready for Tonight's Show

IS IT RIGHT TO BREAK AN ENGAGEMENT ?

HARRIS has just been telling about it. He is a very angry and embittered young man. He has discovered that all women are dishonest, heartless, faithless cheats, incapable of any sincerity, callous grafters, etc., etc., etc., so naturally he's a little forceful on the subject. It's all because Alice has broken her engagement with him.

Harris is 36—Alice, 21. Harris is conventional, staid and more than a little set in his ways. Alice is an enthusiastic, impressionable little radical. They have been engaged for the last eight months and were to have been married next week. The cards were out, the clergyman engaged, the house all furnished. Lots of furniture. Lots of house. Lots of fuss in general and Harris going around looking like a whole Family Tree.

Then suddenly, without warning Alice broke her engagement. She sent for Harris, and in a breathless, rather theatrical but wholly determined little speech, she poured it all out—the mounting doubt and dislike, the growing sense of incompatibility, the terror of giving her life to one who would always be a stranger. So that was all and there was his ring. Harris pleaded, stormed and finally broke into angry recriminations. Why, she couldn't back out now—it wasn't decent—what would people say—she had promised him, didn't a promise mean anything to her—consider his feelings, his pride, all the money he had spent—Why, she simply COULDN'T—!!

But she could, and did. So now Harris knows that all women are faithless jades. It is a deep wound and a poisoned one, nor is it likely that, at his age, he will ever entirely recover. He will acquire that little sneer with which so many men meet the mention of a woman's "sense of honor." Yet—has Harris any real cause for resentment? How binding is an engagement? Is it binding at all, in case the love which prompted it has ceased or proved a fallacy? Should an engagement not rather be regarded as a trial alliance, subject to all possible tests, analyses and readjustments?

Many a sensitive girl has gone to a repulsive union because she has been taught that the breaking of an engagement was dishonorable and unwomanly. Many a man has doomed himself to lifelong tragedy rather than defy the convention which brands a man as a cad who breaks his engagement to a woman. Yet there is nothing dishonorable or unfair in the frank breaking of a marriage engagement. The truly unclean, unfair act is the forcing of an unwilling spirit and shrinking body into the marriage covenant. That, indeed, is a profaning of all that is most high in man.

Here's one of the letters which makes me glad I'm conducting this column. "Happy" wanted to know just how one should budget a salary of $120. Here's an answer from the sort of a woman who makes housekeping one of the Fine Arts. Whoever she is, here's my friendliest smile to her.

Dear Jerry: Please tell Happy she's wise to put her finances upon the budget basis. It is the only way to feel at ease, ready for responsibilities, and as the statesman said—"The way to resume is to resume." So with a budget—just arrange it and start in living up to it! It is simply the difference between arranging things beforehand and knowing exactly how they are going to fall out, or letting them come haphazard, expenditures often exceding the money in hand.

The great advantage of the budget system is in the self-restraint and system it imposes upon us. If one has her various items set down in a list and sees that every penny must be rigidly accounted for, if ends are to meet, why, one "goes and does it," as the famous character in Dickens said. One proceeds to see that the total of the list fits the fund that will be on hand, and refrains from spending what she hasn't. I have made a trial list for Happy's $120, setting down the items and sums she mentions. Probably there are some necessary items not included in this list, and, like the rest of us, she will have to spend some hours of her evening or other time to get her list in order. It is a process of robbing Peter to pay Paul, cutting down on one thing in order to meet something else. Debts, and insurance, and saving, can't all be met adequately, along with living expenses, out of a small or moderate salary, so it means close figuring, doing without, or waiting awhile. The plan is to put EVERY unavoidable item on to the list, and to put opposite it, at the beginning of the month, the sum absolutely required to meet it, but if any balance is left out of any sum set aside opposite an item, at the end of the month, why, add that balance to "Savings." But some items will have to be accumulated, sometimes, through several pay days. That is the beauty of the budget. If one wants a rug or house linen that will come to $8 instead of the $4 one has for "House replenishing," one must wait until next pay-day, and presto! Behold the $8!

My pay-day is once a week and my budget arranged on that basis, and several of my items receive but 50 cents each, but I find the 50 cent pieces soon grow into the dollars I need for those items. Whereas without the budget system there would be no such systematic growth of the little into the much. Many of us housewives make ends meet by cutting down on our "Clothing," deciding we can and must postpone that expenditure. But in the budget system, a little, at any rate, will be accumulating. But even a budget will not perform miracles! I have known the magazines to declare it is just as easy for housewife to live on a small sum as a larger one, for it is MERELY to cut down a little the sum set aside for each item. But I have my own ideas as to how easy that is. Possibly Happy will not find too much difficulty. It takes contriving, but it pays in comfort.

I have actual envelopes, purses, bags and boxes for the various sums on my budget, with a small written card in each, that the different sums may be held for their rightful purposes. Probably others have their own methods, equally satisfactory.

Child's History of the HUMAN RACE

By Ramon Coffman

GAMA DARES THE SOUTH ATLANTIC

At almost the same time that Columbus set out on his third trip toward America, a great voyage began from Portugal. The plan of that volage was to go around southern Africa to India.

The man in charge was called Vasco da Gama. He was an able and daring seaman, in whom the king had great faith.

Vasco da Gama, as pictured by an artist four hundred years ago.

With several small ships, Gama left Lisbon in July, 1497. He sailed southward and was seen in the midst of a great fog. The vessels lost sight of one another but all steered for the Cape Verde Islands. There they joined again and took on board new supplies of wood, water and meat.

Then it was that "Captain-Major" Gama ordered a daring move. He told his helmsmen to cut right down through the South Atlantic ocean. Before that, the ships of Portugal had been in the habit of keeping close to the shore. Now the coast was forgotten. It was a battle with the great ocean.

Two weeks passed, and there was no sight of land. There was a sharp wind, and one of the main sails on Gama's own ship was broken. It took seventy-two hours for it to be repaired.

A few days later, "signs of land" were seen. There were birds "which looked like herons" flying overhead, and there were whales in the water; but land itself could not be sighted.

For three months and a day, they sailed the open sea, then, at 9 o'clock one autumn morning, they beheld the coast.

The joy of the crew was perhaps as great as that of Columbus' men when they reached the first Bahama island. As a matter of fact, the men from Portugal had been longer on the ocean. They were so overjoyed that they fired cannon after cannon and decked their ships with flags.

Anchor was cast in a broad harbor, which they called the Bay St. Helena. The bold sailors had reached the coast of Africa. They were near the southern end of the continent. The North Star could no longer be seen at night.

A hydraulic cartridge is used in coal mines where blasting is dangerous. It works on the principle of the hydrostatic press, splitting the coal by the pressure of water. A cartridge containing quicklime, which expands under the action of water, has also been used as a substitute for explosives in coal mining.

A Tip

I'm speaking now—
To those in love—
And those who are quite keen to marry—
But still who hesitate to plunge—
Into the pool of matrimony—
For fear the water be too cold—
Or then perhaps it might be hot—
At least for comfort—
And so they pine in bachelorhood—
And kid themselves that they are glad—
There's no one there to take their pay—
When they come home—
Unto a hall-room bleak and drear—
But ever something seems to call them—
Some inner voice—
Yet Bachelor Bill—
Still dreading lest that he be stung—
And draw a maid—
Who in nowise meet the standard—
Of what he planned a wife should be—
Bill dwells alone—grows pessimistic—
And sings—"No wedding bells for me—
For maids are not what they should be—
They're vain and lazy—
At least some are—
And it would be my luck to draw a bloomer"—
I know it's pretty hard to pick—
The chaff from out the golden grain—
For sparkling eyes and pouting lips—
Have ways of luring you to do—
The thing that reason tells you not—
For when a man is deep in love—
Calm reason has an outing—
So knowing well the awful chance—
We frigid-footed males must take—
In blind man's buff—
I've figured out a system clear—
I'll try to get it patented—
And I will guarantee right now—
That if you put it to the test—
You'll live to bless my memory—
And cry upon the spot where I am buried—
Here is my system—Follow close—
If you're in love and have some fear—
That Betty is but smirk and smile—
And nothing but a bunch of giggles—
Just watch her when she is with mother—
If she is manicured—marcelled—
And chews a wad of snapping gum—
While mother washes dishes—with tired eyes—
Look out—
You'll never get far up the hill—
With one like that.
But if she comes with biscuit dough—
Close clinging to her busy hands—
And whispers low—
"You come and peel potatoes—
For it is mother's holiday when I am home"—
Why boy—forsake your hall bedroom—
You've got a prize—
One who'll grow closer day by day—
Worth never lies.

The Detour in the Bridal Path

A young couple, on their honeymoon, spent two days in a small southern city. When they got off the train an old negro man, who served as porter, runner, chief bell-boy and general factotum for the principal hotel, greeted them at the depot. He took charge of their baggage and led the way for them to an ancient vehicle.

As he drove them along the street the young husband took him into their confidence:

"Now, look here, Uncle," he said, "we don't want anybody here to know that we've just been married. Probably some of the other guests will speak to you about us and we count on you to throw them off the track and help us keep our secret."

"Boss," said the old man, "don't you an' the young lady worry. Jest trust me. 'Tain't nobody goin' fin' out by exin' me questions."

But when the pair came down from their room that evening for supper, they found themselves a target for the interested stares of everyone else in the diningroom. All eyes were turned in their direction. At the conclusion of a somewhat hurried and decidedly embarrassing meal, the young man hunted up the old negro.

"Say," he demanded, "I thought you promised not to give us away, and yet everybody around this hotel is looking at us and grinning."

"Boss," said the old negro fervently, "ef dey's learned the truff, dey didn't none of 'em learn it frum me—naw suh!"

"Well, did anybody speak to you about us after we had registered?" "Yas suh, sevr'l."

"Did any of them want to know whether we were on our wedding trip?" "Yas suh, they did."

"Well, what did you say to them?"

"I sez to 'em, 'Naw, indeedy, them young folks ain't no bridal couple—they's jest a couple of chums.'"

The Adventures of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy

"YOU'LL be sorry that you didn't let us capture you, Betsy Bonnet String," the bottle imp called across the Giggling Brook to where Betsy Bonnet String and the Raggedys sat eating the picnic lunch with the Flying Squirrel children.

"You're just angry because we escaped!" Betsy Bonnet String called back.

"If it hadn't been for Freddy and Freda and Florence Flying Squirrel taking you across the Giggling Brook upon their backs, we would have caught you!" the Geewhiliker called.

"I know it!" Betsy Bonnet String laughed. "And that is why we like the Flying Squirrel children so well, isn't it Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy?"

"YOU'LL BE SORRY THAT YOU DIDN'T LET US CAPTURE YOU," THE BOTTLE IMP CALLED.

"Inded it is!" the Raggedys replied.

"Anyway, we will wait here until you come back to this side of the Giggling Brook!" the bottle imp howled.

"Ha! Ha! Ha! we won't come back to that side!" Betsy Bonnet String teased. "There's just as much fun being upon this side of the brook!"

"Then we will come over to that side of the Giggling Brook and catch you!" the Geewhiliker howled.

"Ha! Ha! You can't swim across! And there is no bridge!" Betsy Bonnet String laughed again. "You can't frighten us, we know you can't get across!"

"Then we will run around the Giggling Brook!" the bottle imp cried. "That's the way we will get upon the other side!" the bottle imp shouted.

"Oh! We hope you don't do that!" Betsy Bonnet String said, pretending to be afraid.

"See!" the bottle imp whispered to the Geewhiliker, "She knows that if we run around the Giggling Brook we will be on the other side and can catch her."

"Then that is just what we will do!" the Geewhiliker whispered back to the bottle imp. "I'll run around this end of the brook and you can run around the other end of the brook!" So the bottle imp ran one way and the Geewhiliker ran the other.

Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy and Betsy Bonnet String and the Flying Squirrels watched the foolish bottle imp and the foolish Geewhiliker running in opposite directions. "Do you know what?" Betsy Bonnet String laughed. "Those silly creatures intend running clear around the brook!"

"Then, let us give them a surprise!" the Flying Squirrel children laughed with Betsy Bonnet String. So they gathered up their lunch and put it in the basket again. Then they carried Betsy Bonnet String and the Raggedys to the top of a tree and flew with them to the other side of the Giggling Brook. Pretty soon the bottle imp came clompity clomp through the woods and the Geewhiliker came clompity clomp through the woods and they jumped right out where they expected Betsy Bonnet String and her friends to be.

"Whee!" Betsy and the others cried. "Did you ever get left?"

And the bottle imp and the Geewhiliker were so ashamed at being fooled they just sneaked away and never said a word.

GRACIE WAS TOO SAUCY

Lucy Macy went with Casey—with Orlando Carter Casey—
This Miss Macy was no prissie, she was flossie, glossy, lacy.
O. C. Casey told his Lucy that she shouldn't be so flossy,
And saucy Lucy Macy then called O. C. Casey "bossy."

Lucy's chum was Gracie Stacy, Gracie was a little hussie:
She said: "Casey, you're a sissy; you're too gassy and too fussy."
Casey said to Gracie Stacy: "You're a saucy goosie, Gracie;
And your language is too loose, see? And a bit too racy, Gracie."

Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE CAKE.

Uncle Wiggily was hopping along through an April shower with his umbrella held over his head, and his paws filled with bundles, as he had been to the store for Nurse Jane.

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" suddenly laughed the bunny rabbit gentleman to himself out loud, and for no particular reason, as far as could be seen. For no one had told him a joke and he wasn't reading the funny paper.

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny rabbit gentleman again.

"Why are you so jolly?" suddenly asked a voice, and Uncle Wiggily quickly looked out from beneath his umbrella, for he feared it might be the Skillery Scallery Alligator or the Bob Cat.

"Eh? What did you say and who are you?" asked Uncle Wiggily, for he saw no one.

"I asked why you are so jolly, laughing that way," went on the voice. "And I am one of your friends—a Squiggle Bug," and with that the bunny gentleman saw, sitting on a stump, a spotted Squiggle Bug.

"I'm going to take you off to my den!"

"Oh, hello, little bug!" cried the rabbit gentleman. "Don't you want to come under my umbrella and keep dry? It is raining hard."

"Thank you, I'll crawl under a toadstool after a while," answered the Squiggle Bug. "I always use a toadstool for an umbrella. But tell me, why were you laughing?"

"I was thinking what a joke I could play on the Fox or Wolf if they should catch me now, and carry me off to their den to nibble my ears," answered the bunny gentleman. "I have something with me better than the mustard with which I fooled the Fox by making a custard."

"What have you?" asked the Squiggle Bug. "Tell me."

Uncle Wiggily looked all around to make sure no one was listening, and then he whispered in the ear of the Squiggle Bug:

"I have red pepper!"

"Oh!" cried the Squiggle Bug. "Red pepper," and he squirmed around on the stump.

"I hope I spilled none on you," said Uncle Wiggily quickly, as he looked at one of the packages he carried.

"No," laughed the Squiggle Bug, "you just tickled me when you whispered in my ear. Well, I wish you luck if the Fox or Wolf catches you."

"Thank you," said Uncle Wiggily, and he hopped on through the rain.

He had not gone much farther before, all of a sudden, out from behind a tree jumped the Woozie Wolf. And before Uncle Wiggily saw the bad chap, on account of holding the umbrella low down, the Wolf had caught hold of the rabbit.

"Now I'm going to take you off to my den and nibble your ears!" growled the Wolf. "And you can't fool me, as you did the Fox, by mixing up mustard in a custard. I shall not take anything yellow—so don't try it on me!"

"All right, I won't," sadly said Uncle Wiggily, as the Wolf dragged him off through the woods, getting the bunny quite wet, for the Wolf made him put down the umbrella.

"Here we are!" snarled the Wolf, opening the door of his den, thrusting Uncle Wiggily inside and following himself. "Now for some ear-nibbles. What have you there?" he asked the rabbit, as he saw the bundles in the bunny's paws.

"Things for Nurse Jane to make a cake," answered Uncle Wiggily. "How would you like me to make you a cake before you nibble my ears?" went on Uncle Wiggily. "I could mix you up a fine cake—I

"No mustard!" cried the Wolf, raising one paw.

"No mustard. I promise you!" said the bunny. "How would you like a—well, let us say a strawberry short cake?"

"That's red—strawberry short cake is," said the Wolf. "Very well, make me a red cake. I'll eat it before I nibble your ears."

Uncle Wiggily mixed up some eggs, sugar and red pepper, not letting the Wolf see him put in the last. The Wolf looked in the bowl and, seeing the red batter, said:

"Yes, that's a strawberry cake, all right. I guess you aren't fooling me." Then, not waiting for the cake to be baked, he swallowed it all raw from the bowl. But, no sooner was it down, than the red pepper began to burn like fire and the Wolf turned four somersaults, one after the other, and out of the cave he ran, howling:

"Fooled! Fooled, just as the Fox was! Oh, ice water!"

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny as he hopped home. "I wish the Squiggle Bug could have seen the Wolf turn somersaults!" So everything happened for the best, you see. And if the ice pick doesn't take the tin whistle out of the rubber doll's back and put it in the rice pudding, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the tree squirrel.

Look Before You Leap—At His (or Her) Clothes

Dorothy Dix

Shows How Clothes Make the Man—and the Woman

You Can Size Up Your Affinity's Character By a Detailed Study of His Appearance

WE are told that we mustn't judge people by appearances, and that the brain of a genius may be covered by a shabby hat, and the heart of a knight beat under a ragged coat, and so on.

All of which is doubtless true. But, when all is said, people's clothes are an index to their characters and furnish you with a mighty accurate yard stick by which to measure them. Personally, I have never known an individual who was neat and tidy about his dress who didn't have an orderly mind. Nor have I ever known a man or woman who was sloppy and untidy in person who wasn't full of vague, sloppy ideas. Nor have I ever known any one who dressed unsuitably and in bad taste who had good judgment, or any hard, horse sense.

IF I were a man contemplating matrimony, I would give the once over very carefully to the way a girl dressed before I popped the question to her.

IF she dressed too well and looked like a daily hint from Paris, I would know that she was one of those women whose brains are cut on the bias and shirred in the middle, and who have no thought or idea or aspiration that does not center in clothes. Because only by making a religion of dress can you obtain perfection in it. So unless I were in the cloak and suit trade or the millinery business I should argue that I would not find her her a very congenial life companion.

IF she dressed beyond her means, I should know that she was extravagant. Also that she was heartless, because she shows she lacks pity and sympathy in being willing to run her old father in debt to pay for her gewgaws, and I should hesitate to assume her shopping ticket.

IF a girl wore soiled finery, if her chiffon looked as if she hung it up on the floor when she took it off, I should know that she would make one of the housekeepers where evrything is at sixes and sevens, where the tablecloth is always spotted and the beds half made and you can write your name on the dust on the furniture; and that she would be the kind of woman that lies on a couch and reads the last sixth best seller, and runs off after every new fad that comes along.

If her clothing always needed pressing and her shoes polishing and her beads were coming off, I'd know she was lazy and shiftless, and that she would feed her family out of paper bags, and always be behind time, and that she would never know where her money went because she was too shiftless ever to take any trouble about anything.

AND if she always bought the wrong things, if she always had a dress that emphasized the faults of her figure, and worse clothes that swore at her complexion and the color of her hair, and hats that looked as if her worst enemy had bought them for her, I'd know she had absolutely no sense of values, no discrimination, no judgment, no taste. She would be the sort of a woman who always does the wrong thing in any emergency, and who can never open her mouth without putting her foot in it, as an Irishman might say.

BUT if a girl were always neat and tidy; if she were appropriately dressed for every occasion; if she were dressed suitably to her rank and station, and, particularly, if the heels of her shoes were always straight and square, I'd know that she was a girl of intelligence, with a sense of the eternal fitness of things, a girl with tact and discretion, and that she would make the kind of a wife that is a helpmeet instead of a hindrance.

AND if I were a girl contemplating matrimony, I should give a man's appearance a very thorough consideration before I tied up with him for life.

IF he was slouchy and slovenly, with a too casual acquaintance with a safety razor, I should say "no," not only because an untidy man is disgusting to a refined woman, but because the kind of man who looks like a tramp eventually drifts into the tramp class.

THE man who hasn't enough personal pride to keep himself clean never succeeds in life.

IF a man wears his hair too long and his coat sleeves and trousers too short and buys shoddy materials when he can afford good, I should say "no," because his clothes show that he lacks judgment and he will never get along in the world.

IF a man wears clothes that are out of fashion; if he wears a year-before-last shape of hat; if he wears loose trousers when other people are wearing tight ones, and the wrong sort of collars and ties and shoes, it shows that he lacks observation and perception and that he doesn't keep up with the times. He will never see an opportunity unless it slugs him in the face and he will never make the kind of man who is a go-getter.

IF a man's clothes look as if they had been pitchforked at him; if he wears a coat of one suit and trousers of another, and a waistcoat of still another suit, and a red necktie with a purple shirt, it shows that he is not careful about detail or little things. He is not apt to be a money-maker, and he will make the sort of a husband who never remembers an anniversary, or to mail a letter, or to wipe his feet on the doormat, or to pick up his clothes, or to refrain from scattering cigar ashes on the best rug, and the chances are that his wife will have to save the money if there is every any saved in the family.

BUT the man who is willing to deny his stomach to put it on his back, who, if he cannot do both, will go to a cheap restaurant in order to go to a good tailor, is a good matrimonial chance because he is far-seeing and has ambition and he will rise in the world.

THE man who keeps a shabby coat pressed so that it looks like a good one will get on because he will always make the most of his opportunities. So will the man whose clothes show by their selection and the way they are worn that he is wide awake and Johnny on the spot.

My Marriage Problems

Adele Garrison's New Revelations of a Wife

HOW ALLEN DRAKE CONTRIVED TO GET HIS OWN WAY.

To all appearances Allen Drake had not moved a muscle since I had entered the room. With his long, womanish but undeniably beautiful eyelashes almost veiling his keen eyes, he stood erect, yet with the curious effect of languid indolence which he always affects. As I approached him I had the eerie feeling of one attempting a conversation with a statue. And for a long, rude second after I had greeted him he neither moved nor spoke.

Then, just as a curtain is drawn swiftly up from before a stage setting, he lifted his eyelids and I saw a sardonic gleam of mockery in his brilliant eyes.

"Your kindness is too overwhelming, miladi," he drawled. "I feel suffocated in so warm and flamboyant a welcome. By the way, just in passing, as it were," he stressed the banal phrases, "might I inquire if the fair and goodly youth opposite broke any bones in your hand when he clasped it just now"

He made the outlandish inquiry with so unmoved a face, so matter-of-fact a manner, that involuntarily I took the bait and replied indignantly:

"Why, what do you mean?"

An unholy mirth danced in his eyes for a second, then fled as he drawled his answer.

A Mocking Conversation.

"I am so relieved to hear it. I feared the hand had been disabled, but I see there must be some other reason for your penurious attitude concerning it. I trust that it is not—"

I interrupted him ruthlessly, for I knew that he was capable of keeping up his nonsense indefinitely if it so suited his mocking mood, and I was physically conscious of Lillian's amused eyes and of Tom Chester's wondering ones fixed upon me.

"If all this rigmarole is because I haven't shaken hands with you—"

"Marvelous penetration! Wonderful deduction!" he interrupted softly.

"I'll tell you now," I went on as if I had not heard him, although I was furiously conscious that the tell-tale color was creeping into my cheeks, "that I really thought you were asleep when I spoke to you, and I hated to startle you by offering you my hand."

"I'm awake now," he retorted significantly.

"Very well." I swept him a mocking little curtsey, to make the belated handshake appear less conspicuous, and held out my hand to him. I knew that if I did not, the teasing devil which looked from his eyes would never have given up its purpose to compel the handshake.

"As a Quoter—"

If my father and Lillian had been the only persons present I would have made an issue of wills upon the trifling incident, so strong was the antagonism this particular lordly manner of Allen Drake's always rouses in me. But Tom Chester had never seen Mr. Drake before, and he was a stranger to our circle. It would be rudeness to a guest to carry on so silly a contest. Besides—

My introspection ended suddenly, for Mr. Drake, instead of shaking my hand, drew it upward and bent his head toward it as if to kiss it in old-world fashion. With an adroit twist I slipped it out of his grasp and left him [illegible] for Lillian's [illegible] vantage point I saw him look quickly not at me, but at the face of young Mr. Chester standing opposite, and staring at him with something primitive, challenging in his gaze.

That Lillian noticed the oddly antagonistic exchange of glances between the polished man of the world and the boyish young ex-soldier I was sure, for she spoke quickly and decisively.

"Come, folks, let's sit at the feet of Gamaliel," she bowed prettily to my father, "and get this business out of the way before Katie comes down. Here, Allen, stand at my right hand and hold the bridge with me."

"As a quoter of poetry, you're a wonderful character," he told her with a provocative drawl, but he obeyed her, taking the chair she indicated.

"If you'll just bring those chairs over this way, Chester," she went on. "Thank you."

Whether by accident or not her arrangement left a chair for me next to that of young Mr. Chester. But instead of taking it, I went unobtrusively to my father, drew a low chair close to him, and sat down in it, with Lillian on my other side. I did not look at either Mr. Chester or Mr. Drake as I did so, but I caught a comprehending, mocking gleam in Lillian's eyes which made me most uncomfortable.

The next instant my father's hand touched my shoulder in a protecting, understanding clasp, and I put my hand up to his caressing fingers with a feeling that no petty annoyance could touch me [illegible].

ALONG THE AVENUE

"This is a man's garment"

A CAPRICE OF CURIOSITY

THE Dawson Finishing School was an exclusive institution. The young women accepted by it to be trained that they might reflect credit upon their parents when they entered society had responsibilities as to conduct. And the school was so well patronized by the financially and socially elect that no girl of merely ordinary prospects could hope to enter it.

The Misses Dawson, spinsters, directors of the school, sat together in their executive office one morning, shaking their heads and whispering. Their faces pictured dismay and their manner determination. They awaited the coming of four of their students who had been summoned to their austere presence.

Something which seemed quite scandalous had been discovered by underlings and reported to the spinsters.

The four girls in question were intimates, and had been placed in a dormitory by themselves. And they were to be examined in secret, for it would not do to let the matter involved become known to other young women in the institution.

All at once the room, ordinarily as unattractive as the spinsters themselves, was made brilliant by youth and its trappings. The Misses Hackley, Lessel, Jay and Nestell, the culprits, tripped in. It can almost be said they danced in, for they were buoyant. Their faces were fresh and joyous, their attire fetching, and their types of beauty contrasted to make a veritable bouquet of loveliness. They were the Three Graces, with a fourth added, and they typed modern femininity in the most attractive stage.

"Be seated, young ladies, please," said Marilla Dawson, the elder spinster, who was usually mistress of ceremonies. If such a thing were possible, acid might have been distilled from her tone.

The girls fluttered charmingly into chairs. At any rate, their graces would have charmed any but the spinsters.

"I have a serious matter to broach," continued Marilla. Sophronia, the younger spinster, nodded affirmation.

"As all of you are in one room," Marilla went on, "there can be no great secrets between you. In other words, what is known to one must be known to all."

The girls looked at one another smiling. Miss Nestell, who had the most mischievous air, giggled.

[illegible] The sibilation was Marilla Dawson's. "This is no trifling matter, young ladies!" Looking at them sternly for a moment, she took from an enfolding paper a silken garment. "Have you seen this before? I ask you all." Rising, she held it to view.

There was no answer, but it was plain that if the four girls had released what they were suppressing with difficulty the result would have been a chorus of mirth.

Marilla Dawson still held up the garment—a pajama coat—and then brought from the paper its complement, shuddering. "This is a man's garment!" Her intonation was spinsterish. "And a man's name is here, embroidered." She pointed at the collar with an accusing finger. "This was found in the dormitory occupied by you in common. And that is not all!" From another folded paper she took several little boxes. "These are cigarettes. I know nothing of such things, but they seem to have been specially made, for they bear the monogram of the person whose name is embroidered on this garment!"

The girls could no longer suppress giggles.

"I am amazed at your levity, young ladies!" Marilla's voice was lifted above its usual monotone. "One of you—perhaps all of you—can explain, as explain you must. It is a scandalous thing! I shall dismiss you now, cutting your usual amusements for the day. Go to the dormitory and make up your minds to confess. Then we shall see what must be done. The usefulness of this school—against which no breath of scandal has before been possible—I fear is over for you all. When you have confessed I shall advise with your parents." And Marilla majestically waved the girls away.

The girls departed, but they giggled on the other side of the door.

The spinster sisters sat looking at each other, horrified by the problem, when a visitor was announced. They managed to rise and greet her. She was an imposing woman.

"The Misses Dawson?" she asked.

"We are the Misses Dawson," Marilla replied.

"My errand is unusual. I know your school by reputation, and thus am the more surprised!"

"Surprised? And at what, pray? And your name, madam? You sent in no card." Marilla's dignity was appalling. But it did not disturb her visitor.

"Although we haven't met," she said, "I am a neighbor. I am Mrs. Christopher Barrough. I reside on the Avenue, opposite your school. Our grounds adjoin in the rear."

"Interesting detail, madam, but what has it to do with us?"

"It has something to do, I assure you. I am amazed at the character of some of the young women in your institution!"

"Ah!" Marilla had taken up the pajama coat and was scanning its collar. "Have you a son, madam, named Hugh Barrough?"

"Yes."

"Then perhaps you should be amazed at his character. This garment, which seems to belong to him, was found in one of our dormitories, with these." She held up a box of cigarettes.

"I recognize the articles. They are my son's. Two of your students—they must be bold creatures — were seen descending from the window in my son's room by a wisteria vine near midnight. These things explain their interesting excursion."

"But your son might explain the matter."

"His room is unoccupied. He has been abroad for a year."

Slug 8

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

ONLY the older men in the shop remember McAdam. When they speak of him they raise their eyebrows, unconsciously putting the old question. There was something queer about him for all of the foreman's explanation.

"You know I wouldn't be surprised," — it was Curry who spoke, one noon hour when we leaned against the building in the sun, waiting for the time to go back to the forms and the linotypes—"I wouldn't be surprised if sometimes, at night, McAdams comes back, his spirit I mean, and runs his fingers over the keyboard on Number Eight. He loved that machine more than [illegible]. The only time I ever saw him angry or excited was once when they tried to shift him to another machine."

Followed a significant silence, for the story was known to us all. "Yes, it was queer, wasn't it?" Curry asked, and he meant what was in our minds.

Upstairs they knew McAdam as Slug 8, for that was the identi[illegible] head of all the galleys of type he set. Slug 8 was usually accurate. He was gray of hair and face and as silent a man as the shop had ever seen. The boys said he moved his lips while he worked, and seemed to be holding a conversation with himself or imaginary companions.

It was when Dwiggins, the foreman tried to shift him to a head-setting machine that McAdam grew angry and protested.

"I've worked this Number 8 for years, since she was moved in. Why, I christened her, and I'll work her until I quit. What's more I'll leave the shop before I take any other machine." The foreman gave in. The care the old man had given the intricate linotype deserved the reward.

Then McAdam died, and in the days which followed the composing room was all but disrupted. First it was Bailey, who had been moved into the job the old operator had held. Due to McAdam's attention to it, Number 8 was a coveted machine. But Bailey quit it the first day.

"Mr. Dwiggins," Bailey tried to conceal his agitation, "I am off that Number 8! Don't have to ask me why, but I won't operate it." The man was pale and earnest. Dwiggins made another switch.

Stevens took the prize machine with a joyful grin, but within a week he retired.

"It's just because I want another," he confessed. "No special reason, but I won't operate that one."

"You're hiding out something on me," Dwiggins growled. "I can tell."

At the end of a month there was not a man in the shop who would operate Number 8. Dwiggins hired a tramp printer, who worked for a time and then left without stopping to pull his ticket. Then Dwiggins went after the mystery in earnest. Piece by piece he got the story, a tale which still is breathed around the place and keeps the old ones away from Number 8.

At night in the shop the power is left on and there is a click of belts over smooth pulleys. The machines are in readiness so that the pressure of a key will release a matrix, one of these brass key-like objects which [illegible] fan of the linotype and from which the letters are cast. A line of matrices goes to the mold together and, until the line is complete, they hang in position in front of the operator. At night when the last man quit, Number 8 was clear. Bailey, who had taken McAdam's place, was sure of that. In the morning there were four matrices hanging in front of him.

Thinking someone had brushed by and touched the keys, the op[illegible]ually he read the letters on the sides of the matrices. They were "8 M C A."

Bailey thought of McAdam and his queer way of whispering to unseen companions. It would be like him to resent anyone using the machine. The operator sought out Curry.

"That 8," Bailey said impressively, "stands for the machine, of course, and M C A is for McAdams. I'll be blamed if I touch his machine again."

After that both men took notice no mats were down when the machine was left. More than once in the morning there were from three to six in the line. Different ones, too, but they could figure it out. The older men said nothing at first, but as each operator made his discovery one more was added to the sharers of the secret. When Q U I T showed, there was not a man who would touch Number 8.

And how did Dwiggins figure it out? He stayed all night in the shop and kept his eye on the machine, his fingers gripping a revolver as if it would be of avail against spirits. In the early morning "Tom," the composing room cat jumped from a cabinet and, naturally, broke the leap by alighting on the keyboard of Number 8. Then he jumped to [illegible] clicked down. That is Dwiggins' explanation, which, as they say in the shop, may do for some fellows who did not know McAdams.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

By Judd Mortimer Lewis

When I woke up this morning and looked over towards Jubilee he was looking at me kinda funny. I guess he was wondering what I let them cut my hair off for. I bet he thinks I ain't so very bright. The bunch crawled into our barn through the manure hole this morning and told each other what their folks done to them because they had their hairs cut, nearly all of them said their mothers screamed but their fathers said they done the same things when they were boys. Butch said he could not tell what they done to him so he took off his clothes and showed us. It was a plenty. But he says it don't hurt him to set down if he does it careful.

Everybody in school tittered at Maggie, and the teacher covered up her mouth with her hand—as far as it would go—and then she had to let Maggie go out in the hall till she could stop crying. The teacher said us boys looked like a basket of eggs. At recess Butch told Maggie to not cry any more, he said that every time red hair is cut with dog clippers it comes in curley, and she did not believe him till we all said it was so. After that when the girls laughed at her she just stuck her tongue out at them and said they would wish they were her, except Youniss whose hair is already curley.

I do not know if Butch told her the truth or not, but maybe it would of come in curley if he had give a clippers a little twist while he was cutting her hair. Maggie cannot keep her hat on any more because the least wind sends it flying. Butch said to pull it down over her ears and cut holes in it for her ears and she could use them for buttons and button it on her bean. She said that just for that he would get another licking when he got home.

Youniss asted me to come over to her house and let her mother see my head, so I did, and she said boys are the limit, and when Youniss told her what we done to Maggie she laughed harder yet, but I bet she would not have laughed if it had been Youniss.

When we were going to eat supper my grandfather asted where my ant was and my mother said she was upstairs taking a bath, and then my grand father said, "Spring has came," and everyone was laughing when all at once water began to come through the ceiling and my mother screamed, but that did not stop the water, and we had to grab Annabelle Lee and skin out of the dining room.

After that when the girls laughed at her she just stuck her tongue out at them.

We found out that our sewer is stopped and when she pulled the plug out of the bath tub all of the water ran out between the floor and the ceiling. Anybody that keeps taking a bath every day ought to know that something is going to happen. That was one thing they could not blame me for. A plumber will fix it in the morning but I will have to be in school so I can't see how he does it. I went to bed early because everybody was mad.

To Be Continued.

GROUND WILL BE BROKEN FOR NEW COLLEGE CAMPUS

Stockton Will Have Notable Gathering of Methodists Sunday Afternoon.

SAN JOSE, April 4.—The College of the Pacific, California's oldest college, located in this city, will begin its rebirth at Stockton Sunday afternoon when Dr. Tully Cleon Knoles, president of the institution, will turn the first shovelful of dirt on the new forty-acre campus in that city. This ground-breaking ceremony will mark the opening of the $1,500,000 building construction for C. O. P. in its new field.

Scores of students of the college are planning to attend the ceremony at Stockton and large numbers of California's Methodist ministers, invited to attend, are expected to be present. Thomas Baxter, president of the Stockton Chamber of Commerce, will preside over the exercises. Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. Knoles will be the principal speakers of the occasion. Other speakers will include Dr. H. E. Milnes, superintendent of the Oakland district conference, and Dr. C. K. Richardson of the Sacramento district. The music for the occasion will be furnished by the Stockton high school band.

In the ground breaking Dr. Knoles will use a special shovel donated by the Stockton Kiwanis club to turn the first shovelful of earth.

College officials announced today that the new buildings at Stockton, at least the library, science hall, dormitories, sorority and fraternity houses and fine arts buildings, will be completed by September of next year, when it is expected that the College of the Pacific will bid its adieu to San Jose.

San Jose Sciots to Meet Head Officers

SAN JOSE, April 4.— Members of the local pyramid of Sciots are anticipating with much pleasure the meeting planned for Friday evening of this week, at which time Pharoah E. F. De La Mater and supreme pyramid officers will pay their official visit to San Jose. A band concert, a banquet and special entertainment features constitute the program for the big affair. San Jose Sciots band will make its first appearance in concert at the meeting under the leadership of Edward Towner. Sciot Trigwell is in charge of the entertainment program.

Law Invoked to End Breaking of Laws

SAN JOSE, April 4. — A federal abatement suit under the provisions of the Volstead act was filed yesterday by District Attorney Clarence C. Coolidge in the name of the United States of America against Joseph Loproto of Sunol street, the complaint alleging that the defendant kept intoxicating liquors on his premises. A temporary injunction, returnable on April 13, was issued by Superior Judge J. R. Welch, restraining Loproto from keeping, manufacturing or selling intoxicating liquor at the premises mentioned in the complaint.

Students Enroll at Teachers College

SAN JOSE, April 4.—Registrations for the spring quarter were held at the San Jose State Teachers' college today and yesterday, a total of nearly 1000 students enrolling. Of these over 100 were new students. Regular classes for the spring semester will start tomorrow.

A class of 300 will be graduated at the end of the quarter and will be the first class to receive a degree from the institution since the normal schools were made teachers' colleges.

Woman Beats Man With Hammer, Claim

MARTINEZ, April 4. — Eva Donovan of the Pacheco road, between here and Concord, told Deputy Sheriff Frank Larkin and Constable B. D. Rogers this morning that she had used a hammer on John Cadet, Concord man found badly beaten on the head, but Cadet denies her story and refuses to swear to a complaint against her.

The officers were called to the women's house last night on the report that there had been a killing. Cadet was brought to the hospital here. Doctors say he is in a serious condition, but that he will probably recover.

Santa Clara Students To Present Operetta

SANTA CLARA, April 4.—The students of the Santa Clara high school will produce the operetta "The Wild Rose" on the evening of April 20. After numerous tryouts the followig cast has been selected: Mildred Simmons, Gertrude Roelfson, Leona Dorr, Florence Townsend, Lewis Steward, Katherine Fernish, Winifred Roberts, Minnie Nipper, Irene Cortage, Mary Ellen Menzel, Bernice Warren, Marion Hart, Hermione Cunning, Aletha Worrall, Helen Goodrich.

Miss Wood, instructor of gymnasium at the high school, is drilling the chorus of the play, while Miss Leviston is training the soloists.

TURLOCK NOTES

TURLOCK, April 4.—The opening gun in the drive for a community swimming pool in this city was fired Monday. W. F. Berg, L. W. Boles, and W. C. Cook from the American Legion appeared before the Chamber of Commerce at the latter's weekly luncheon and urged support in furthering the movement set on foot last week by the ex-servicemen.

"Daddy Long Legs," a great stage and screen success, is to be presented by the junior class of the Turlock high school as the annual play on the evening of April 13. Miss Ruth Spencer, instructor in English and drama, will coach the cast and Richard Steele, a student, will act as business manager.

Woman Autoist Hits Man in Dodging Dog

SANTA CLARA, April 4. — While driving his horse drawn light spring wagon on the San Francisco highway west of Santa Clara Monday afternoon, Arthur Gerbing of Gilroy was struck by an automobile owned by E. B. Griswold of Exeter. The Griswold machine was being driven by Griswold's sister-in-law, and she became frightened when a dog owned by Gerbing, which was following his wagon, darted in front of the automobile, and to avoid hitting the dog, the woman skidded into the wagon, throwing Gerbing to the ground. He suffered injuries about the head and face and [illegible]

French Devise Plan to Increase Births

PARIS, April 4.—A unique measure has been drawn up by a French reformer for presentation to the chamber of deputies in the belief that it will increase the national birth rate. The measure of the property of any parent who dies leaving fewer than three children shall pass to the government and be distributed among the parents of three children or more.

Chautauqua Postpones Mountain View Date

MOUNTAIN VIEW, April 4.—Instead of presenting its schedule of amusement here during the spring months, the Radcliff Chautauqua of Washington, D. C., will play this city next fall. Local people are rejoiced, since the traditional showing in this city during the cold winter or spring evenings has kept many away from the programs.

$6300 Paid Kin of Mine Fire Victims

JACKSON, April 4.—The Argonaut fund committee announces that it has distributed $6300 to widows and orphans of men who lost their lives in the great mine disaster last August. This is only a partial distribution. The committee had over $40,000 in its fund. So far no requests have come for assistance from abroad from relatives of the dead miners.

MARTINEZ ISSUES $128,000 BUILDING PERMITS IN 1923

Total Construction Amount in Community Set at $258,000.

MARTINEZ, April 4.—More than an eighth of a million dollars in building permits in Martinez, or $128,000, have been issued since the first of the year, according to a report which the Martinez Chamber of Commerce has received from Fred Upham, building inspector.

In addition to this, more than $30,000 has been expended in the erection of buildings within the immediate surrounding district. The permit for the McNamara theater building for $100,000 which was issued some time ago and which is now under construction, brings the total amount of construction in the community to more than $258,000.

Some of the permits which have been issued are as follows: 1 apartment house, 2 garages, 1 office building, 1 theater, 25 dwellings, 10 private garages as well as several for repairs, remodeling and additions.

There is a scarcity of building mechanics in the community, according to contrators.

OIL COMPANY TO ADD TO STORAGE TANKS AT AVON

Contract Let by Associated Calls for Six 8000-Barrel Holders.

CONCORD, April 4.—In continuation of the plans of construction which has given the Associated Oil Company's Avon refinery the distinction of being one of the largest in California, a contract has been awarded to the Steel Tank and Pipe Company of California which calls for the construction of six 80,000 barrel capacity steel storage tanks. The cost of construction is fixed at $176,000.

The steel work on this added unit is to be started within the next week, and according to the contract the first tank will be completed before April 20.

For the past three years construction of tanks, stills, agitators, and laboratories as well as the erection of many new cottages at the plant town, has kept a crew of several hundred Concord and Martinez men employed.

Local baseball enthusiasts held a spirited meeting recently in the Majestic Theater to devise ways for financing the local ball nine for the coming "Three C" League pennant race. Joseph Levada acted as chairman and many suggestions were offered in the view of financing the club. As a starter plans have been completed by Caesar L. De Benedetti and committee for a dance to be held at Pacheco on April 7.

Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Summers, the Misses Paretta and Isabel Warner, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Jackson and Allan DeSoto, all Oakland people, Charles Green and family of Richmond, spent the week-end as the guests of Mayor and Mrs. P. M. De Soto and family.

League of Nations To Be Debate Topic

SAN JOSE, April 4.—The question "Resolved, that the United States Should Join the League of Nations," will be debated by teams of the Willamette University of Salem, Oregon, and the College of the Pacific in the C. of P. auditorium this evening. The debate will be the third in a series in which Pacific is participating. Last Monday night the local debaters won a victory over the Simpson college debaters from Des Moines. Harold Milnes, A. Chilson Stevens and William J. Owen are Pacific's debaters who will appear in tonight's contest. Judges will be Prof. J. G. Emerson, debating coach of Stanford University, Assistant District Attorney Percy O'Connor and one other not yet named.

Night Visitor Asks To Hide Under Bed

SANTA ROSA, April 4.—Paul Unternaher, of Santa Rosa, awoke from his sleep to hear a man ask permission to hide under his bed. Unternaher switched on an electric light, and the intruder, hatless and coatless, fled. He later was found at the Southern Pacific station here and was arrested. He said his name was Adolph de Albers and that he was being pursued. Investigation disclosed that he had been arrested on suspicion in Ukiah Monday afternoon, but had later been released. Sheriff M. Boyes of this city gave him refuge in the county jail here.

Amateur Burglar Is Scared Three Times

SANTA CLARA, April 4. — Three robberies were attempted on prominent Santa Clarans late Monday night and early yesterday morning, according to complaints received yesterday at Marshal Fallon's office. The Pereira home on Jefferson street, and the McCallum and Martin apartments in the Ball Apartments were the victims of the attempt. In all cases the work was tried by the same man, but he was scared away before he gained admittance to the places.

Lightning Destroys Barn Near Winters

WOODLAND, April 4.—Lightning struck the hay barn on the J. L. Harlan ranch, near Winters, in the storm of Sunday, setting a fire which destroyed the structure and its contents and entailing a loss of several thousand dollars. The caretaker of the premises was standing 30 feet away when the bolt struck. He was hurled to the ground, according to Harlan, but not seriously hurt.

LODI NOTES

LODI, April 4.—There will be a full quota of young men from this district to take military training at the annual military training camp which will be opened in Del Monte and at Fort Winfield Hancock in July.

The boys of this community have organized a swimming club. It is to be called the "Meteor" and the monogram is to be a plain "M" with a wing on the right s. c. Steel Stocks Beat Off Attacks of Wall Street Bears Reduction From 1921 Was Due to Cut in Prices of Crude, Says Shoup.

ASSOCIATED OIL EARNED IN 1922 $10.54 PER SHARE

Earnings of the Associated Oil Company and its proprietary companies in 1922 were $8,314,604, compared with $12,351,946 in 1921. After taxes, depreciation and depletion there remained as net corporate profit $4,190,567, equivalent to $10.54 a share of capital stock.

Discussing several phases of the company's activities and condition President Paul Shoup in his annual report to stockholders says, in part:

"Total business earnings of the company, proprietary companies and companies in which it has stock interests were $9,643,158.45, compared with $12,986,819.68 in 1921.

"Business earnings included the unusual item of $2,695,420, which was a capital dividend of the Associated Pipe Line Company. Deducting this item, a comparison would be for the year 1921, $9,656,516 as against $8,314,604 during 1922.

"The earnings of the company were adversely affected by successive declines in prices of oil, the base price in the field falling during the year for oil of less than 18 degrees gravity from $1.10 to 60c per barrel.

FIELDS OF PRODUCTION.

"The production of the Associated Oil Company has been almost altogether in the San Joaquin valley, with a limited production in the Santa Maria district.

"Operations in Southern California have been through subsidiaries of the Associated Oil Company, but the magnitude of development in that region has made it necessary because of the limited capital of these companies for the Associated Oil Company to take hold in that section, which it has done through the construction of pipe lines, necessary storage tanks, a marine shipping plant at San Pedro and other required facilities. The company now has 11,000 acres in Ventura county."

NEW LANDS ACQUIRED.

President Shoup schedules the company's acquisition of oil lands during the year as follows:

"During the year we acquired 14,275 acres of prospective and proven oil lands in fee and by lease, as follows:

"California — San Joaquin Valley fields, 1254 acres; Southern California fields, 856 acres; Ventura, 4184 acres.

"Texas—One-half interest in approximately 1581 acres.

"Wyoming—1280 acres.

"Alaska—5120 acres.

"There were acquired during the year 745 acres at Avon and Watson (near Los Angeles) for the extension of the refinery and tank farm purposes. $1,017,632.26 was expended during the year for all lands and leases."

SUBSIDIARY COMPANIES.

The Amalgamated Oil Company which is the most important Associated subsidiary, showed a profit of $174,416 as compared with a deficit of $192,794 in 1921. Dividends to the amount of $150,000 or 3 per cent on the $5,000,000 worth of capital stock were paid during the year. Daily average production was 9300 barrels in December, and total production of this company during the year was 2,516,000 barrels.

The Miley-Keck Oil Company, another subsidiary, closed the year with a deficit of $28,236 after depreciation, etc., had been charged off. At the close of the year this company had an output of 6400 barrels daily.

OTHER COMPANIES.

The Pantheon Oil Company earned $116,067 after all deductions; the Reward Oil Company earned $132,462 and produced 410,733 barrels of crude oil. As for the Sterling Oil and Development Company, its net earnings aggregated $122,822 while the West Coast recorded a deficit of $38,048. This company's output in 1922 aggregated 458,817 barrels.

The Associated Oil Company's net surplus at the close of 1922 amounted to $20,622,054, while the Amalgamated's balance at the same date was $[illegible].

The directors have been re-elected. Following are the officers for the ensuing year: Paul Shoup, president; A. C. McLaughlin, first vice president; W. A. Sloan, second vice president and treasurer; J. H. Lewis, third vice president in New York; F. B. Henderson, assistant general manager; P. G. Williams, secretary; J. P. Edwards, assistant secretary, and W. C. Betts, assistant secretary in New York.

SHOES.

PHILADELPHIA, [illegible]—Wholesale shoe dealers here expect a slight lull following Easter trade. Business was exceptionally good in March, being hampered only by delay to shipments from factories [illegible] transportation difficulties.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

By H. S. SCOTT.

Appearance of fresh buying power in the rail group, combined with further short covering in a number of industrial shares, imparted a firm tone to opening prices in today's New York stock market. Oil, equipment, public utilities and automotive shares all moved to higher ground. Public service of New Jersey advanced 1½ and Utah Copper 1. Fractional improvement was registered by Missouri Pacific preferred, Southern Railway, Baldwin and Lima Locomotive and Stewart-Warner Speedometer.

Prices hardened throughout the list as the day progressed. Dupont jumped 3 points and Pressed Steel Car 2½. Gains of 1 to 1¾ points were registered by Baltimore & Ohio, Stromberg Carburetor, California Petroleum, Atlantic Gulf, Marland, United Retail Stores, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Virginia Carolina Chemical preferred, Maxwell Motors A and American Can.

Union Pacific and Transcontinental Oil were slightly reactionary. Foreign exchanges opened irregular. Demand sterling sold around 4.66⅜ and French francs dropped 6 points to 6.49 cents. Italian lire again crossed the 5-cent mark.

Experimental short selling in the steel, equipment, chemical and Pan-American oil shares forced recessions of 1 to 2 points in those groups but failed to stem the rising tide of prices elsewhere. Thereupon short covering set in and the whole list started to move forward again under the leadership of the steel group. Bethlehem A was pushed up 4½ points and the B 2½. Bayuk preferred 4 and American Brake Shoe and Jones Bros. Tea 2 each.

Westinghouse Electric dropped 2 points on the announcement of new financing. Call money opened at 5 per cent but eased off to 4½ within an hour.

The motor group was singled out for concentrated buying in the afternoon. Mack Truck rising 3½ and Willys Overland preferred 5 points, both touching new high figures for the year. Philip Jones jumped 10 points and Atlantic Refining, Pierce Arrow preferred and Chicago Pneumatic Tool improved 2 to 3 points. Improvements of a point or over were registered by varied list of specialties.

The stock market of the New Medvale Company, representing the Nicetown plant which is not included in the transfer of the Cambria Steel property to Bethlehem Steel was the most prominent feature in the curb market today, making a further advance of 5 points to 90¾, a new high record.

There was little movement to the Standard Oil issues. California Petroleum new stock when issued made a fractional gain. Gulf Oil showed a firm tone and made a fractional gain. Independent Oil was in supply on a small scale and showed a fractional loss. There was a fair amount of business in Mountain Producers which ranged from 18¼ to 17⅞. Penn Beaver was steady. [illegible] Oil was one of the strong features.

Trading in mining stocks was on a large scale but few issues showed any material change in prices. Consolidated Cortez was an active feature.

BETTER PRICES SEEN FOR LEADING RAIL STOCKS.

Better prices are seen for the principal railway stocks within the next few weeks according to the forecast of the monthly letter of [illegible] cussing the prospects for the railways generally the letter says:

"Railroad issues in general moved very irregularly the past month. The speculative issues presented a strong front but lacked snap as they were borne down, at times, [illegible] by parties who had bought, expecting exceptionally favorable traffic earnings statements for February, and were disappointed by the falling off in net income of many lines as compared with January, due to the severe weather and heavy storms that seriously interrupted traffic in February. Speculation broadened materially in the high class dividend-paying shares such as New York Central, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific, while the non-dividend payers were headed by Baltimore and Ohio, based on expectations that earnings for the first quarter of this year would probably break all records. Revenues for the first two months of the quarter were good and the continued improvement in general industry, coupled with increased car loadings, has furnished unmistakable evidence of improved earnings for March so that while the net earnings of the railroads in February were less than 5 per cent as compared with 5.54 per cent in January, the March earnings will be higher.

"The railroads are breaking all records for this time of the year in moving freight, and their earnings statements not only for March but subsequent months will, without doubt, show a great improvement over the corresponding period last year, which in some cases is likely to prove sensational, as indicated by the exceptionally favorable showing made by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway for the months of January and February, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather conditions then prevailing, which materially increased operating expenses and interrupted traffic."

FOREIGN TRADE IN 1923 EXPECTED TO PASS 1922 TOTAL

Exports for First Six Months Show Material Gains Over Last Season.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Latest figures of the foreign trade of the United States indicate that the fiscal year 1923, which ends with the month of June, will show larger totals than in the fiscal year 1922 despite the doubts which had been expressed as to the buying power of other countries or quantities of merchandise which they would be able to send us.

The Trade Record of the National City bank of New York reports that imports for the six months of the fiscal year 1923 show an increase of 13% over the corresponding period of 1922, while the export record for the seven months for which figures are available shows an increase of about 5% when compared with the corresponding months of last year, but in the single month of January, the latest for which details are available, the gain is 20% when compared with the same month of last year.

The increase in November imports occurs in merchandise arriving from every grand division while the January exports show increases to all the grand divisions except Asia. From Europe, whose buying and selling power had been a matter of especial interest, the imports of November, the latest month for which details are yet available, show a total of $95,000,000, against $70,000,000 in the same month of last year. In exports to Europe the January figures, the latest recorded, totaled $156,000,000 against $112,000,000 in the same month of last year.

This increase in the imports from and exports to Europe occurs in the record of nearly all the European countries except Russia. From the United Kingdom the November imports are $11,000,000 in excess of those in the same month of last year, from Germany an increase of $4,000,000, Belgium $1,500,000, Netherlands $1,250,000, Sweden nearly $3,000,000, Norway $1,000,000, and Italy $1,000,000, though the total from France is about $1,500,000 below the same month of the preceding year. The January exports to the United Kingdom show an increase of $18,000,000 over January of last year, to France an increase of $5,500,000, Italy $6,000,000, Netherlands $2,500,000, Belgium $3,000,000, and to Germany an increase of $2,500,000, comparing January, 1923, with the same month of 1922.

In the trade with the non-European world the imports of November, the latest month for which details are available, show from Cuba an increase of $7,000,000, from Canada $6,000,000, from Argentina $1,000,000, Brazil $3,000,000, India $1,000,000, Japan $12,000,000, and China $7,000,000. Exports to Canada in January show an increase of $12,000,000, to Cuba $5,000,000, to Argentina $3,000,000, Brazil $1,500,000, and China $1,000,000. To Japan, India and New Zealand the January, 1923, export figures are less than in the same month of last year, the fall off in exports to Japan being extremely heavy, dropping from $28,000,000 in January, 1922, to $13,000,000 in January, 1923.

A large part of this January fall in exports to Japan is presumably due to a reduction in the quantity of cotton sent that country, as the December export figures, the latest for which details are shown, showed a fall of over 40% in the quantity of cotton sent to Japan in December, 1922, when compared with the same month of 1921, this reduction in quantity being apparently the result of the advance in export prices which averaged over 25c per pound in December, 1922, against slightly less than 20c in December, 1921.

CHICAGO, April 4.—With Liverpool and Buenos Aires quotations showing an upward tendency and with moisture lacking where chiefly needed for the domestic winter crop, wheat took a new upturn in price today during the early dealings. Strength of corn values helped also to stimulate buying of wheat. Selling increased on the bulges in prices but brought about only a temporary reaction. The opening, which ranged from ⅞ to ¾c higher, with May $1.21¼ to 1.21⅞ and July $1.17⅞ to 1.18, was followed by slight further gains although interrupted by transient downturns.

The corn market was higher, as was the oats market. After opening ¼@½ to ⅝c up, May corn 74¼ to 74⅝c, the market continued to ascend.

Oats started unchanged to ⅛@¼c higher, May 65c and later held near to the initial range.

Provisions were firmer in line with hog market.

BUSINESS STILL SLOW IN MEXICO SAY U. S. REPORTS

Crop Conditions Only Fair. Hemp and Petroleum Exports Fall Off.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Business conditions in Mexico during March were practically the same as reported for February. As stated, Trade Commissioner H. B. MacKenzie cables to the Department of Commerce, slow, with small replacement orders in certain lines. The Lenten season caused some increased buying in the retail shoe and clothing trade; other lines, with the exception of groceries and hardware, are still moving very slowly. Automobile sales in the Mexico City district have been fair. The decree exempting from taxes for several years real estate in the Federal districts on which houses for renting purposes are erected, has been extended from February 28 to August 31, 1923. This will probably help to prolong the present building activity in Mexico City, which had begun to decline.

PESO DECLINES.

Exchange rates for the Mexican peso dropped slightly from February, the closing rate for February 24 being $0.49 1-16, United States currency, the highest for the month $0.49⅛, low $0.49, and the closing rate March 24 was $0.49.

Current government finances are affected by the temporary withholding of payments on February oil taxes, as the petroleum companies are protesting the levies for that month. Federal government revenues for 1922 from oil production and export taxes are given officially as 85,560,000 pesos, against 62,385,000 pesos for 1921, the increase being reported as due to increased taxes since the spring of 1922.

CROPS AND EXPORTS.

Crops, and especially growing potatoes, in the state of Hidalgo which lies just north of Mexico City, are reported as damaged to the extent of about 1,000,000 pesos by a recent snow and hail storm.

Henequen exports from the Peninsula of Yucatan during February, 1923, totaled 48,273 bales, as compared with 21,062 bales for the same month of 1922 and 77,531 for February, 1921. The price at Progreso, to producers remained firm at 4 cents, United States currency, per pound.

Petroleum exports for February 1923, decreased about 1,250,000 barrels from January, and were approximately 8,000,000 barrels less than in February of 1922. So far there has been no indication of improvement during March.

Twin Cities See Big Season Ahead

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 4.—Bankers, merchants and manufacturers here declared today that Twin Cities organizations were assured of the largest volume of trade in six years this spring and summer.

Industrial and commercial expansion already is so well under way that momentum for at least six months is declared assured. Demand for labor in all lines is, however, assuring high purchasing power in the cities, soil conditions are excellent and farmers as a whole are in much better shape financially than hitherto has been generally admitted.

Experts asserted that good northwestern crops would extend the period of general business activity well into 1924.

GASOLINE.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 4.—Kansas City motorists are paying a municipal taxe of 1 cent a gallon on gasoline. Plans for attacking the ordinance in the courts are being prepared by auto dealers and civic organizations.

If you see it in The TRIBUNE tell them so.

Bankers Declare Money Situation Is Firm and Prosperous

OLD CABBAGE IS ABOUT TO LEAVE PRODUCE MARKET

Output for Season About 22 Per Cent Greater the Country Over.

Old cabbage is about to depart from the country's markets after a most active season in which almost 8000 cars have been shipped to market since January 1, the United States bureau of agricultural economics at Chicago said today. The commercial crop in the ten late states was about 50,000 cars of 12½ tons each.

Car lot output for the season now ending is 22 per cent greater than the average for the last four years and movement has been active in response to a fairly good demand for winter cabbage and because of the decreased production of early stock in the South. New York's total output will be about 10,000 cars, 800 more than last season and 1800 more than two years ago. Wisconsin has about 5700 cars to its credit compared with 2800 last season and 1900 in 1920-21. Colorado shipped 1950 cars, 25 per cent less than last season, while Minnesota and south West Virginia marketed 1225 cars and 1020 cars, respectively.

As the late cabbage market started its exit prices for the small stocks available ranged from $25 to $60 a ton. A sharp rise occurred in February and March, placing the jobbing range far above last spring's.

Early cabbage has just started to arrive in eastern markets in heavier volume, shipments for the week ending March 31 totaling 520 cars or 44 per cent over the previous week. Heaviest supplies were from South Carolina, Alabama and Florida. The Texas output decreased considerably.

Potato shipments during the week ending last Saturday were heavy and prices showed signs of weakening. Moderate supplies of apples kept that market firm.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 4.—The cotton market continued its upward movement at the opening today and prices showed net gains of from 5 to 31 points with initial sales. The chief demand in the first few minutes of business came from room shorts and ringleaders, the greater part of the offerings being supplied by the south and profit-takers longs. Liverpool cables continued strong and influenced much of the [illegible]

The market closed irregular, 23 points lower to 8 points higher.

MONEY SITUATION ON ITS SURFACE LOOKS VERY FIRM

Bill Holdings of the Reserve Bank Quarter Gold; Resources Not Strained.

By JAMES B. CLEWS,
Head of Banking House of Henry Clews and Co.

NEW YORK, April 4.—On the surface there never was perhaps a stronger money situation than that which exists today. The United States has more gold than it ever had or than any other country ever had; and a larger proportion of this gold is in banks than has ever been true in any other country. In spite of efforts on the part of the Treasury to pay out gold through the Reserve banks the holdings of these institutions have continued around $3,200,000,000 and have even shown slight increases since the Treasury policy was inaugurated. When it is remembered that the [illegible] the Reserve bank have lately averaged only about $[illegible], or roughly speaking one quarter of its gold, there has certainly been no indication on the surface, of any inroad in our resources, or any undue diminution of lending power. This explains why the rates of the Reserve system have remained consistently low, not exceeding 4½ per cent for many months, while the only change has been the slight advance from 4 to 4½ per cent made at three institutions, and thus establishing a flat 4½ per cent rate throughout the country.

The situation which has attracted attention from our banking authorities is found in the expansion of the item of loans, discounts, and investments reported by member banks to the Federal Reserve Board. Every week about 800 such institutions report, and they represent about 40 per cent of the banking assets of the country. Since a year ago there has been an increase in the loans, discounts and investments of these [illegible] to about $1,800,000,000. Multiplying this by 2½ appears to indicate a growth in the country as a whole of about $4,500,000,000 in this item. It is probable that that portion of the item which refers to loans and discounts only (commercial credit) if isolated, would show an increase of $[illegible],000,000 to $3,500,000,000. This is an advance during the year of probably a little less than 10 per cent of the entire volume of bank loans of a commercial sort previously existing. Of course, that indicates a great expansion, although not as great an expansion as there has been in the volume of business. Moreover, the fact that the banks have made it without calling to any great extent on Reserve banks showed that they had abundant surplus reserves. Probably the change would not have attracted very much attention if it had not been for rapid increases in commodity prices accompanied by the [illegible] of commodities, and the placing of larger advance orders for products, with indication of bank lending to finance these products. It is this condition of affairs that suggests the repetition of [illegible] of the features of the 1919-20 expansion.

Just how far prices have advanced is, of course, a question. The wholesale price [illegible] show a growth of [illegible] points in the past year, or an increase of about 18 per cent. This, however, is an [illegible] wholesale prices. The changes in retail values are in some cases much less, and in others more. Some food products have advanced a good deal more sharply than this. Whatever the advance is there are many who attribute it to great increase in credit, of the kind which has been granted by member banks, and by commercial banks generally. Those who do not believe that credit has had anything to do with it point to the fact that in many [illegible] costs of production were very high as compared with values and that prices had to be raised as soon as possible if the concerns were to make any profits, much less declare dividends. [illegible] question is [illegible] as to whether if bank credit is kept within safe bounds Reserve banks are warranted in doing anything whatever with [illegible]. There is thus a very decided difference of opinion regarding banking policy. So far as respects [illegible] has been placed on the Reserve banks through any indirect means in[illegible] directly from commercial banks. The only way in which funds for this purpose can be obtained from Reserve banks would be from direct borrowing on Liberty bonds, but such loans are small. The Reserve Bank of New York has only $17[illegible],000,000 of such paper. It is quite possible that most of this borrowing is for commercial purposes.

There is a widespread opinion [illegible] count rates at Reserve banks would not change the situation, but that there should be very decided caution in taking any such step until the applications at Reserve banks seem to attain a volume that calls for limitation. That is not the case [illegible]. Should rates be raised, therefore, it would not afford a reason for an immediate advance in the market rate, except in so far as the knowledge that future rediscounting would be at a higher rate might bring about an adjustment of outside rates to correspond.

Railways Discuss Needs of Equipment

NEW YORK, April 4.—Recommendations for a concerted plan to obtain additional equipment to meet the increasing demands of traffic throughout the country were considered by the board of directors of the American Railway Association which met today at the first of a series of conferences between railway executives. Weekly statements of car loadings during the first three months of the year have, with few exceptions, broken all records for this season of the year and railroad executives are confronted with the need of immediate increases in freight equipment.

The meeting today was said to [illegible] report prepared by the car service division of the American Railway Association presenting specific recommendations.

Unofficially it was learned that railroad executives believe the peak demand for equipment will continue for a year and a half.

CAPTAIN MAKES SECOND RESCUE WITHIN 2 YEARS

Recently Exonerated On the Charge of Ignoring Call of Distress at Sea.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Captain A. B. Randall of the steamship President Fillmore today reported by wireless his second rescue at sea since he was exonerated two years ago of neglecting to pick up three men in a disabled motorboat off the Long Island coast.

The latest rescue was that of the captain and crew of six of the British schooner Rita M. Cluett, in distress 360 miles south of Cape Race while bound from Oporto to St. Johns, N. F. The schooner, badly damaged by storm, was set on fire before she was abandoned.

Captain Randall was in command of the steamer Hudson in October, 1921, when he was alleged to have ignored distress signals. Randall declared his ship was carrying mail and he did not realize the motorboat was in trouble. He was cleared after a hearing before the board of steamship inspectors.

His first rescue after the hearing was made in January, 1922, when he saved the crew of the schooner Rene Des Mers, found in about the same position as the Cluett.

The coast guard cutter Tampa on ice patrol in the North Atlantic reported by radio today that she had taken on board from the steamer President Fillmore the survivors from the Newfoundland schooner Rita M. Cluett, abandoned early today.

According to the Tampa's message the Cluett, 63 days out of Oporto with a cargo of salt, ran out of food and water, lost her rudder and sprung a leak in a series of heavy gales.

New Barge Service Arranged by Parrs

Arrangements were concluded today between the Parr Terminals of Oakland and the John Erikson Estate for the establishment of a daily barge service between this city and the west side of the bay. The Erikson Estate operates one of the largest fleets of powerboats, launches, small steamers and barges of any concern on the bay. The establishment of the new service fills a long felt want of local shippers, who have heretofore been compelled to pay large transport rates in order to get their material and shipments to the vessels which are loading in San Francisco.

The service is to start from the Parr Terminals in the outer harbor, Monday morning. The west shore landing place will be at pier 9.

CARGOES HANDLED IN JIG TIME AT OAKLAND'S PIERS

Speedy Devices for Both Loading and Unloading Are at Hand.

Rapid discharge of cargo is being made possible at the Oakland terminals through the utilization of several devices for speedy unloading. At the Lawrence Terminal, the Admiral Dewey was, in sailor parlance, "unloaded in jig time" yesterday. The coastwise steamer put ashore a mixed cargo of flour and box shooks. In order to keep both shipments, totaling about 1000 tons each, molvng at the same time the box-making material was slung overside into the waiting cars by meanse of derricks. The side ports forward were opened up and a conveyor belt run from the interior of the vessel to the wharf. Over this, the flour shipments made their way. The entire consignment for Oakland was discharged inside of an hour and a half and the Admiral Dewey was steaming down the estuary, headed for Los Angeles.

The Oakland waterfront is becoming well equipped with devices for speedy handling of cargo. Two traveling cranes are on the front, as well as several copra suction unloaders. At nearly every wharf, the rail service is maintained alongside the ships, thereby permitting direct loading from the hold to the car.

The three new wharves which are being erected by the city at the foot of Market street are to be similarly equipped with up-to-date loading and discharge devices.

Crew of Wrecked Boat in Honolulu

HONOLULU, April 4.—E. N. Clark, former master of the schooner Defiance, his wife and seven members of his crew, arrived here today aboard the steamer Sonoma after having been the victims of two shipwrecks in the South Seas and being marooned for forty-eight days on Faisi, Solomon Islands. Clark and his party are en route to San Francisco.

The Defiance left Puget Sound in September and departed from Honolulu for the South Seas in October. The schooner, owned by the E. K. Wood Lumber Company, of Oakland and San Francisco, burned to the waters edge at Faisi. The survivors were then compelled to remain at Faisi for forty-eight days before a vessel arrived bound for Sydney. This vessel was shipwrecked just after leaving the island and Clark and his party returned to Faisi to wait for another ship.

The Wood Lumber Company, it is said, is investigating the burning of the Defiance.

Coastwise News

PORTLAND, Ore., April 3.—Decision to undertake the salvage of the British steame Welsh Prince, sunk in collision with the steamer Iowan in the Columbia river about a year ago, has been made by M. Barde & Sons. Negotiations with independent wrecking firms have been cancelled and a crew has been [illegible] finish removal of the timber cargo. It is hoped to have the after-section of the craft moved from the channel by June. With the timber cargo removed, the steamer's hatches will be closed and air resorted to in an effort to force the water from the hull.

The Yoshida Maru No. 3 started loading lumber for South American west coast ports Tuesday morning at the Inman-Poulsen mill. The vessel came off drydock Monday evening.

The Mandasan Maru, of the Mitsu fleet, started loading flour and wheat here today for the Orient.

The Walter Luckenbach, here discharging and loading, is scheduled to get out of port Wednesday evening for Seattle. From Puget Sound it will leave on the return voyage to Atlantic coast ports.

SEATTLE, April 3.—The coast guard cutter Snohomish started on her annual spring patrol between the Columbia river and Dixon's entrance, guarding the northern migration of the seal herds, this morning. She will be on almost continual sea duty for the next month, as that is the migrating period for the seals, and it is the duty of the Snohomish to guard against poaching.

The steamship Minnesota, once on the Seattle-Orient run, may soon fly the German flag instead of being scrapped, according to word from New York.

The British steamship Cardiganshire sailed tonight for Europe, via [illegible] other Pacific ports. She carries a large consignment of lumber, flour, copper and doors and other local commodities from Seattle.

TACOMA, Wash., April 3.—The Felix Taussig, which arrived today had some general cargo to discharge from the Atlantic coast, and [illegible] was expected to sail for New York this evening.

The Steel Ranger had about 200,000 feet of lumber and a large quantity of box shooks to load here and will sail tonight.

The barge Griffson will take about 800,000 feet of lumber here for California, and sail either tomorrow or Thursday.

The Cardiganshire, with some inbound cargo, is due tomorrow to load for Europe.

The Santa Cruz shifted to Seattle this morning to drydock and load, and will return here Thursday to load lumber and flour for South American ports.

The Point Bonita, recently purchased by the McCormick line, is expected here this evening to load lumber for California.

The Japanese steamer Africa Maru is due to sail tomorrow afternoon for ports of China and Japan. She loaded flour, lumber and general freight here. The vessel will pick up some freight at Seattle and also some passengers bound for the [illegible]

Matson Company Institutes Bonus

Announcement of the adoption of a "continuous service bonus" for employees afloat will be made within a few days by the Matson Navigation Company. The details are now being worked out. The new system takes the place of a competitive prize plan which was used only one year and was abandoned on [illegible].

The new form of extra compensation will be based on continuous service, so that a man with five or ten years' service to his credit will receive a larger bonus than one who has only been in the line's employ a year or two.

The bonus will be paid to men in all departments of the Matson line's fourteen ships, starting with the end of the present year. So far as is known, the Matson Navigation Company is the first steamship line on the Pacific coast to put into effect a bonus plan for its ship employees.

Customs Houses Established in Ireland by Eng.

Ships Trading With Free State Will Be Strongly Regulated.

The Commissioners of Customs and Excise for Great Britain announce that from April 1, 1923, traffic with the Irish Free State, whether by sea or across the land boundary between the Free State and Northern Ireland, will be imports and exports subject to the customs laws and regulations applicable to overseas trade. Certain temporary arrangements, says Consul W. P. Kent, Belfast, in a report to the Commerce Department, have been made by agreement with the Free State customs authorities to facilitate the treatment of dutiable goods. It is also temporarily arranged that the Irish Free State will make the same concessions in respect of goods imported from Great Britain or Northern Ireland.

Ships trading between the United Kingdom and the Free State will be required to furnish reports of cargo on arrival and manifests on departure. Importers and exporters will have to make arrangements similar to those which they make when trading with foreign countries including the opening of packages for customs examination. Trade between Great Britain and Northern Ireland, however, is not affected and will continue to be on the same coastwise system as in the past.

STOLEN VESSEL FOUND DERELICT IN SOUTH WATERS

Fishing Boat Dalmat Was Stolen Four Months Ago; No Trace of Crew.

LOS ANGELES, April 3.—A report of having sighted a derelict thought to be the stolen Dalmat about 50 miles west of Cape San Lazaru, Lower California, was received here by radio today from the steamer I. C White, on the way from New York to Los Angeles.

The report read:

"Sighted vessel about 60 feet long, 10 feet high, drifting southeast by south, one-half knot per hour. Appeared to be a vessel bottom-side up dangerous."

The belief was expressed by shipping men and port authorities that the craft was the former fishing boat Dalmat, a purse-seine vessel, stolen four months ago from the Vance Sea Food Company, as she was the only ship answering that description known to be missing.

What became of the man alleged to have stolen her and of a crew of nine he was said to have picked up at Los Angeles Harbor could not be conjectured.

Reports of alleged piratical activity of the former fishing boat and of her trading with Indians along the Lower California coast were received here two months ago.

WEATHER REPORT

Oakland and vicinity, Northern California, Sacramento, Santa Clara and San Joaquin: Rain this afternoon, tonight and Thursday; strong southerly winds.

Southern California: Unsettled, probably rain tonight and Thursday; moderate winds, becoming southerly.

Nevada: Rain tonight and Thursday; warmer tonight.

U. S. Collects Sixty Million in Month of March

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Customs receipts for March will exceed $60,000,000, a record for any month's collection of import duties in the history of the country, according to customs officials.

Heavy imports of sugar and wool, as well as the general inrush of spring shipments, were regarded as swelling the country's incoming commerce.

VOLUME XCVIII. OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 4, 1923 NO. 94.

THERE IS ASSURED PROSPERITY FOR YOU IN CALIFORNIA AGRICULTURAL LANDS

(By the Oakland Real Estate Board)

No state in the Union has a greater attraction for the agriculturist than has California. No other state offers such diversity of farming activity and such assurance of production. No other state enjoys a reputation for desirability in the minds of the eastern and middle western farmer. No other state has before it such a certainty of new population derived from the skilled farmers of eastern agricultural districts. In California, in one spot or another, the farmer may find lands adapted to whatever form of agriculture, horticulture, gardening, live stock raising or poultry his life training and ambitions attract him to and at prices, generally lower than those of the older districts he has left and at which his investment in California may be made on as profitable a basis as investment in such holdings can be anywhere.

Through the agencies of the State Real Estate Department the prospective investor in any of the agricultural subdivisions of this state may now procure reliable information as to conditions and adaptability of soil, title and other representations made by the selling agencies. Because of the special attractiveness of California agricultural lands, it has, in former days, been possible for unreliable concerns to exploit such properties to the detriment of this state. Such is not now the case, and any investor exercising reasonable discretion may be assured of the safety of his investment and of the accuracy of the statements made to him by the seller. This fact is fast becoming well known throughout the country and is establishing a confidence in such investment which is of vast benefit to all and which is stimulating the purchase of California country lands to a degree greater than ever before.

Another phase of investment involving farm lands in which Oakland and East Bay realtors are participating is the exchange of such property for income producing city holdings. Many California farmers, having put by a competence and desiring the advantages of life in the city for their children and for themselves, are selling their farms to newcomers and purchasing properties in town or are exchanging their holdings for city real estate, usually for income property. In this respect Oakland is an attractive field for such business and Oakland realtors are handling a great deal of this class of business. Flats and apartments and semi-business properties, on a satisfactory income basis, are frequently being exchanged for country properties to the advantage of both parties to the trade for, while the farmer, having had years of life in the country longs for city life, the city dweller, longing for the quieter existence of rural life, willingly changes places with the former.

With the entire United States as an open and active market for California's country lands and every state in the Union daily sending skilled agriculturists to us as purchasers, and with a steadily and rapidly increasing population in our cities daily increasing the market for farm produce, the student of California lands can find no other answer to their future than that such investment at this time is safe and profitable and can see no reason to believe other than the values of our country lands must increase with the years, meanwhile yielding an income greater in proportion to their cost than is found to be the case in other states.

May 18, 1922.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I take this method of expressing my sentiments of appreciation to Dr. Wong Him for the wonderful cures he has effected in cases where several members of my family, including myself, were afflicted with various maladies.

I also desire to be the means of guiding anyone who is in need of medical advice, as he will find Dr. Wong Him to be a thoroughly reliable health specialist and absolutely conscientious. Through an occurrence experienced by a member of my family I can, with the greatest regard for sincerity, state that after a consultation, unless Dr. Wong Him is convinced that his herbs will effect a complete cure, he will under no circumstances accept the case.

Very truly yours,

SELECT THE BEST

Why not eliminate the element of doubt by immediately consulting Fong Wan, a reliable herb specialist of established reputation. Not only was he the founder of the Fong & Lee Herb Co. of Santa Rosa, but also of the Fong Wan Herb Co of Oakland, the largest in America today.

Fong Wan is a business man of recognized ability. He has twice served as Chairman of the Board of Trustees and President of the Dry Goods House known as the "Oakland Emporium," doing business at 11th and Washington streets. He is also Overseer of the Man Fook Hung Wholesale and Importing Herb Co., of 630 Webster street, Oakland.

Thousands of sufferers have been relieved by him. People come from all parts of the Pacific coast to consult him, and he has printed the greatest number of testimonials of any herbalist in the Oakland dailies.

INDEX
Want Ad Section

Want Ad Classifications appear in numerical order, and all related classes are grouped together. For example: All advertising of Rooms To Let is numbered 20 to 29. The numbers appear on the headings, so if you seek room and board look through the "20s;" "Board" is No 25, and always follows "Housekeeping Rooms (24). Note—Every "For Sale" or "To Let" heading has a "Wanted" classification with the same number, but followed by the letter "A".

QUOCK PROFIT GOOD INCOME
In the heart of town, a block from Grand avenue, 400 feet east of Broadway; four fine flats of five rooms each, hardwood floors, storage rooms, four garages. Present income over $200 per month, could be greatly increased. Duplication cost of buildings would be $20,000; ground value now $300 per front foot, will soon be $20,000 for the 50 feet. Positively the best speculative opportunity we know of while earning 10% NET on our price of $21,000. One-half cash, balance at 6% interest. Cannot give phone information. See Parker with

WAGE INCREASES LEADING FACTOR IN TEXTILE TRADE

Activity in Steel Production Predicts Another Jump in Pay.

BY CONSOLIDATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

NEW YORK, April 4.—Wage increases have been the dominant factor in the business situation of the past week and the tendency toward higher schedules of pay has not yet run its course. These advances have been most prominent in the textile trades. Mills making both woolen and cotton cloths have voluntarily announced raises in wages both in the closely organized New England districts and in the south where unionism is less of a dominant factor. Further stabilization is forecast as a result of the meeting of members of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association and the textile council, at Fall River. Active competition for labor is now in progress between the northern and southern textile manufacturers. Nearly every manufacturer could employ more workers than now are on the rolls. The danger of the situation lies in the extent to which wage earners have discounted their possible increases. The saving factor in the situation is the fact that higher prices, inevitable under increases of labor and marterial costs, have stimulated buying rather than retarded it.

STEEL WAGE DEMANDS.

Demand in the steel industry has raised expectations to the pitch of expectancy of higher dividends. Any dividend increase cannot fail to be followed by a demand for a further increase in wages. This might be a dangerous situation but for the fact that while wages have increased in the industry, individual efficiency in the mills and furnaces have risen at an even greater rate and, barring unforeseen contingencies, may be counted on to maintain profits even with a minimum of price increases.

Wool is stronger than it has been for months. Carpet mills are crying for their special grades and the formal openings of the floor covering lines are expected to show a decided increase in price next week. The weakness evident a fortnight ago has been eliminated and it is evident that manufacturers will take clothing wools on any recessions from current quotations.

Silk has slumped. This has been due in some measure to the bankruptcy proceedings involving one prominent firm but it is to be noted that this firm handled only staple lines.

In cotton, it is the opinion of experts that the last spell of severe weather killed many weevils and may be of lasting benefit to the 1923 crop.

Oakdale Seepage Will Be Prospected

OAKDALE, April 4.—The Rushing ranch, near Cooperstown, 15 miles southeast of this place, will be the scene of oil-well operations once more. A group of Long Beach bankers and capitalists have become interested in the project and will, it is stated, next week spud in for a new well. A former effort to find oil failed, owing to financial difficulties encountered after a well had been drilled several hundred feet. Oil seepage and gas in sufficient quantities from shallow bores for illumination purposes encourage the Long Beach men in the belief that an oil pool will be encountered.

Industry Moving Near Raw Material

WASHINGTON, April 4 (By International News Service).—Initial investigation of the general transportation situation, with a view to increasing efficiency, has disclosed a general movement on important American industries nearer to the sources of raw materials, Secretary of Commerce Hoover announced today.

Hoover said this resulted from high freight rates.

GAMES, BOOZE, DOPE TARGET OF NEW POLICE UNIT

Special Service Bureau Created in Department; Results Ordered.

A "special service bureau" of the Oakland police department was organized today by order of Commissioner Frank Colbourn, to have charge of the suppression of all gambling, prohibition, narcotic and abatement cases.

Sargeant E. M. Brock will be in charge of the department. The other members have not been chosen.

The move comes, says Colbourn, after special consideration of the whole narcotic, prohibition and gambling problem, and after a study of what other cities have done. The bureau, says Colbourn, is a special department within the police department, under charge of one official, who will be ordered to get results and who will receive blame or praise, according to his results.

It is admitted that Brock will have much to say in the choosing of the special squads to work under him. Brock will also retain his present Chinatown assignment.

The special "suppression squad" will work in every part of the city, says Colbourn, who kives the following written order to the chief of police:

"All special duty squads now engaged in this work, and additional men as needed, shall be assigned to this bureau, ad shall report to the commanding officer. The bureau will be located at the city hall, in a special office provided for this purpose, and shall be under the general direction of the captain of the central diivsion."

DU FOUR SAYS SCHOOL NEEDED

ALAMEDA, April 4. — That Alameda is in dire need of a new high school to accommodate the steadily increasing enrollment at the present institution was the message brought to the members of the Alameda Rotary club yesterday by C. J. DuFour, superintendent of schools, who appeared in behalf of the proposed $750,000 bond issue for the erection of a new high school.

The address was given at the conclusion of the weekly luncheon of the club which was held in the Moose hall, on Central avenue.

Du Four gave a brief history of the present high school, which was opened to students twenty years ago. Enrollment at that date totalled 323, he pointed out. Continuing his sketch he said that the present institution now had enrolled 1547, exclusive of the evening commercial class which has an additional 514, making a total of 2061 pupils now attending the school.

Although the board of education has recognized the need of a high school for some years, Du Four declared, abnormal building conditions during and after the war made the project prohobitive.

The board of education has authorized a bond election to be held May 1 and the backing of all members of the Rotary club in the project was earnestly sought by Du Four.

Building Below Standard, Charge

SAN LEANDRO, April 4.—That the many dwellings being constructed in the Hollywood section of this city are not up to the specifications demanded by both the local ordinance and the state law, is the charge made by residents of that district to local officials. The alleged violations, it was charged, include [illegible] foundations and framework. An investigation is under way by officials of San Leandro. A report is to be made at an early board of trustees' meeting.

New Features to Mark U. C. Glee Club Road Show

WINFRED BULLOCK, baritone, who will be one of the soloists to the University Glee Club Road Show in Harmon Gymnasium.

Program This Year Will Be Largely of Classical Numbers.

BERKELEY, April 3.—Innovations are planned for the annual road show of the University of California Glee Club to be held on Friday night in Harmon Gymnasium. This year the club will present a program made up almost entirely of classics, leaving the lighter numbers to the comedians in the entertainment.

There will be many new faces at the road show this year; among them Winfred Bullock, who will sing several baritone solos. Bullock possesses a voice of extraordinary range, combined with a resonance which gives his tones a clear, bell-like quality. Another characteristic of Bullock's solos is his perfect enunciation, which enables the audience to understand all of his words.

On all of the trips taken by the club he has been one of the feature artists. Bullock is billed to sing "Requiem" by Homer and "Rolling Down to Rio," by German.

Another touch of the classic will be added by Frank Dunsmore and Uriel Nelson, who will render a duo for two pianos. One of their main numbers will be a Valse by Arensky.

U. S. DRY AGENTS' SECRET METHODS TOLD IN COURT

M. Dapp, waiter for the Daisy Farm Inn at San Lorenzo, having obtained a one day stay of execution, was before Federal Judge Partridge in San Francisco today for formal sentence. The court yesterday gave him three months in the county jail and fined him $500 for violating the prohibition laws.

This morning a sensation developed when Attorney John Sullivan recommended a modification, declaring that the place had never before been raided. In this he was corroborated by Prohibition Officer Edward Bennett. Three other prohibition officers, however, were on hand to maintain that it had been visited a number of times by them and by so-called "under cover" agents as the secret Volstead officers are known.

Judge Partridge ordered a continuance of 24 hours and directed that the "under cover" agents be brought into court tomorrow morning. This will be their first public appearance.

Prison Breaker in Cell Studies Psycho-Analysis

BERKELEY, April 4.—Demanding all the books on psychology and psycho-analysis in the library of Chief of Police August Vollmer, Howard Upton, alias Leonard Van Buren, who has a trio of escapes and a long list of burglaries against him, is spending his time at Berkeley oplice station awaiting his preliminary examination in reading and boating to officers that "he'll get away from 'em yet."

Upton is an ardent student of psychology and surprised Chief Vollmer yesterday with his knowledge of the subject. As a result he is "reading up" still further on the subject from volumes loaned him by the Berkeley official.

Upton vows he'll never go back to Folson from which he escaped.

"It's going to be like taking candy from a baby," he tells the Berkeley officers. When his personal belongings were given him yesterday, he looked them over.

"Well, I have all my clothes; all I'll need now is my flashlight and my nail file and I'll get those on the way out." He laughed.

Upton has already made one unsuccessful attempt to escape. From wire which he contrived to take from plumbing fixtures in his cell he fashioned a crude key in an attempt to pick the lock of his cell door. Officers discovered the key and declared that it might have worked if its fashioner had been given more time to perfect it.

Upton has a varied career, his life of crime according to his statement starting when at 12 years old he was taken into custody by juvenile authorities. He followed the circus for some time and although he has had practically no regular schooling he is well read on many subjects, especially psychology and its kindred topics. He is twenty-three years old according to his statement.

GUARD ARMORY IS DEDICATED BY BERKELEY UNITS

BERKELEY, April 4. — Preceded by a parade of the National Guard units through the business section, dedication exercises for Berkeley's new National Guard armory were held last night.

The new building on Addison street near Grove was filled with spectators for the ceremonies. General Charles G. Morton, commander of the Ninth Corps Area, U. S. army, stationed at San Francisco, was the honor guest and principal speaker of the evening, while other talks were made by Col. David P. Barrows, commanding officer of the National Guard in Berkeley, and Mayor Louis Bartlett. Major A. J. Eddy, battalion commander in Berkeley, and president of the advisory board, presided at the exercises.

Oakland companies of the National Guard joined with Berkeleyans in the parade. On Grove street in front of the city hall the marchers were reviewed by General Morton and Col. Barrows, disbanding at the armory. The units marching were:

Band of 159th Infantry followed by First Battalion Headquarters Company under command of Lieut. H. O. Douglass; C Company, Oakland, under command of Capt. Wayne R. Allen; B Company, Berkeley, under command of Capt. Dennis A. Daly; A Company, Oakland, under command of Capt. Gile; D Company, Berkeley, under command of Capt. R. H. Linforth. The Regimental Medical Detachment and the 143rd Ambulance Company, both of Berkeley, were consolidated under the command of Capt. J. C. Edwards, while the Regimental Headquarters and Regimental Service companies of Oakland were consolidated under the command of Capt. Hinchman.
